Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing
 At some time or another you are unlucky enough to stain that brand new dress or suit or even damage them. It is for this reason W. S. Street, corner Driving Park and Lake Ave. is in business, to fix your clothes so they will look like new the next time you want to use them.
 Mr. Street is an up-to-the-minute tailor and does cleaning and repairing. He maintains his own delivery system and you need only call him and your work will be called for and delivered.

"Save The Surface And Save All"
 In these days when old King High Cost reigns supreme, it behooves us all to do as much saving as possible. One of the angles to this saving proposition is the saving of all woodwork, both exterior and interior. Furniture also should come under this head, for the cost of producing furniture as well as all building material has advanced in leaps and bounds the past few years.
 In this respect the paint and varnish producers all over the country have been advising us to "save the surface and save all" or in other words to keep all woodwork well painted or varnished that decay cannot possibly take place.
 Paul Paskal, 95 Asbury St., has the reputation of being an expert in the line of painting, interior finishing and floor finishing. Estimates are given free and the prices are reasonable.

Thomson Garage Motto Brings Business
 In the time the Thomson Garage has been in the automobile business, they have built up a business of surprising size. They don't have to look for work, it comes to them unsought.
 This garage is located at 270 Genesee St. and notwithstanding the volume of business that comes to this shop, its repair men are never too busy to give careful attention to every customer. It is there aim to be particular about every job as though it were the only job in the shop.

Nothing happens to the city man with the same right persistence that nothing happens to the village man.
 To be always sensible is a great strain. One isn't sure that nature intended that Nature herself isn't.
