Business Men Say Good Work For The R. B. I.

Institution on Clinton Avenue South Finds Demand for Graduates Exceeds Supply—Summer Courses Now Being Given.

The work of the R. B. I. is entirely devoid of sensational appeal—it functions quietly, unostentatiously, yet efficiently and effectively. For 16 years it has directed its activities to the training of the youth of both sexes for business appointments. Its value to the community can never be even approximately estimated but it has probably contributed more to the business efficiency of Rochester than any other individual factor.

The best judges of its work, professional men and business executives, have shown their appreciation in an unmistakable and practical manner, for the demand for R. B. I. graduates invariably far exceeds the number of students available. In this connection it may be mentioned that over 42,000 students have received instruction at the R. B. I. since it was founded in 1868.

R. B. I. activities are continuous throughout the entire year save for legal holidays and students can register every first or third Monday of any month of the year for the regular courses in the commercial and stenographic divisions and on any school day for special courses.

Summer courses for teachers and others desirous of obtaining commercial training are conducted during July and August and an intensive course in shorthand and typewriting is a feature of July.

The secret of the success of the R. B. I. is based on the fact that its curriculum are planned by principals who have the widest experience and knowledge of the requirements of modern business and that the tuition is given by thoroughly competent and highly qualified tutors.

The reputation of the R. B. I. extends from coast to coast and every state in the nation, to say nothing of many distant and foreign lands, can lay claim to at least one R. B. I. graduate who is putting into practice the business arts, a knowledge of which he acquired at the establishment in Clinton Avenue South, formally designated the Rochester Business Institute, but more familiarly and affectionately known to students and others as the "R. B. I."

Tailor, Dyer and Cleaner.

Now that you have worn that suit or coat for the some time you must feel that it needs cleaning and freshening up a bit, and the place that it will be given the best attention is at John F. Schroeder's, 138 Chestnut Street. This establishment has a call and deliver service too, so just call Stone 2648 and they will come to your home for the article of apparel and return it to you when it is finished.

If you have any remodeling you wish done for spring or summer this is the place to take it, they also do dyeing and have a very complete equipment and service no matter what work along this line.

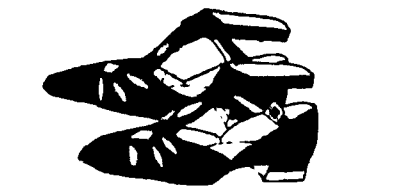

This shop makes made to measure clothes and if one has ever worn this kind of clothes, you know that they are the only kind. As Summer approaches we feel sure that you will have some work along this line, either cleaning, pressing, re-modeling, dyeing, any kind of tailoring, and if you have, just try Schroeder's and see what good work they are capable of doing. You'll find the prices right too.
