Last Night's Dreams
—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF FLOATING?
DREAMS of floating are closely allied to dreams of flying, though probably not so common. Investigators who seek for a physical cause for dreams explain them as they do dreams of falling—by the skin becoming so highly insensitive that all impression of the support of the bed is lost. But falling and floating are sensations so diametrically opposite that the explanation is not convincing. Nearly all the scientific investigators regard dreams of floating as purely mental, or psychic, in their origin and Greenwood says: "Every physiologist who, to the best of his ability, marks out the seat of mind and traces the various communications of the senses with the cerebro-spinal center, knows at every moment that when he has completed his exposition he will have thrown no light on the mental faculties themselves, nor have followed them a single step into the fields they work in." And further: "If credulity stifles the mind, skepticism is a kind of cramp; nor can there be much doubt that it is felt by many who boast of it as a high sort of freedom."
The mystic interpretation of a dream of floating in the air is that it is a favorable omen, unless you suddenly lose your buoyancy in which case there is unexpected trouble ahead of you. If you should dream that you are floating in water it is also a sign of good business and much comfort awaiting you provided the water is clear. If it is muddy look out for hidden enemies and prepare for a struggle. The "occult" followers of the teaching of Madame Blavatsky regard this dream as an evidence of the existence of the "astral body." But, according to Ellis, Caesar de Vesme, who edits the French "Annals of Psychological Research," after an elaborate investigation, declares it to be, like the flying dream, "a purely psychological phenomenon and no evidence of the astral body's existence." In this case the mystics would appear to be about as satisfying as, and much more definite than, the scientists.

Mother's Cook Book

"Babies are not all born free and equal; some come into the world buoyed up with the mental and physical traits that they have inherited from moral, healthy ancestors; others weighted down by the degrading predilections and physical deformities transmitted by weak and sinful progenitors."
All children should be born free and equal, but the sad fact remains that they are not.

Simple Economical Dishes.
When not too rich, a pudding is wholesome and takes the place of pastry or cake more difficult to make as well as digest.

Creamy Rice Pudding.
Take one-half cupful of well washed rice, one quart of sweet milk, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of raisins, a pinch of salt. Bake slowly until the rice is done and it is of a creamy consistency. Flavor with nutmeg or any preferred flavor and serve hot with hard sauce.

Spice Pudding.
Take one-half cupful of good molasses, one-quarter cupful of shortening, one-half cupful of sour milk, one-half teaspoonful of soda, salt and spice, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one-half cupful of seeded raisins; place in a pudding dish in a steamer and steam two hours. Serve with any kind of favorite sauce.

Suet Pudding.
Take one cupful of chopped suet, one cupful of sweet milk, one cupful of molasses, one cupful of chopped raisins, three cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of soda; steam two and one-half hours; serve with an egg sauce.

Pudding Sauce.
Take one-half cupful of sugar, one cupful of water, two teaspoonfuls of cornstarch and a pinch of salt; mix and cook until well done. Add a little butter, nutmeg or any flavoring extract and a tablespoonful of vinegar.

Brown Betty.
This may be made of any fruit, but chopped apple is the one most commonly used. Put a layer of buttered bread crumbs in a buttered baking dish, next a layer of apples, then a sprinkling of sugar, with a dusting of nutmeg or cinnamon; repeat until the dish is full. Add one-half cupful of water; bake in a moderate oven; serve with a sauce or cream and sugar.

Chicken Tamale.
Take one cupful of cornmeal, scald with one cupful of boiling water, add one tablespoonful of butter or bacon fat, one tablespoonful of onion juice, one cupful of tomato, three tablespoonfuls of oil, one cupful of cooked chicken chopped fine, one cupful of chopped stoned olives, four tablespoonfuls of catsup, cayenne pepper and salt to taste. Put in a buttered baking dish and bake half an hour.

