

Parish Educational Business Bulletin

Advertisement for Ruth Electric Shop, featuring an image of an electric washing machine and text: 'May we have the pleasure of showing you a the best electric washer ever built? Call upon us'.

YELLOW TAXICAB CO.

Telephones Main 6165 Stone

STORAGE Household Merchandise

New York Central Siding Experienced Packers for Shipping We Despatch Our Own Trucks Telephone for Estimate.

Pritchard Storage and Warehouse Co.

DE MALLIE-SIGNS

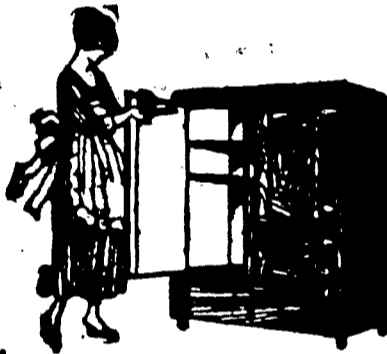

102 STATE STREET

Maccar Sales and Service M. & R. Truck Sales Co., Inc. Modern Repair Shop, Wash Racks and Paint Shop in Connection 61 Parsells Ave. Chase 2405

STERLING ELECTRIC CO. ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS Motor Repairing a Specialty Estimates Furnished 148 Platt St., Rochester, N. Y. Night Service; Chase 2072-W Bell Main 605 Home Stone 2404

Property Sold Quickly JORDANS 3 Broadway Stone 2136 Chase 3719-W WE HUSTLE

Send us your job printing

Does Your Refrigerator Conserve or Consume Ice?

For the sake of efficiency and economy proper construction and insulation are indispensable.

Let us show you how ours are made.

Three Leading Makes that fulfill all requirements McCRAY WISCONSIN BELDING

Outside icing and special order work for Grocers, Restaurants, Markets, Hotels and Florists

MAMMOTH ASSORTMENTS H.B. GRAVES CO. WE FURNISH HOMES COMPLETE 78 STATE ST., ROCHESTER, N.Y.

Rochester American Lumber Co.

GET OUR PRICES 142 Portland Avenue 888 Clinton Avenue 3 Both Phones, Home 1365, Bell 1246

John H. McAnarney General Insurance Fidelity Bonds 101-102 Ellwanger & Barry Bldg. Roch. Phone 2172 Bell Phone 3682 Main

STONE 720 MAIN 720 F. H. Phelps Lumber Co., Inc. We Serve You in LUMBER Our Trucks Deliver in the Country OFFICE AND YARDS, 256 ALLEN ST.

Mathews & Boucher

Mechanics Tools, Cutlery, House Furnishings Goods, Builders Hardware, etc., 24 Exchange Street

C&B DAILY BETWEEN BUFFALO & CLEVELAND

Advertisement for C&B steamers, featuring an image of a steamship and text: '3 MAGNIFICENT STEAMERS 3 The Great Ship "SEANDER" - "CITY OF ERIE" - "CITY OF BUFFALO" BUFFALO - Daily, May 1st to Nov. 15th - CLEVELAND'.

BELIEVE LAND IS ACCURSED ALL HAVE SOME PROTECTION

French Workmen Refuse to Complete Building of Structure Which They Assert is Haunted.

Corner sites are usually at a premium in any great city, but Paris has one that has remained unoccupied for nearly 30 years simply because French carpenters, bricklayers and masons refuse to complete a structure which was begun there and which they declare is haunted.

In 1892 the owner of the plot decided to build a three-story brick apartment house, but hardly had work started on the walls when workmen found the body of a woman who had been cut into pieces and buried in a basket. The laborers threw down their tools and refused to work.

For 22 years the construction work was halted and then another contractor tried the task, but the following day the war began, and the contract was recalled.

READ BIBLE TO GET PENNIES

Woman in State of Washington Has Found That Scripture Study May Be Purchased.

There is complaint that people no longer read their Bibles. Mrs. Gaches of La Conner has found a way to popularize Bible reading.

Hence, general Bible reading, we note, is only a matter of going out and buying it. Mr. Rockefeller and others of his fatness might make Bible reading the avocation of the whole country by detaching a few million dollars and turning them into pennies.

How to Use Violets.

Violet tincture is at hand. In addition to bouquet making these flowers have a number of uses which might well be more widely known.

Mother Nature Abandons None of Her Progeny, in a Helpless State, to Their Enemies.

Nature has provided for everything, down to frogs and little sticklebacks. All the little animals that seem so helpless have their own ways of protecting themselves, says London Answers.

If he suspects that some larger and stronger animal is out to eat him, the frog is able to swell himself out until he looks very ferocious and is far too large to be swallowed.

The frog has longer legs than the toad and therefore can jump better. His eyes are at the top of his head, to enable him to see all round, for having no neck, he cannot turn his head. He can change the color of his coat if it should prove necessary.

People sometimes try to catch the lizard, but meet with no success, for the only part of its body one can get at is its tail, and it can drop this at a moment's notice.

SAW STEAMBOAT AS ENEMY

Sailors and Fishermen Alike Dreaded Power of Which They Had No Comprehension.

When Fulton's steamboat, the Clermont, made her maiden trip on the Hudson river in 1807, it frightened more persons than it interested.

