

Autumn Bazaar at Holy Redeemer

The autumn bazaar of St. Louis Commandery and Ladies' Auxiliary of the Knights of St. John opened Wednesday evening for four nights in Holy Redeemer Hall. Ten commanderies of the Knights of St. John in this city under command of Colonel Joseph Weis took an active part in the festival.

One feature of the festival was a contest for popularity in which eight of the commandery's prettiest young women entered.

Alderman Edward A. Dentinger of the Twenty-second Ward donated 365 pairs of infant shoes which were distributed one evening.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name, its history, meaning, whence it was derived, significance, your lucky day and lucky jewel.

EUNICE

EUNICE, like Evangeline, is one of the "glad" names in the lexicon of feminine cognomens. Like Evangeline also, it comes from the Greek word meaning well, or happy. Eunice is translated to mean "happy victory."

Because of its significance, the Greek word from which Eunice was derived, was taken over in early times by the Christians, who adored names of happy augury. The names coming from this favorite word are almost beyond enumeration, but curiously, only a few of them have survived to modern times.

Eunice is one of these latter. It made its appearance as Eunike one of the fifty Nereids. Her name straightway became popular among Greek women, but it remained for Eunice, the Jewish mother of Timothy to give it vogue in the days of early Christianity. English lovers of Biblical names have favored it for centuries, and it is still popular in all the countries of Europe, though particularly adapted to English and American usage.

The topos is the talismanic gem assigned to Eunice. "The chrysolite of sunrise," Shelly calls it. It is said to preserve its wearer from all dangers and to warn of approaching evil by paling in color, but it will be rendered impotent unless it is set in gold. To dream of its signifies that no harm shall befall. Tuesday is Eunice's lucky day, and 3 her lucky number. The chrysanthemum, signifying cheerfulness, is her flower.

SELF SERVICE.

IT MAY be true, that ancient whee—
The Moon is made of verdant Cheese.
It may be true, as some do say,
The Stars float in a Milky Way—
But this I know, for all man's matter,
The Earth is built of Bread and Butter,
And those who want to get their share,
Must be ready to do and dare,
And not sit down and idly wait,
To have it brought them on a plate.

DRILLING DEEP INTO EARTH

What is Expected to Be World's Deepest Well is Being Sunk Near Brownsville, Tex.

Barring the striking of oil (or some unlooked-for misfortune) the well which Wells Espron, the wildcat wizard, is drilling upon the bank of the Rio Grande, 22 miles southeast of Brownsville, Tex., will become in due time the deepest hole in the United States. It passed the one-mile depth a few days ago, and the drilling is slowly progressing toward the 6,000-foot mark. The limit of 7,000 feet was set originally, but it is now planned to drill to a depth of more than 7,200 feet in order to surpass the deepest well in the United States, which was of that depth and was drilled in West Virginia several years ago. Puncturing a hole in the earth more than one mile below the surface is an engineering as well as a mechanical feat. It is explained. The wooden derrick is of giant proportions, rising to a height of 134 feet. It is built of huge timbers so that the strain of the heavy tools and continual pounding may be successfully borne. Upon the floor of the derrick, are installed ponderous machines, all of a size and power far greater than is found necessarily in drilling a well of ordinary size and depth.

Archbishop Hanna An Honored Guest

Archbishop Hanna, or "Dr. Hanna," as hundreds of his friends in Rochester still call him, was the guest of honor at a dinner of the Columbus Club, Thursday evening, at Powers Hotel.

In his talk Archbishop Hanna touched briefly on the unsullied record of the Knights of Columbus in the war and said that much credit for this should go to the men of former days who builded up the spirit and ideals of the order to such a degree that the war record was but the flowering of all the work that had been put in the past. He said that now he was looking forward with confidence to see men with the same exalted ideals carry the order on to the great crusade that lies right ahead.

William M. Smith, faithful navigator of the Fourth Degree Assembly of the Knights of Columbus, made the speech of welcome.

Seated at the speakers' table, in addition to these men, were Rev. J. Francis O'Hern, Rev. A. M. O'Neill, Rev. William Cowan, Charles F. Barnes, Thomas Moon, Cyril Statt, William F. Farrell, James M. E. O'Grady, James G. Comerford, Dr. J. A. Stapleton, William Shafer, Thomas Green and Peter A. Vay.

The singing was led in a spirited manner by T. Leo McCarthy, and several selections were given by Jim Harkins, who is the headliner at the Temple Theater this week.

Italians Plan Celebration

Of Columbus Day

The Italian societies and Italians of Rochester are making plans for the celebration of Columbus day, on Oct. 12th.

There will be a parade by the Italian societies preceding the commemoration exercises which are to be held at one of the city parks.

The celebration will close with a banquet at the Powers Hotel for which extensive plans are being made to have about 300 present.

Weekly Calendar Of Feast Days

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)
Sunday, Oct. 2.—The Feast of the Holy Guardian Angels.

Mon. Oct. 3.—St. Gerard, abbot, a holy recluse, who was born of a noble family of Namur and when a young man, sent on an important mission to the court of France. He was edified by the life of the monks of St. Denis, in Paris and consecrated himself to God. He founded an abbey at Brogne, three leagues from Namur, building himself a small cell where he lived until God called on him to reform many monasteries in France. He died in 959.

Tues., Oct. 4.—St. Francis of Assisi, born in 1182, the son of a merchant of Assisi, who was inspired by God to renounce the world and preach the salutary lesson of poverty. He and his followers were constituted into a religious Order that spread rapidly through Christendom. After visiting the east in a vain quest of martyrdom, he spent his life preaching to the multitudes and fasting in the solitudes. He was favored with the stigmata. With the cry, "Welcome, sister Death," he passed to his reward, Oct. 4, 1226.

Wed., Oct. 5.—St. Placid, who followed St. Benedict to Mount Casino. He was selected to found a monastery in Sicily and spent four years in building it. Barbarians wiped out the community, including Placid and thirty monks, a year after. His brothers, Eutychius and Victorinus, and his holy sister, Flavia, who were visiting Placid, were also slain.

Thurs., Oct. 6.—St. Bruno, who was born at Cologne, of a noble family in 1030. He led a life of great poverty and self-denial and was finally summoned to Rome that Urban II might avail himself of his guidance. The great city disturbed his peace of mind and he pleaded to go back to solitude, resuming his monastic life in Calabria, where he died in 1101.

Fri., Oct. 7.—St. Mark, a Roman by birth, who was one of the most devoted followers of Christianity. He was elected Pope in 336 to succeed St. Sylvester, but held the dignity only eight months, dying on October 7.

Sat., Oct. 8.—St. Bridget of Sweden, born of a noble family and who married, in obedience to her family, Prince Ulpho of Sweden, becoming the mother of eight children, one of whom, Catherine, is honored as a saint. After some years she and her husband separated by mutual consent, he entering the Cistercian Order and Bridget founding the Order of St. Saviour, in the Abbey of Wastain. In 1344 she became a widow and thereafter received a series of most sublime revelations. By command of Our Lord, she went on a pilgrimage to the Holy Land where on the very scenes of the passion, she was further instructed in holy mysteries. She died in 1373.
