ROCHESTER NEEDS HOMES.

Spring brings activity in building and repair work throughout the city. There will be an extension of housing facilities both by new buildings and by increase in the size of old structures. It will be necessary to get building material. The Williamson Mill & Lumber Company located at 558-564 Lyell Avenue, Rochester, N. Y., general dealers in building supplies, will be in a position to supply builders and individuals with all the building material they need. Having looked ahead to the needs of the spring weather demands for building their mill yards show a large supply of rough and finished lumber. Those planning building work will find it to their advantage to get in touch with the Williamson Mill and Lumber Company.

A FLIVER HOSPITAL.

The Economy Garage specialize in repair of Ford cars. The Economy Garage operates a Ford Repair and Service Station, in fact that is the special kind of car they repair. Each day sees a long line of "Lizzies" parked along the cement floor waiting for the mechanics, wrenches and parts in hand, about to make the wrong, right. A stock of Ford parts is kept on hand at all times and there's a corps of trained workers fitted to repair the Fords, which need overhauling. If there is anything in the way of Ford Accessories that a motorist desires he is invited to call on the Economy Garage, 672-674 South Avenue, Rochester, N. Y.

JACOB LIBGLID

There is no other one establishment more worthy of prominent mention than that of the Novelty Glove Shop conducted by Jacob Libglid at 59 South Avenue, this city. Prior to the opening of his store in Rochester Mr. Libglid resided in Groversville, N. Y. the home of the glove industry and was employed in some of the largest glove factories there, which places him in a position to know the glove business from Alpha to Omega. In addition to a complete line of fine and heavy gloves Mr. Libglid maintains an up to date repair shop and manufactures gloves, which retail at a price within reach of every one.

THE MELO-D

Music, the most potent and subtle of all the Arts, finds its expression through infinite combinations of Harmony and Rhythm. The advent of the Phonograph has put the masterpieces of the world's great artists within the reach of all, thus probably contributing more to education and enjoyment than any other invention. The Melo-D Phonograph not only meets the demands of the public for ease of operation, mechanical perfection, simplicity and durability, but it has swept away also the last question and doubts of the artistic and musical importance of the Phonograph, which may have been entertained by musical authorities. This popular Phonograph is sold by the Melo-D Phonograph Co., 273 Central Avenue, Rochester, N. Y., and won the approbation of prominent musical people everywhere.