PREPAREDNESS.
Little Willie Ezymarque's parents said to him: "Don't you go to scrapping now with 'Lip-haler and Jim! Tell them that your pa and ma won't let you fight a lick—Don't you dare resist 'em if they hit you with a brick!"
Little Willie Ezymarque gushoed down the street, telling every kid he met what his parents sweet had impressed upon his mind—all the kids got next—Licked poor Willie black and blue! Willie's folks were vexed.
Little Tommy Foxyguy's people told him: "Kid, Don't you go to fighting now—scars can't be hid! If those bad boys tackle you, turn the other cheek. Let 'em know your parents' wish is you should be meek."
Little Tommy Foxyguy, quite too smart for that, O'er one eye in hostile style set his little hat. He kept his fists clenched as he went 'mid the hot polloi—"Look out for him—he's no sissy-boy!"
Little Tommy Foxyguy mixed in fewer scraps Than little Willie Ezymarque, with the roughest chaps! Reason of this jangle is: "If we'd not be scared, Better keep the fighting off by showing we're prepared."

HIS BITTER DEFINITION
Paw, what is a co-operative bank?
It is one, my son, in which the stockholders and the bankers have each their work to do in running the concern. The stockholders attend to the assessments, and the bankers to the dividends.

ALL HE WAS FIT FOR.
There was once a lazy young kopher Who was an incorrigible lopher. Said his mother: "My child, You're driving me wild! Go hire out somewhere as a shopper!"

Explained.
"Paw, why do you call the doctor that brings the baby a stork?"
"Because, my son, of the size of his bill!"

AERODROMES MAY HAVE HOSPITALS SOON

Laboratories for Treatment of Those Afflicted May Be Placed in Each One of Them.
Flying laboratories, aerodromes equipped with hospitals, the medical treatment of benighted natives who dwell on a continent-long aerial route, may be next "flights" forward—or upward?—of scientific aviation. The London correspondent of the Journal of the American Association writes: "The Cairo to Cape airplane flight across the whole of Africa from north to south, in which Dr. Chalmers Mitchell, the well-known zoologist, is carried for purpose of scientific observation, has led Sir Ronald Ross to suggest in the Times that the time has come when it is feasible to consider the possibility of using airplanes for the medical exploration of Africa and other dark countries. He cannot say how far the suggestion would be practicable especially in countries largely covered with bush and not at present possessing cleared landing places. But such an exploration would be of great use."
"He suggests that each exploring plane should carry not only a pathologist and a small portable laboratory, but also one or more clinicians, for the purpose of relieving the sickness of the poor natives who otherwise might never hope for the benefits of medical science."
"Research would, of course, go hand in hand with clinical work. It would be necessary ultimately to establish base hospitals and laboratories at the main aerodromes along the route."

Beauty Chats
By EDNA KENT FORBES

FOR YOUNG GIRLS

IN OUR grandmother's day young girls were taught a rigid simplicity of manner and dress quite different from the artificiality of modern society, then, and certainly quite different from the manners and modes of the present moment. The young girl of today carries a wise little head on her shoulders. She can earn her own way if she must and take care of herself under all circumstances. She doesn't faint at the slightest excitement, and she doesn't become a nervous wreck at the least strain on her energies.
Yet she is in danger of becoming too sophisticated in her outward manner, and too blasé in her ideas. I can tell from my own correspondence with girls of fourteen and up, how first they want to do up their hair, then they want to use cold cream, and powder, and to know about rouge and eye-brow pencils. Such things are the implements of grownup womanhood to them, and they cannot wait to get their fingers on the new set of toys.
Yet their chief charm is their simplicity. Simplicity and youth are at all times synonymous. The woman who wants to seem younger can best gain her point by dressing simply. The young girl should cling to simplicity.

GRAVEYARDS DESECRATED

All Cemeteries in Merced, Cal., Molested, Save One.
Visitors and attendants found monuments toppled over, wooden headboards put up and massive stones on family plots torn from their foundations in six of Merced's graveyards. The police said they were at a loss to account for the desecration.
In some instances headboards were transferred from one cemetery to another and driven into the ground at random.
Some monuments were moved to strange plots and set carefully over unfamiliar graves. Slabs weighing as much as 1,500 pounds each were found thrown about in the litter of other tomb fixtures.
The Catholic cemetery was the only one here not molested.

