A Revival Of Romance By SADIE OLCOTT

Miss Josephine Warren, a prominent society girl in an eastern city, being tired of the winter social gayeties, planned for something different. In the first place, she had had half a dozen proposals; not one of them having in it anything like real love.

St. Louis as "Pain Court."

Not many people of today would recognize the metropolis of Missouri by the name "Pain Court," yet that name was quite generally applied to St. Louis in its early days.

Drier Than the Camel.

The "wild cow" of Arabia, in reality an antelope, the Bactrian ox, is said never to drink, which is probably correct, for unless these animals can descend the wells they can find no drinking water for ten months in the year.

John Bull.

For many generations England has been nicknamed "John Bull." "John Bull" means beefy, brawny and obstinate.

Chimneys.

The chimney is something that is relatively new in architecture. Many of the old castles and other buildings of Europe which were constructed before the fifteenth century have no chimneys.

Granulated Butter.

The Chinese preserve their eggs in definitely by drying them, the yolks and whites being first separated and then each reduced to powder by evaporation.

Couldn't Feel Him Twice.

The manager of Kilem's great menagerie had induced all the crowd to become patrons except one individual who stood gazing up at him with mouth agape.

Just Had to Grow.

"Why are American men taller than most races?" "It's a case of evolution."

Nothing Particular.

Mrs. Benham—What sort of looking woman is she? Benham—Oh, I don't know. She has one of those standard faces, with mouth, nose, eyes, etc.

Real Love.

The Girl—Do you really love me, or do you only think so? The Boy—Oh, I really love you! I haven't thought of doing I thing about it—Exchange.

YOUR FIRE POLICY.

Have You Read It Carefully? Do You Understand Its Terms?

William Hardwick, Melville's leading grocer, was a man of forethought. He carried fire insurance both on his store and his residence. The policy applying to his store he kept in his house and the other to his house and its contents he kept in the safe at the store.

Worked the Car Down.

Quite recently a patron of a well-known New York restaurant, who was in the habit of leaving his car unattended outside, uncovered the methods of a new kind of practical joke, new because he was practical.

How Wood Shrinks.

Students in the college of forestry at the University of Washington have proved by experiment that a cord of full length wood when sawed and piled in the ordinary stack shrinks an average 2.70 per cent.

Ancestry of Modern Dogs.

According to Charles R. Eastman, writing in the Museum Journal, the modern dogs have a varied ancestry, some being descended from "Amie" and some from African species.

No Time to Read.

"Pause, O youth or maiden," wrote Andrew Lang, "before you accustom your lips to this fatal formula: 'I have no time to read.'"

A M C of Safety First.

There is a tradition that the man who compiled the "Stop! Look! Listen!" admonition was well paid for his philological efforts.

Easter Fires.

The early Saxons used to light Easter fires on the hills in expression of their joy. This custom only died out in the early part of the nineteenth century.

Making Home Comfortable.

An eastern woman lecturer on interior decoration says that imitation lace chairpins are in bad taste and rocking chairs should be done away with.

An Honest Label.

A cynical minded gentleman was standing in front of an exhibition of local art talent labeled "Art Objects."

An Exchange of Courtesies.

"You farmers buy a good baby gold bricks, eh?" "Yes, and you city fellows buy a good deal of swamp land. I guess things are about even."—Kansas City Journal.

Always Around.

"Opportunity calls once at every man's door." "Hard luck is a whole lot more sociable."—Pittsburgh Post.

Modest Request.

Judge—Six months in jail with hard labor. Hobo—Say, Judge, can I ever dole de time an' cut out de labor? Boston Transcript.
