Sunday at all the masses the annual coal collection will be taken up.

The pedro party which was given on last Thursday evening was a great success. Prizes were won by Mrs. Fred Meyering, Miss Ida Englert, Mrs. Bleicher, Mrs. E. Maier, Mrs. Preisner, Mr. Rufus Maier and John Kruppenbacher. Dominoes, Mrs. Eva Dreschler and Mrs. Amelia Klingler. Luncheon was served. All present had a good time.

Knights of Columbus.

A dance will be held at the Hotel Seneca on Thanksgiving eve in honor of Grand Knight George T. Boucher, recently elected to the office. A meeting of the dance committee will be held on Sunday afternoon.

CARTHAGE

Do you remember lower St. Paul Street, when tracks and trees ran by the side, interspersed with rural grandeur, and with tints which were countryified. Surrounded by the stately spruce, a lone stone house stood on the hill. At whose base over rocks and pebbles, flowed a sparkling rippling rill. A tiny Cascade forming, which sprayed the passing barge. Ploughing its somber way from Brewer's Dock, where the Genesee meets the Gorge.

I try to peer into the distant past, my brain with envy riled, For the scenery the aboriginal beheld, and by artifice defiled. 'Twas here the painted savage, whose love the captive maiden spurned. He tortured her beyond belief, and at the stake was burned. His cruelty only surpassed, by his love for all that was wild and free. Which makes his faults condoning, nature's son the red man was he.

From the lower falls descending, following the river bank's choice display, To Rifle Range, through Pine Grove Avenue, and the sheltered coves on the Bay. Cobwebbed with the winding trails of Carthage, lovely village of a bygone day.

The scenic wilderness around you, while Roosevelt's Faugh-a-Ballagh-ed the way.

Where the sturdy pioneer and black bear, round the bend met face to face, No quarter asked by either, in that far from love embrace.

Beauty still adorns you, though neglected you have been, Glory yet will crown you, in history a peerless queen.

For the spartan mother who faced the flaming arrows, or Indian siege, Defending like a lioness, while awaiting the return of her lord and liege.

And the red blooded men you fostered, their faces turned to the western plain.

Who eternally carved, and from the wings of time preserved your name.

MUCH INTEREST IN RETURN VISIT OF VATICAN CHOIRS

The return concert by the Vatican Choirs in Convention Hall on Sunday night seems to be attracting wide attention and orders are pouring into the Lyceum box office from virtually every town and hamlet in Western New York. This concert, arranged by the local management just prior to the departure of the singers for Rome, where they must take part in the Christmas festival, will undoubtedly be the last opportunity that Rochesterians will have in many years to hear polyphonic singing of such wonderful appeal. The choir will present an entirely new programme, which will include Maestro Casimiri's famous "Miserere."

Seats for the concert may be obtained at the B. Forman Co. store, from 9 o'clock until 5 in the afternoon, after which seats may be procured at the Lyceum. On Sunday the sale will be conducted from the Lyceum box office from 1 o'clock until 6, after which seats may be procured in Convention Hall.

Mount Carmel Church

Elaborate preparations are under way for the annual bazaar which will be held for the benefit of this church in the school hall, No. 53 Ontario street, beginning Monday evening Nov. 24th and which will continue all week.
