Coates Considered as Becoming as It is Practical.

Belt or an Elaborate Girdle Used Un less the Garment is of the Eaton Design.

The smart "little contee" is play ing a very important role this spring. It is a delicious affair, notes a Pans Tashion correspondent, as becoming as it practical; just the thing for pretty girls and even for their still pretty mothers.

The "little coatee" of today is a near relation of the sac garment. As a rule, a belt or elaborate girdle will be found on the latest short coatees, unless these be of eton design, but many of the more important points of the straight fur coats are repeated. The long wide sleeves, the big rollover coliar, the unexpected lining.

A model was made of the new silk and wool which is supple as crepe de chine and produced in the most marvelous colors. The special model was carried out in black and white and the intention was that it should be worn over either a black or white
