Cook With the Gas Turned Off! Anything and Everything in the Hardware Line

That is the slogan that the Company of Natt, Bareham & McFarland, Inc., sell the Chambers Fireless Gas Range under. The housewives will doubtless be interested in hearing a little more in regard to this statement.

The Chambers Fireless Gas Range is the answer to the Maid-less kitchen. With this Range in the kitchen you have hours of happy freedom from the kitchen. Just put your dinner in the Chamber at lunch take the entire afternoon off and find a hot, appetizing meal ready to serve when you return. No basting, no watching, no gas meter running, and no burnt or dried-up food.

The principle of the Chambers is simple. While the gas is on it cooks like any high-grade range only more efficiently. Certain patented features allow you to shut off the gas and at the same time seal up the heat in the range oven or in the hood on top—both thickly insulated—so that they will cook on for hours on retained heat. The oven roasts meat, bakes, and the hood cooks vegetables, cereals, pot roasts, etc., in fact any thing can be prepared in this range. There are also open burners for frying, broiling etc.

BAKERS DROP LOTUS LEAVES
Shanghai Government Forces Them to Use Waxed Paper for Wrapping Their Products.

Shanghai bakers used to wrap their bread and cakes in nice green lotus leaves. But the days of this romantic practice are gone forever. According to the new regulations covering bakery products, bread and other products must be suitably wrapped in greaseproof or similar papers. The clause in the regulation covering this particular requirement quoted by Assistant Trade Commissioner A. V. Smith in a report to the Department of Commerce, reads as follows:

"That bread and bakery products shall, upon sale or when carried or handled for sale, or delivered in baskets, vehicles or otherwise be suitably wrapped in greaseproof paper or other cleanly covering, in such manner as to completely protect the bread from dirt, dust and flies, or from harmful contact in handling."

Now Senate Lacks Octogenarian.
The death of Senator William P. Dillingham of Vermont removes from the senate rolls the last octogenarian. And on March 4, when congress adjourned, there were three.
Senator Page, also of Vermont, who was eighty last January, retired on that date.
Knut Nelson of Minnesota, three weeks younger than Page, died in May on his way from Washington to his home.
And Dillingham, midway in his eightieth year, died early in July.
Removal of these octogenarians from the senate leaves Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, now one month past seventy-nine, the oldest member. Next comes LeBaron Colt of Rhode Island, seventy-seven; then Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, a youngster of seventy-three; third, Lodge of Massachusetts, three months younger than Cummins, fourth.
