"Go! Not another word. I will not listen to you. Stop!" Flora stood on the top step and as she commanded in sharp, decisive tones, she pointed a finger toward the pathway.

and Mat's horse started out on a gallop. He was going to reach home before the storm could get on it if it could possibly be done.

burly body had flung itself at her and her hands had come in contact with wet sticky fur. Her head reeled and she was almost fainting when something told her what it was.

"Where is he, old fellow, and how worse. With a shrug of his shoulders, that was intended for a dignified one he started in the direction her finger was pointing. Just as he reached the gate he looked back. Flora was still standing there, a dramatic figure reflected in the moonlight.

"What will the Bonnie?" she asked in a hoarse voice.

CONSCIENCE WILL BE THERE

Life in Guatemala. Guatemala is a frequent sufferer by earthquakes. The city of Guatemala itself, the present capital, was destroyed in 1562 by a terrible earthquake.

ENGLISH FLAX FOR AIRPLANES

Town Where Old Industry Is Being Revived Has Long Borne an Evil Omen.

How strangely ancient and modern meet in the formation of a new government department for the production of English flax, observes the London Chronicle. We find manufactured flax fibers in the lake dwellings of Switzerland; we find it in the tombs of Egyptian greatness, where it wrapped the mummies of kings and queens whose life stories we know.

OLIVES PLANTED BY CONVICTS

Magnificent Plantations Result of Work Begun to Furnish Occupation for Males in Jail.

Olives have struck a climate that they approve of in South Australia. The trees are the hardest possible grower, require practically no attention, and need no insecticides.

Early Egyptian Hairdressing.

The hairdressing of early Egyptian times is interesting. We were acquainted with the Egyptian hairdressing, through being acquainted with the Egyptian hairdressing, through being acquainted with the Egyptian hairdressing.

Painting the Salmon.

Red is the preferred color for salmon flesh. It is the "dog" salmon's misfortune to have meat of a dirty grayish hue, so that it is almost unmarketable.

Arctic Cold.

Beards do not freeze except where the moisture from the breath is converted into snow; but the color glands are rendered somewhat torpid by the cold, and dark beads gradually become lighter until after a while they seem entirely changed in color.

Spiders' Strength.

The amazing strength of spiders is shown in a number of well-authenticated instances. Thus we have an instance of a half-inch spider catching a catfish.

Chinese Fish Propagation.

The Chinese have a novel way of propagating fish. The spawn is carefully collected from the surface of the water and when a sufficient quantity has been obtained they take a number of hen's eggs the contents of which have been carefully emptied through a small aperture, and refill the shells with spawn.

Making Airplane Invaluable.

Many efforts have been made to make the airplane invisible from the earth when it is soaring through the air. One idea calls for the use of transparent materials, at least for all purposes where a canvas covering is used at present, such as the wings and fuselage.

Directing Boy Life.

Many people have the idea that boys in their teens are the most difficult to direct. This is not true. It is the most difficult to direct when they are in their teens.

Tanned in Willow Bark.

The tanned in willow bark is a plant which is used for medicinal purposes. It is a plant which is used for medicinal purposes.

Two Meanings of Plantation.

The word plantation is used in two senses in the southern states, where it is applied to land slavery times, to designate a farm cultivated by negroes, or a cotton plantation, or a sugar plantation.

Performers and Teachers.

The greatest performers have not been the best teachers. The two branches of music are quite distinct. It is a fact that few great performers have been successful teachers.

Worried.

Four years ago a man who looks so much like you could hardly tell you apart. Lenders anxiously "You haven't paid him that fee I lent you three months ago, have you?" - Boston Evening Transcript.
