Weekly Calendar Of Feast Days

(By N. C. W. C. News Service.) Sunday, Oct. 30. - St. Marcellus, the Centurion in the legion of Trajan, who refused to take part in the impious ceremonies ordered for the celebration of the feast of the Emperor Maximian Herucleus in 298. He declared his faith in Jesus Christ, the eternal King, and was at once committed to prison. Later he was beheaded. Monday, Oct. 31. - St. Quintin, martyr, was a Roman descended from a Senatorial family. He preached the faith in Gaul and at Amiens was seized, thrown into prisons and loaded with chains. He was condemned to barbarous torture and finally beheaded on October 31, 287. Tuesday, Nov. 1. - The Feast of All Saints, set aside by the Church to venerate all who have died in grace, and who are now in Heaven. It is a holiday of obligation in the United States. Wednesday, Nov. 2. - The Feast of All Souls, set aside by the Church in order that the faithful may offer up their prayers for the souls suffering in Purgatory. Thursday, Nov. 3. - St. Hubert, the patron saint of hunters. He was devoted to worldly pursuits, especially to the chase, in his youth, but later renounced them and served God alone. He became a bishop and penetrated the most barbarous places of Ardenne, converting many and performing numerous miracles. He died in 727. Friday, Nov. 4. - St. Charles Borromeo, Archbishop of Milan, who did much to counteract the spread of Protestantism. During the great plague he refused to leave Milan and was ever at the side of the sick and dying. He was created Cardinal in 1560 at the age of twenty-two. Saturday, Nov. 5. - St. Bertille, abbess, born of one of the most illustrious families in the territory of Soissons, despised the world and earnestly desired to renounce it. She entered a monastery at Brie and acquitted herself with such great charity and edification that she was chosen prioress. In 646 she was appointed first abbess of the abbey of Chelles, which she governed with vigor and discretion until her death in 692.

Rev. W. J. Lee Transferred to Ithaca

Corning, Oct. 23. - Rev. Walter J. Lee, pastor of St. Patrick's Church here, and for 26 years a priest stationed in Corning, has been appointed by Bishop Thomas F. Hickey of the diocese of Rochester as irremovable pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Ithaca to succeed the late Rev. William Harrington. His successor here has not been named. Father Lee came to Corning in June, 1921, immediately following his ordination as a priest of the Buffalo diocese, after completing his studies at Niagara University. He was assistant to the Rev. Peter V. Colgan, dean of the diocese, for three years, and then continued at St. Mary's as assistant to Rev. James M. Bustin, who succeeded Dean Colgan as pastor. In 1905 St. Mary's parish was divided and St. Patrick's parish created. The first head of the parish was Father Lee. As the result of his fifteen years of labor in that parish, Father Lee will leave behind him a new parish church and school, a new rectory and a convent for the use of the Sisters of St. Joseph who teach the parish school. In June, 1920, when Father Lee observed the 25th anniversary of his priesthood and of his service in Corning, he was given a purse of $8,000 by his parishioners. Besides his active duties as a priest, he has served on the executive committee of Corning chapter of the Red Cross, as a director of the Corning Social Service Society and as chaplain of Corning Council, Knights of Columbus.

Sweet Dreams. Like most three-year-olds, Dorothy Jane is always very insistent on having her own solutions. One evening she decided she must have something to eat before going to bed, and on a survey of the pantry, decided on raw Irish potatoes. However, big sister objected to this choice, saying: "Dorothy Jane, you must not eat raw potatoes before going to sleep; you will have bad dreams." "Well, then give me sweet potatoes; they make me sweet dreams," argued Dorothy Jane. Only Reasonable Request. It was atop a lurching, lumbering fifth avenue bus where New York's great middle class does its love-making. He was making no progress, that was evident. Other couples were cuddled up in each other's arms unabashed. He and she sat straight and prim. "You didn't like olives at first?" he asked. She agreed. "But you like them now." She nodded. "Well," he pleaded, "certainly you will give me the same chance that you would an
