

MISS 'LIZA'S LILIES

By EVELYN LÖYD.

Sylvia Stuart's eyes accustomed to the hard, gray city streets roved with delight over the bright garden beds in her aunt's yard.

Sylvia's glances noted the presence of one after another of the blossoms which she had recognized when as a growing girl she had wandered through her aunt's garden.

"But, Aunt Liza!" Sylvia's face was rigid with amazement as she looked at an empty brown bud in a corner by the low white fence that separated the yard from Mrs. Stuart's next door.

"Over yon," replied her aunt abruptly and nodded to a bed of exquisite white blossoms.

"Dear Aunt Liza!" Sylvia begged as she stepped swiftly to her aunt's side and slipped her arm through hers.

"You remember how angry Aunt Patterson was because you wouldn't marry her Dick?" Sylvia nodded in silent reminiscence.

DIRECT ANCESTOR OF HEN

From the Jungle Fowl Are Descended the Feathered Creatures of the Barnyard of Today.

A single, three-toed foot, a tail half a foot of the length, as we were surprised on our first night in the jungle.

I stepped into and one of his legs was a pair of feet of six or seven inches, and he was as fat as a pig.

"Over yon," replied her aunt abruptly and nodded to a bed of exquisite white blossoms.

The new principal of Elmton grammar school was no longer new in any sense of the word, but he was still the most talked of man in that little village.

Not only about the dinner table of many a country farm was the school master discussed.

"Over yon," replied her aunt abruptly and nodded to a bed of exquisite white blossoms.

In an article in the Woman's Home Companion on "The Girl of Seven-teen" this mother says:

"She is just past seventeen years of age, is sweetly pretty, innocent, refined, intelligent, talented and is blessed with an open mind, particularly receptive, but how to all up-to-date ideas in the way of dress, fads, social stunts, ragtime melodies, jazz bands, new dances and late cultures.

"Over yon," replied her aunt abruptly and nodded to a bed of exquisite white blossoms.

BUILT FOR SHALLOW WATER

Unusual Marine Institution on New England Coast Was Known in 1892 as the Camel.

In the year 1812 a queer marine institution made its appearance in Narragansett and bore the name of Camel. These camels were really huge floating dry docks for carrying ships over the bar.

Being built of wood, the camels could float in water very much shallower than a loaded ship required. They were like two long large boxes floating side by side and held together at the ends by large iron chains.

The plan was for the camels to be separated far enough to allow the ships to be hauled into the basin between the two sections, then to be drawn and held fastened together by the chains, holding the ship between them, so that the camels and the ship could then be towed over the shallow places in the channel to the wharf.

Cherish Your Friends.

Have you a good friend? Of course you have, every one has friends, but every one does not hold the friendship they make. Friendship is a treasure that should be treasured.

Some drop old friends for new ones. Some take offense easily at imagined slights or neglects and rudely cut the most sacred ties. Some become impatient of little faults and discard even truest friends.

Some are incapable of any deep or permanent affection and fly from friendship to friendship like butterflies from flower to flower, but make the best of their hearts in any there is a great many ways of losing friends. But when we have once taken them into our lives we should cherish them as rarest jewels.

How Language Grows.

"Ad" and "ad" were at first only localisms, struggling for existence and getting slowly into use sporadically in England, until at last they achieved a powerful penetration into the United States; then they ceased to be mere Britishisms; they won recognition into standard English.

ROMANCE IN RUSKIN'S LIFE

Divergent Religious Views for Long Time Separated Him From the Woman He Loved.

In 1861 Ruskin declared his love for Rosie La Touche and told her parents his hope to make her his wife.

There was a great difference of years between them. Ruskin was forty-six; Rosie was in her eighteenth year. There was some natural hesitation on the part of the parents, and it was arranged that the matter should be postponed for three years.

But when the period of probation was ended, new difficulties arose. There was hesitation not only on the part of the parents, but also by Rosie, Miss La Touche was of a deeply religious nature, but her views were orthodox and she did not share the wider views on spiritual questions in which Ruskin increasingly indulged.

Her love for him had never wavered since the days of her childhood, but she doubted if, holding the views she did, she could marry him. Both she and Ruskin suffered the deepest distress.

For a little time there was estrangement, and there is a moving entry in Ruskin's diary in the year 1870: "Last Friday about twelve o'clock at noon my mistress passed me and would not speak." In the following year there was reconciliation.

The end of Ruskin's dream came in 1875. Miss La Touche's health never strong began to fail, and she died in May of that year.

Various Kinds of Food.

A bulletin issued by the New York Museum of Natural History stated that one tribe of North American Indians regarded a mixture of pulverized locoweed and grasshoppers, and beat it into the shape of a ball. Another tribe preferred grasshoppers and crickets with roasted nuts as a vegetable. Moths the bulletin added, are a favorite dish in Africa and India.

BEAT METHOD OF MEMORIZING.

In committing a text to memory by consecutive readings better results can be obtained by allowing a fair period of time between readings.

If a text be read a number of times on a given day, and another the same number of times on consecutive days, more of the latter will have been memorized.

Diplomacy.

"I told Will I would like to see him to kiss me."

"Why did you tell him that?"

"Because he said once he always succeeded in anything he tried to do."

The Quarrel.

Mrs. Willis—What did Mr. and Mrs. Bump quarrel about?

Mrs. Willis—Religion.

Mrs. Willis—You don't say!

Mrs. Willis—Yes; she wanted to attend a church that has an unmarried preacher and he wanted to attend one that has a lot of pretty girls in the choir.—Judge.
