The exercises which will consist of a daily "horarium" extending from the early morning to the evening hours and will be interspersed with recreational periods in order to give the men an opportunity to meet one another and to relax mentally and physically, will be conducted by the Rev. Walter Elliott of Washington, D. C., the most distinguished living member of the Paulist Fathers who are famous for their missionary work throughout the United States. The entire seminary buildings and surrounding property will be at the disposal of the retreatants who, it is confidently expected, will number more than 100 men from Rochester and the largest centers of the various deaneries of the diocese. More men should wear KEDS

Keds are the summer shoes of coolness, comfort, style and economy.
Keds are shoes that wear wherever shoes are worn—from city home to mountain camp.

Keds are made of fine canvas, with rubber soles that do not "draw" the foot. Do not confuse them with ordinary canvas shoes—they are made by shoe-makers and designs are their tip-toe design shoes. "Keds" you will wear after one season of wear.
