

A reason why you should bestow some attention upon your eyes

The whole year's work is before you, and for many it means undue strain upon the eyes. We do not advise glasses unless necessary—we do advise an examination of the eyes so that you may be informed of their true condition.

LITTLE ADVICE FOR GROCER
Would Be Wag Had Picked Out the Wrong Woman on Whom to Exercise His Wit.

There was an expression of melancholy tinged with resentment on Mrs. Brown's face as she entered the grocer's shop.

"I want," she began impressively, "to talk to you about them eggs I had last week. They weren't anything like as fresh as they might have been."

"That's strange," replied the grocer, who fancied himself something of a wag. "We always have an almanac hanging up in the fowl run to keep the hens up to date."

"Oh!" came the retort with crushing emphasis. "Then all I have to say is that somebody with brains about as added as them eggs has been misleading the hens with last year's calendar. Just you hang up a 1920 card, my good fellow, and maybe them chickens'll start working overtime to 'catch up' to it!"

Sacred Heart.

War purged the American body politic and enlarged liberty, said Dr. Frederick J. Zwierlein, D. Sc. M. H., professor of church history at St. Bernard's Seminary, in a lecture before the Holy Name Society and other men of the parish at a meeting Sunday evening last in the Church of the Sacred Heart, Flower City Park. In the course of his lecture the professor referred to the kinship of one of the founders of Rochester to Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, the last survivor of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. The lecturer said that the fundamental principles of the Declaration of Independence had their best support in the writings of Cardinal Bellarmine, who attacked the doctrine of the divine right of kings and championed the natural liberty of mankind.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"CIGAR."

A NUMBER of prominent etymologists, among them Littré, have endeavored to prove the word "cigar" is derived from the Spanish cigarra, meaning grasshopper, and that it was applied to the rolled leaves of tobacco by reason of their similarity in shape to the body of this insect. This explanation, while ingenious, hardly fits the facts in the case, for when tobacco was first introduced into Spain from Cuba, it was grown in gardens or cigarrales, as the Spaniards call them.

The wealthier Spaniards had a fad of raising tobacco in their cigarrales and making their own cigars, which they would prefer with the explanation "Es de mi cigarral" ("It is from my garden" as proof that the tobacco was wholesome and home-grown). Before long the expression changed to "Este cigarro es de mi cigarral," which might be literally translated, "This garden product from my garden," and it was from this that the word "cigar" originated.

However, in the final analysis, the grasshopper does have something to do with it—for the Spanish "cigarral" or "garden" is so-called because it is the place where the grasshopper ("cigarral") resides. (Copyright.)

HELPED BY ROYAL FRIENDS

Musicians of Old Days Found Valuable Patrons Among Those in the High Places.

Many a famous European musical genius has been liberally supported at one time or another during his career by "the great," many musicians being connected with royal courts especially in the days when there were many little princes.

Joseph Haydn for 33 years directed and composed for the private concerts of the princes of Esterhazy, during which period he created most of his best rhapsodies.

Beethoven had his life made easier for him by the Archduke Rudolph and Princes Liechnowsky and Lobkowitz. These three nobles were his truest admirers in a day when musicians occupied a subordinate social position, and were regarded more or less as the vassals of the family that supported them.

On one occasion Beethoven was asked to improvise before an aristocratic gathering. He began playing, but the conversation in the salon continued. In high anger, Beethoven arose, exclaimed forcefully though rudely: "To such pigs I play no more!" and dashed out of the room.

Mozart, anyone who has read his history of music will remember, was kicked downstairs by an upper servant of the Archbishop Hieronymus, who was for many years his patron.
