Urgent Demand R. B. I. Graduates

Young men and women trained in the Rochester Business Institute for work as office assistants, stenographers, bookkeepers, accountants, secretaries, salesmen, commercial teachers, etc., are in such active and constant demand that the supply falls very far short of the need. R. B. I. graduates in any business office pave the way for other young people who have had the R. B. I. careful and complete training. With such preparation the problems of immediate self-support and future promotion are solved. The successes of nearly forty thousand students who have gone out of the school to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries give full force and meaning to these statements. The fall term of the day school will open Tuesday, September 7th; in the evening school, Tuesday, September 21st. Write to us or call at the school office for complete information about any of our courses in day or evening school. Catalogue sent to any address.
