A Good Fall and Winter Coat for Your Boy Is a Mackinaw

Boys know that it is a lot of fun to get out on a cold morning for a long hike—or later in the season to take a spin on the ice on a snappy winter day—and be able to run and jump without any interference from an overcoat. That's why most boys like these mackinaw coats.
They keep the body warm and leave the legs free so that the most active boy can do all kinds of stunts and hardly know he is wearing an overcoat.

These mackinaws have big pockets—good for apples, books, skate straps, about anything a boy wishes to carry along with him. They have big convertible collars that may be pulled up around the neck and over the ears, and are belted all around.
We have them for boys from 8 to 18, in plain oxford, green and brown—in chinchillas and meltons—at $10.95 and $14.95.
Also all-wool plaids in dark colors with deep shawl collar and plaited back and front. These are $9.85.
A special mackinaw of very good quality plaid mackinaw cloth with shawl collar, all around belt and slash pockets—just 75 of them—is $7.95.
