VOICE MUST BE CULTIVATED

Teacher Asserts That Every Person Has Ability to Be More or Less a Good Singer.

It has been stated by a leading singing teacher that we all would have a good voice if it were cultivated, but still some voices would be better than others. There is a reason why we do not all have really fine voices. The "sound box," as it were, of our body is the larynx, or as most people call it, the "Adam's Apple." Across this stretch our two vocal chords, like the strings of a violin, thick for a bass, thin for a tenor, and so on. The "bow" that strikes these chords is, of course, our own breath, and the different notes are produced by the moving of certain muscles at the base of the larynx.

Just as the tone of a violin depends largely upon the body of the instrument, so even perfect vocal chords are of little use unless our body contains a sufficient space, properly lined, for their tone to echo in; resonating cavities, we call them. We therefore need for the best voice a perfect sound box and perfect chords, plus fully developed "resonating cavities," and good muscles to work the larynx.

Added to this, our mouth and tongue must be placed in precisely the best position for our particular notes. Perfect health is needed for the breath that is our "bow," a perfect ear to distinguish the slightest variation of tone, and finally a long and expensive training to enable us to work every part of our sound-machine to the best advantage. Given all these factors, we have the perfect singer. Short in any one of them, we have a less perfect singer!

RESURGAM

This is the festival for you and me, When Hope springs up, beside Brax's Mam-ory

Sweet growing in the hearts of every one, Woman or man who proudly gave a son.
Some have come back, but some, alas!
no more.
Will step across the threshold of our door, And, with a smile of youth and hope and cheer, Make day of night and Summer all the year.
Yes, some came back, clear-eyed and strong and whole—Conquerors, they, in body and in soul.
Wearing their tunics with such modesty That, through our tears of pride, we scarce can see.
But some came back all broken on the wheel Of War's Deaf Christ, how must those soldiers feel
The need of patience in adversity—The need to learn the lesson which through them
We all must learn—They had their Calvary!
On Freedom's battlefields their bodies fair Were as the bread that broke, a symbol there
In this high chamber and their blood as wine
They spill, Christians, for us—your sons and mine.
And now like Him, this Resurrection morn,
They lift themselves above their wounds, new-born Resplendent, supplied though they are, Whose souls have need to heal, nor show the scar
Though bodies cannot Ever in this life They'll bear the badge and burden of the strife
And those our dead, who could no longer stay,
But like their Lord have passed upon their way
They sang Resurgam with their dying breath, Handing together Liberty and Death!
The Lord has risen! He has risen, indeed!
And with Him those brave souls to intercede
On our behalf, who only stand and wait Till we're bid to enter at the Gate He's risen, indeed, and through that glorious fact We get the strength to bear, the power to act.
Our unity of boys by Him are led,
The strong the crippled, and the splendid dead!
Caroline Russell Elpham, in the New York Times

company. Mr. Davies was widely known as a fisherman and sportsman.

philanthropic uses.—New York Sun.

War Against Pine Beetle.
A crusade against the pine beetle that has been causing so much destruction in the yellow-pine districts of the Northwest, as to alarm several government agencies—and a number of private interests, is reported to have reduced the infestation about 50 percent during 1922. This work, which is under the supervision of the bureau of entomology, consists of locating and killing all infested trees, and it is expected to result in the saving of over $87,000 worth of lumber during the next three years, over and above the cost of the work. On a million acres as yet untreated, the loss from this pest is now $200,000 a year.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Museum Shows Ancient Customs.
One of the recent attractions added to the historic city of Lourdes, which has been the scene of many pilgrimages for the cure of physical ills, is a museum to illustrate the old customs of the natives in that region of France.
Six halls in the museum are reserved for a permanent exhibition of the furniture and costumes of the Pyrenean people, the equipment of their artisans (weavers, potmakers, shepherds, hunters, fishers, etc.) and their characteristic footwear. In other rooms are displayed botanical, geological and entomological collections, also painting, sculpture and applied arts of the region.

Picture of Popular Author.
H. G. Wells is described by a contemporary journalist as being almost shriilly youthful, with a high-pitched voice and vehement temperament. He is a stocky little man with a bristling mustache and a bristling attitude. He is further said to be incredibly independent, fond of friendship, and a perfectly

It is necessary to use THE SWEEPER-VAC in order to take all the dirt from your rug in one easy, dustless operation. And the attachments are essential in order to capture the dust that floats in through the windows!
What a contrast to the old cleaning method with its unattractive dust-cap; working clothes that make you ashamed to answer the doorbell; hot, perspiring effort; air filled with unwholesome dust.
May we demonstrate the SWEEPER-VAC to you—without obligation?
Liberal terms should you care to purchase.
