School and the Children's Eyes.

The prospect of returning to school is not attractive to many children—the lack of interest, however, is often due to impaired eyesight. Close application is tiresome to them and means too great an effort.

We advise all parents to have their children's eyes examined—trouble often exists without your being aware of it.

Rev. A. A. Notebaert Returns From Belgium

Rev. Alphonse A. Notebaert, rector of the Church of Our Lady of Victory in Pleasant street, returned Tuesday night from a summer vacation spent in his native land. Father Notebaert came home much invigorated by his summer abroad, and plunged immediately into his parish duties.

Father Notebaert spent some time in Louvain and became very much interested in the building of the first wing of the new library that is replacing the one destroyed in the war. Money towards the work was donated by public and parochial school children of Rochester.

On July 4th, the rector of the University of Louvain gave a dinner to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his election to his office. Father Notebaert was a guest and during the evening, the host told him the story of how Whitney Warren, American architect, and members of the International League for the rebuilding of Louvain, came into possession of a valuable collection of books, sculpture, engravings, pictures, medals and other art treasures which were turned over to Louvain library.

While in Louvain, Father Notebaert had an audience with Cardinal Mercier, whom Rochesterians will remember visited Rochester in the last year of the war. Father Notebaert said to the noted prelate:

"Your eminence, we know you are very busy, that you are to have a meeting with all the bishops of Belgium to-morrow, so just give us your blessing and we will go."

"Oh, but I want to hear about Rochester," replied the Cardinal. "How's the bishop; how's his mother; how's Mr. Eastman? Come on tell me all about Rochester. It seems to me I never saw such a cordial place, and it will live in my heart forever."

Then for an hour, Father Notebaert talked to him of the city by the Genesee and the people the Cardinal had met on his brief visit to Rochester six years ago, many of whom he remembered by name.

Asked about the reconstruction of Louvain the rebuilding of its homes, Father Notebaert replied that out of 1,700 destroyed, 1,100 homes had been rebuilt, and that the streets in which they are building have been considerably widened and now present a very beautiful appearance. The architecture of the houses is also very beautiful, he said.

Father Notebaert, was accompanied to Rochester by Rev. Leon Deckers, Ph. D., who is on a two months' mission to visit the schools of the principal cities. Father Decker bears a letter of introduction from Cardinal Mercier, and besides being a priest is a teacher in the Belgian normal schools. He received his degree from Louvain University, and comes highly recommended by the head of his church in Belgium. He was a war chaplain and was in Antwerp during the siege as well as being at the front in some of the big battles of the war.

ST. AMBROSE CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED SEPT. 9.

Preparations are being made to dedicate the new St. Ambrose Church, Clifford avenue and Culver road, on Sunday, September 9. Bishop Thomas F. Hickey will pontificate assisted by Vicar-General J. Francis O'Hern and the priests of neighboring parishes. The Rev. J.F. Goggin of St. Bernard's Seminary will be the master of ceremonies and Paul Predmore will direct the choir.

The parish to which the new church will minister was organized in November, 1921, with but a handful of people and now has in it about 350 families. The parish school will open on the day following the dedication with about 200 pupils registered. The Rev. Walter B. McCarthy is the pastor.

Camp Madonna To Remain Open After Labor Day

Camp Madonna, the summer camp for girls conducted by the Catholic Women's Club on Canandaigua lake, has attracted scores of vacationists since its opening, July 1st. A recreation leader provides for the entertainment of the girls, who find camp life a round of healthful outdoor activities, which include swimming, hiking, boating and frequent picnic trips.

A moonlight boat ride was one of the enjoyable events of last week's program at Camp Madonna. The "Stunt night" scheduled for each Wednesday had discovered a wealth of unsuspected dramatic ability in the girl campers.

A few vacancies exist for the week-end before Labor Day, and for the first two weeks of September. Girls who plan to visit Camp Madonna for a week or a fortnight's stay before the season closes may communicate with the club's executive secretary at No. 7 South street.