Later it was made known along the river what the thing was, and there at once arose a great wave of hate instigated by boatmen who saw their business ruined, and by fishermen who were sure the noise of the steamboat would drive the fish to sea.

Decorative Church Windows.

The art of glass decorating is not a modern Bohemian accomplishment. The Roman Cathedral of Prague contained, in 1276, two windows which were decorated with Old and New Testament scenes.

America's Meat-Eaters.

Take it the world over and the annual consumption of meat amounts to 39 pounds per capita. Here in these United States, however, the figure rises to 190 pounds a head, declares the Los Angeles Times.

Puzzled Expert.

As two friends were conversing an old college professor passed them in the street.

Considered a Freak.

The Tampa Tribune says that a girl must choose between dressing sensibly and attracting attention.

APRIL WEATHER

By GAIL WHITEHOUSE.

April was abroad in Parkville. In the little square in front of the Elk building there stirred a breeze, elusive, gay, carefree as harum-scarum April herself.

And on the row of benches on either side of the walk a portion of the male population of Parkville, with a smattering of nursemaids and round-eyed children, relaxed and with puzzled but approving eyes, wondered at the latest New York styles.

Yet in spite of all this loveliness, and fashionableness, and ninety-nine per cent happiness which pervaded Parkville, on the fourth floor of the Elk building, in one of the front offices, a stoutish gentleman sat sulkily at his desk, and chewed a stouthead cigar, and was quite unhappy.

Of course his collar still cut his neck, he still remembered that the barber had discovered a bald spot on the topmost part of his head, and that he had an appointment with the dentist for the following Tuesday.

HE GOT THE "BUG LETTER"

Discovery That Made the Victim Maddier Than Before He Was in Original "Kick."

There is probably no easier way to get a laugh out of an average American audience than to mention the Englishman's sense of humor, and read what an American may have to say about the British humorist.

In just one minute the stoutish gentleman had crossed the street and was occupying the bench nearest to the circle of tulips.

The spirit of romance descended upon the stoutish gentleman and inspired him to straighten his tie and to brush the dust from his shoes with one of his very best pocket-handkerchiefs.

Here the stoutish gentleman gasped and nearly swallowed his litteed cigar. A lady (or was it an angel?) was approaching, her face turned haughtily away. From head to foot of her perfectly rounded figure (the stoutish gentleman would never have dreamed of calling her fat) she was perfect.

Suddenly he felt that he must do something heroic. He wished that he were a Sir Walter Raleigh and that there were a mad puddle. He prayed that a mad dog might spring from the tulip bed that he might slay it before her very eyes.

With the gallantry of a Sir Launcelot and the grace of a dancing master, the stoutish gentleman strooped and clutched the square piece of frailness; then not quite so gracefully he unstrooped himself. His face lighted with glad expectation.

"Madame," he began, in inspired tones, "Allow me . . . He looked straight into a pair of lovely blue eyes.

"Mary!" gasped the stoutish gentleman, "M—Mary!" For a moment he stood with the little handkerchief dangling from one plump hand. Then quite profoundly he stuffed it into his vest pocket.

"On on, Mary," he suggested radiantly. "Let's go to the Chinaman's and have a chop suey and ice cream and—let's go to the movies and everything."

After a moment's pause he said: "Testing . . ."

most Englishmen are very friendly to the United States, but they are not so friendly to the United States as we are to them.

They drank it, at least some of them, and became somewhat affected by its presence with them. They undressed, turned out the light and retired.

"Say, wake up, we didn't test the liquor!" "Well, must do it," was the drowsy reply, "won't do drink it 'bout that."

Their arose, turned on the light, found the drop or two of liquor left in the flask, poured it on a handkerchief, touched a match to it with due solemnity and care, saw the blue flame, and returned to their beds absolutely satisfied.—Atlanta Constitution.

HE GOT THE "BUG LETTER"

Discovery That Made the Victim Maddier Than Before He Was in Original "Kick."

There is probably no easier way to get a laugh out of an average American audience than to mention the Englishman's sense of humor, and read what an American may have to say about the British humorist.

In just one minute the stoutish gentleman had crossed the street and was occupying the bench nearest to the circle of tulips.

The spirit of romance descended upon the stoutish gentleman and inspired him to straighten his tie and to brush the dust from his shoes with one of his very best pocket-handkerchiefs.

Here the stoutish gentleman gasped and nearly swallowed his litteed cigar. A lady (or was it an angel?) was approaching, her face turned haughtily away.

Suddenly he felt that he must do something heroic. He wished that he were a Sir Walter Raleigh and that there were a mad puddle. He prayed that a mad dog might spring from the tulip bed that he might slay it before her very eyes.

With the gallantry of a Sir Launcelot and the grace of a dancing master, the stoutish gentleman strooped and clutched the square piece of frailness; then not quite so gracefully he unstrooped himself.

"Madame," he began, in inspired tones, "Allow me . . . He looked straight into a pair of lovely blue eyes.

"Mary!" gasped the stoutish gentleman, "M—Mary!" For a moment he stood with the little handkerchief dangling from one plump hand. Then quite profoundly he stuffed it into his vest pocket.

"On on, Mary," he suggested radiantly. "Let's go to the Chinaman's and have a chop suey and ice cream and—let's go to the movies and everything."