REV. J. E. BROPHY DEAD.

Rev. Joseph Ernest Brophy, assistant rector of the Immaculate Conception Church, died at 1 o'clock Monday morning, Feb. 9th, in St. Mary's Hospital. Rev. Father Brophy was taken ill with pneumonia last week Thursday and sent to the hospital on Friday. Rev. Father Brophy was born in February, 1885, in Farmington. After his graduation at the high school in Manchester, he attended St. Andrew's Preparatory Seminary in this city and then went to St. Bernard's Seminary, and was ordained there in 1914. After being ordained he was assigned assistant to Rev. A. M. O'Neill, D. D., rector of the Immaculate Conception Church.

REV. J. E. BROPHY

Rev. Father Brophy leaves his mother, Mrs. Ellen Brophy, of Farmington; five brothers, Thomas Brophy, of DuBois, Pa.; Edward Brophy, of Buffalo; Neil Brophy, of Shortsville; John Brophy, of Rochester, and Leo Brophy, of Farmington, and two sisters, Miss Anna Brophy, of Rochester, and Miss Margaret Brophy of Farmington.

Rev. Father Brophy was a fourth-degree member of the Knights of Columbus. Recently Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Hickey appointed him director of scoutcraft extension among Catholic boys in the Rochester diocese. He was to have co-operated with the scout executive of the Rochester Council of Boy Scouts. Rev. Father Brophy for five years had charge of the boys' work in the Immaculate parish. Four years ago he organized the Immaculate Conception Cadets and Cadet Band of sixty-five pieces.

Father Brophy was one of the most popular priests in the Rochester diocese. He had many friends, not only among Catholics, but Protestants as well. He was called upon a number of times to give talks at public gatherings and banquets.

The funeral of Father Brophy was held from the Immaculate Conception Church on Thursday morning, and the number in attendance filled the church. Solemn high pontifical mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, bishop of this diocese, assisted by Rev. John P. Brophy, pastor of St. Monica's Church and cousin of the deceased priest; Rev. Dr. A. M. O'Neill, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, and Rev. George Kettel of St. Bernard's Seminary as deacons of honor; Rev. James Wood of Industry as deacon of the mass; Rev. William Rafferty as subdeacon; Rev. J. E. Bayer as thurifer; Rev. E. J. Esser and Rev. Charles Riefer as acolytes; Rt. Rev. Andrew B. Meehan as master of ceremonies, and the Rev. John M. Sellinger as assistant master of ceremonies. Parts of the mass were sung by members of the clergy under the direction of Rev. John Petter, S. T. B., of St. Bernard's Seminary, and by the male quartette of the church under the direction of William F. Predmore.

Following the celebration of the mass, Bishop Hickey paid honor to the memory of Father Brophy and the work he had accomplished.

The bearers were all members of Father Brophy's class at St. Bernard's Seminary. Members of Rochester and Canandaigua councils, Knights of Columbus were present in full uniform. A large number of clergymen of the diocese attended the funeral.

At the close of the services the body was taken to Shortsville and services at St. Dominic's Church at that place, conducted by Rev. Felix O'Hanlon and Rev. Francis Moffett, were followed by interment in the family plot in St. Rose's Cemetery.

Some folks are so economical that they use the same air over and over all night long.

A good test for "hot air": See if it can melt the ice of experience and still keep hot.

Some men awake to find themselves famous. Others awake to find themselves obscure.

We should judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, not by what we have already done.

Nature has arranged things so that a poor man is able to display as many virtues as a millionaire.

"If you want to get your anger down, don't try to push it down. Go to the other end and pry up good nature."

HOW OCEAN BECAME SALTY

Scandinavian Myth Is One of the Best Known of the Legends on the Subject.

The old Scandinavian myth, with a good many reefs to fit this space, is like this: There were two brothers, one of whom was rich and mean and the other poor, but rather a good sort. The poor one having asked the rich one for something for dinner received a ham and was told to go to a certain place noted for its warm climate. The poor man innocently started off to find the place, and upon his arrival managed to trade the ham for a machine that would grind out anything its owner wished for. He carried it home and to please an irate wife, who was huffy because he had provided nothing to eat, set the mill going, and it ground a fine dinner, including a tablecloth. It was borrowed by the rich brother, who asked it to grind fish and gruel, an odd combination, but there is no accounting for tastes. The rich brother did not know how to stop it and the place was submerged in fish and gruel. The brother was sent for, who stopped it and took it home and, after he had made himself enormously wealthy and pasted his premises with gold, let a sea captain take it, who wanted a cargo of salt. The captain forgot to ask for the combination that would stop the mill, so it ground until the ship went to the bottom; and it is still grinding away in the briny deep.
