

Coughs and Colds That "Hang On"

A Real Menace To Everybody How To Get Rid of Them

If you cannot get rid of your cough or cold, if in spite of what you are doing for it, it still hangs on, you are in very real danger. The longer you have this irritating cough or long-standing cold, the more your resisting power is lowered and the greater need for a wholesome food tonic. You will find the strength-giving resistance power to get rid of that cold or cough in Father John's Medicine. It soothes and heals the breathing passages, drives off impurities and actually rebuilds wasted flesh and strength. You can give Father John's Medicine to any member of your family with entire safety because it is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form whatever.

Rockford, Ill., December 27. Indicative of the great regard which the faithful of the Rockford diocese have for the Right Rev. P. J. Muldoon, Bishop of the diocese, was the great public reception which was held following his arrival from Rome, where he made his ad limina visit to the Pope. The faithful of the diocese presented Bishop Muldoon with an automobile and a purse of $10,000 was given by the clergy.

Catholic College Needed Says Bishop Hickey

The Rochester Catholic High School Alumni Association held their annual dinner in the rooms of the Ad Club in Hotel Rochester on Monday evening.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Thomas F. Hickey was present and told of the founding of the Rochester Catholic High School thirteen years ago and recalled that it was with a feeling of regret that he separated himself from his close connection with the school to become bishop of the Rochester diocese. The speaker said that it was with pride that he looked back upon the progress of the institution which was just beginning to bear fruit and that the fruit of the Rochester Catholic High School is a testimonial of the school.

Before the Catholic college can be established here, however, the speaker said, it will first be necessary to construct a new Catholic High School, something that he hopes for in the not distant future. A new high school and equipment to make the school second to none is the aim of the Church, the Bishop told his hearers, in order to attain this end, however, the co-operation of every alumnus of the school is necessary. "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link" he told the gathering, and served notice on his hearers that when the proper time came, they would be expected to play their part.

Another speaker was Dr. Frederick J. Hofschneider, a member of the Class of 1911.

Daniel J. Fitzgerald, a member of the Class of 1909 was toastmaster.

Notre Dame Alumni Meet

All graduates and former students of Notre Dame University who are in Rochester attended the second annual reunion of the Notre Dame University Alumni Club of Rochester, which was held Wednesday evening at the Hotel Rochester.

Ulery-Doyle

Miss Mary Elizabeth Doyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Doyle, of this city, was married Wednesday evening to Ulysess James Ulery, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysess James Ulery, of New York, at the home of her parents, No. 218 Dartmouth street. Rev. John J. Bresnihan performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The maid of honor was Miss Katherine V. Doyle, of Rochester, and the bridesmaids were Miss Melville Dorothea Folmer, of Wellington avenue, and Miss Eleanor Margaret Hart, of Plymouth avenue.

James F. Reid, of New York, was best man. The ushers were Burbank Chase Young and Francis Joseph Dwyer, both of Rochester.

After a Southern trip Mr. and Mrs. Ulery will make their home in New York.

Martin E. Weliff was a public spirited citizen and a great booster for Rochester.

Fraternal orders of Rochester did their part to bring Christmas cheer to those who had it not this year. For this aid and service they will surely reap their reward.

An Open Accountancy Meeting

Will be held at the Rochester Business Institute Friday evening, January 7th, at eight o'clock. All Paee Accountancy students interested in Semesters A, B, C. or D. will find it to their advantage to attend, as full explanations of these Semesters will be given. New Accountancy classes in Semesters A, B. and D. will be started in January. Enrollments for these Semesters are coming in daily. Call up the R. B. I., Main 3869 or Stone 326 for full particulars.—Adv.

MacSwiney's Ghost.

Mother I'm glad you are gone, where trouble is unknown, You of the peaceful mind, foundation of the happy home. Vividly do I remember while I was yet a boy

The discussions on life we used to have, you and I. Your views were ever optimistic, how your face with light did shine. No trust in vacillating human nature, pessimistic humors, picture Christ's second coming, sin to assail Oh Mother in heaven, who could play the torch to Listowel—Listowel on the banks the Fael.

Albion, proud Albion, in your halycon days, soon you have forgot, By the roadside the poor Irish lad in the little thatched cot Who footsore and weary, for complaint in his makeup no room, Tramped the blazing trackless desert, with Kitchener to Khartoum.

His oath ever sacred, his heart with the green, for the fallen foe neither pity or remorse. To maintain England's glory, untiring and tenacious, a bulldog and a horse, And the private from the ranks, who the stumbling block of the Crimea did scale, With Lord Kitchener they played when boys at Listowel—Listowel on the banks of the Fael.

Brittania, Brittania, at Dover's Cliffs why stand you idly by, While continental Europe's myrmidons for your disintegration dot the Eastern sky.

Mute your answer pointing towards the setting sun, from out the twilight these arising a formidable mighty host.

Alack for your protection, its a phantom Irish Army led by MacSwiney's Ghost.

On every foreign clime, their bones lie crumbling, they strew the Ocean's floor, Their spirits now a just reward receiving, from you no fear of interruption as they soar.

Over the Shannon, the Lakes and the Lee, to Sarafeld's home through the Golden Vale.

Their Banner a blazing flag from Listowel—Listowel on the bank of the Fael. —Michael W. Scanlan.

The Eden Electric Washer and Wringer Machine Eliminates the Strain on Wash Day

Why? Because such machines banish the soul-trying, nerve-racking physical labor common to wash day in homes where the washing, rinsing and wringing are done by hand.

With an "Eden" you can do the washing in one-third of the time and the clothing will not only be washed better, but it will last longer.

Between two and three cents' worth of electricity will do the washing for an average family.

Our own faith in the Eden Electric Washer is such that we gladly send them out on trial. We will also send an operator to assist with the first washing if desired.

Wound its tedious way up Main Street hill in 1921. Straw on the floor to keep one's feet warm, metal runway for the nickel fare, turn-tables and horse barn--all have given way to modern equipment.

The Merchants Bank was established while horse-drawn wagons were in operation. Almost every car line in the city still passes its doors.