FISH PICK QUEER HOME

Found in Tender of Railroad Locomotive by Fireman.
E. Sturges, boilermaker foreman at the Missouri Pacific round house at Osawatimie, Kan., now believes "there's nothing new under the sun."
Sturges was convinced of this the other day when he found a school of minnows in the tender of an engine brought into the shop for repairs.
The "small fry" are believed to have been in the tender several weeks. How they got there is a mystery.

PERU'S DREAM

At the end of the last century, when the Andes from the Pacific to the Atlantic, the divide is broken by a series of steps or plateaus, the air is so thin and so high that the eye can see...
Composed of fine gray crystals they gleam white against the blue of the desert, and their horns toward the prevailing north wind of this region. They are from ten to twenty feet in breadth across the thick part of the crescent and sometimes one hundred feet from base to horn. So tightly is the sand packed that the feet of the horses or mules make little impression on it.

COULDN'T FORGET THE GREEN

Mrs. Flannigan's Neat Expression of Loyalty to Her Native and Her Adopted Land.
Mrs. Flannigan for years has proudly exhibited from her front window a row of geraniums, in pots wrapped in bright, Irish green crepe paper, says the Indianapolis News. But one other day when her neighbor, who was in France for several months, pulled back her window curtain and revealed her flower pots, decorated with red, white and blue paper, Mrs. Flannigan was visibly troubled. She cried and worried. It is quite hard to be loyal to two countries at the same time, yet Mrs. Flannigan doesn't seem to be so.
Then one morning her wife's smile came back to her face and she passed by saw in the Flannigan window a row of flower pots decorated with red, white and blue coverings and a green covering was tied to the pot by a wide band of green ribbon.

Gigantic Task Before France.
The following facts regarding the magnitude of the reconstruction confronting the French minister of liberated regions were given out by Labbe, director general of the technical services. Building work would require 25,000,000 tons of iron and the labor of 700,000 men for one year; 100,000 houses would be entirely rebuilt, requiring 5,000,000 bricks, 5,000,000 cubic meters of sand, 1,000,000 tons of lime, 20,000 square meters of glass and 5,000 cubic meters of wood. Because of highways and railroads, require 5,000,000 tons of material, the labor of 15,000 men for one year. An addition of 20,000 trams and 5,000 trucks would be required.

Wild Beasts' Toll in India.
Not a day passes of your own life but somewhere in India some 50 people have died through the action of wild beasts. It is not to be supposed that efforts are not made to destroy these monsters. Standing reserves are offered by the government for the killing of all the more dangerous species. But so wild and impenetrable are the sanctuaries that it is impossible for anything except to keep their names within bounds in the more populated territories.

A Clean Sweeper.
Frank A. Munsey, who has now edited the Gordon Bennett newspaper, his long string, is a very critical player, and many a clean sweep occurs in his various offices.
It is said that a visitor called on one of Munsey's offices and asked the office boy if Scribbs, the reporter was in.
"I dunno," said the boy. "I have seen today's reporters yet."

Real Proof.
"They say that Dobbs is madly in love with his wife, but I don't see any sign of it. He doesn't pay her special attention, doesn't make lover-like speeches of any particular sort."
"Maybe not; but whenever she asks him for money he gives it to her without asking what she wants it for."
"No Poetry Then."
"Stone walls do not a prison make nor iron bars a cage," said the poetical visitor to the convict.
"That's fine poetry, ma'am," replied the prisoner, "but just let 'em lock up inside stone walls and behind bars and see if you can get out."

Unqualified Indifference.
"Are you in favor of voting for me?"
"Why ask such a question? I don't like today." Inquired the man in return. "How can a man be in favor of getting 'em if he isn't in favor of 'em?"
Of Course Not.
Diners at a certain city are getting much annoyed by warning signs placed in conspicuous places, and reading:
Wearing a coat is a crime.
Wearing a hat is a crime.
Wearing a necktie is a crime.
Wearing a pair of shoes is a crime.
