TENTH ANNUAL AUTO SHOW
At Exposition Park All Next Week

Next Monday evening, at exactly 8 o'clock, the doors of the big buildings at Exposition Park will be opened to admit the motor enthusiasts to Rochester's Tenth Annual Automobile Show. The usual ceremony will precede the formal opening and Lieutenant Governor Edward Schoenck, Senator George F. Argetzinger and Mayor Edgerton will take part in the ceremonies.

This year's show will outrival shows of other years in originality and the committees who have been so busily engaged in the different departments of work are to be congratulated upon their achievements. The latest modes in passenger cars, some of them direct from the New York Show, will be here. The Commercial cars which during the past year have come forward with leaps and bounds, will be a very large part of the display, and it is getting to be one of the most attractive and interesting features of the larger automobile shows.

Stratford Roller Rink.
Miss Adelaide D'Vorak, said to be the champion lady roller skating artist of the world, is to be the feature attraction at the Stratford Roller Rink in Clinton Avenue North for the week of January 14 to 20, inclusive.

Also do not forget to go to the Rink on Monday evening, January 21st, when a War Time Masquerade will be the attraction. Hooverized prizes: coal, flour, sugar, salt, tea, canned goods, soap, cereals, and potatoes. See them in the candy store window. "The poorer the clothes, the richer the prizes."

A Ten Dollar Bill for One of These Splendid Overcoats

Pretty hard to beat that, isn't it? You'll say so when you see these coats.

They are made of all-wool materials, splendidly tailored, correct in style—warm. They are in dark conservative colorings.

There are fancy mixtures of heavy hard twisted worsted, rough finish niggerheads and invisible plaids in deep rich colorings.

It's the biggest ten dollars' worth of overcoat value you are likely to see for many a day.

64 coats in all, note the sizes:
