YOUR ROOF?

Is it ready for the storms of fall and winter? Not unless it is right and tight all over.

If it seems to need repainting, don't take chances but treat it to a coat of Lowe Bros. Stain and Metallic Roofing, a paint with a good reputation among property owners everywhere.

If it's only a case of stopping a few cracks around the chimneys and gutters, ask for a can of Elastic Roofing Cement. One little leak may mean a lot of mischief.

BISHOP HICKEY DEDICATES NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Right Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, Bishop of Rochester, dedicated the new St. Ambrose Catholic Church in Clifford Ave. last Sunday morning. The structure combines facilities for church and school, and the church auditorium was filled to its capacity when pontifical mass was celebrated Sunday.

The deacons of honor were the Rev. J. Emil Getell of St. Peter and Paul's Church and the Rev. John P. Brophy of St. Monica's Church; deacons of the mass, the Rev. J. B. Sullivan of St. John's Church, and the Rev. E. P. Meagher of St. Bernard's Seminary, the Rev. J. F. Goggin of the seminary, was master of ceremonies. Twenty-five priests attended the mass, including the Rev. Walter B. McCarthy, rector of St. Ambrose.

Among these were Monsignor E. J. Britt, the Rev. E. B. Regan and the Rev. Thomas Timmons, all of Buffalo. A male chorus sang under the direction of Paul Predmore, leader of St. Ambrose choir. Students at St. Bernard's Seminary assisted in the services.

Bishop Hickey congratulated the new parishioners on their edifice and laid emphasis on the value of Catholic education.

This parish has had a rapid growth. It was only a short time ago that a small wooden building was erected for worship. St. Ambrose then was a division of Corpus Christi Church. At that time Father McCarthy became the rector in charge. George W. Henner and Raymond Tierney are trustees.

The new church is constructed in Tudor Gothic style. The church proper, which is on the main floor, will seat 680 persons. Rooms on the top floor will be used for school purposes.

In the basement is a parochial hall, suitable for church fairs, entertainments and the like. The construction is such, that the building can be used entirely for school purposes, if the need arises. In that event, it is planned to erect a larger church.

There are now 350 families in the congregation. By spring, it is expected, that number will be increased to 500.

The building was designed by Frank Frey, architect. The structure, with land and necessary equipment, cost approximately $136,000.

SS. PETER AND PAUL'S CHURCH

Masses on Sunday will be held at 8, 7, 8:15, 9:30 and high mass at 11:30 o'clock.

School collection will be taken up at all the masses on Sunday.

Former Cathedral High
Students Hold Outing

About seventy-five students of the Cathedral High School of the years 1913 to 1917 gathered at Doug's farm in Pittsford Sunday at the annual outing of the Whitman-McGinnis-Smith Club. The club is an organization of students who attended the school in the days when it was smaller than now and when everyone knew each other by their nickname as well as by classroom designation. The name of the club is derived from the names of three athlete graduates of Cathedral High School who died in service.

The start to the picnic grounds at the corner of the Palmyra and Fairport roads was made from Lawrence B. Weber's store at Frank and Brown streets at 1 o'clock. From there, until late in the evening, the day was spent in renewing old acquaintances and partaking in baseball and eating contests.

Daniel Fitzgerald, president of the club, opened the meeting with a short talk and was followed by Dr. Harold Quigley, who talked on "Past and Present Athletics of the R. C. H. S."

Other speakers were Dr. Eugene Knight, Harold Clark, Gerald Quigley and John Gilbert. Next year's meeting will be at Doug's farm, the time to be decided later in the year.

First Solemn Mass of Rev. Willshire J. Lockwood

St. Augustine's Church, Buffalo, with its worthy pastor, the Rev. John H. O'Brien last Sunday at the elevation of one of its sons to the holy priesthood. The Rev. Willshire J. Lockwood was ordained a priest of the diocese of Detroit, at the Cathedral there, September 1st by his Bishop, the Right Rev. Michael J. Gallagher.

The following Sunday, September 8th, his friends and relatives came together to attend his first solemn Mass at St. Augustine's Church. The large outpouring of people was not only a tribute to the person of Father Lockwood, but an expression of the esteem and veneration of Catholic people for their priest.

Father Lockwood was attended by the following: Rev. John H. O'Brien, assistant priest; Rev. Arthur A. Roark, of Detroit, Deacon; Rev. Charles J. Keller of Buffalo, Subdeacon; Rev. Harry L. Graham of Scranton, Master of ceremonies.

Father Lockwood was ordained from St. Bonaventure's Seminary, Allegheny, N. Y., and one of the faculty, Father Albert, O.F.M., delivered the sermon on this occasion.

The following priests were present in the sanctuary: Rev. John G. Marx, C.S.S.R.; Rev. Edward M. Lyons, Rev. Wm. Doran, Rev. Wm. J. Devaux, Rev. Bertram, Transmuter of Buffalo.

After Mass the young priest gave his first blessing to all who approached the altar railing. A very delightful dinner was served at the Lockwood home, and this was followed by a reception in the early evening.

Father Lockwood will leave within a few days for his first assignment at St. Mary's, Bkr of the Sea Church, at Jackson, Mich., and he will take with him the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

IRISH SPIRIT LIVES

They say the Irish spirit never again be put into extinction. Kathleen Boland, commandant in the Cumman-na-Ban, Ireland Militant Woman's Organisation, declared at a reception at No. 44 State street, for her and Dr. Margaret O'Donohy, former medical superintendent of health of Derry City, Ireland.

The meeting Tuesday evening was conducted in a candle-lighted room, owing to the blowing-out of a fuse. The electricians could not get into the collar to repair the damage. The speaker smilingly took her place on the platform and told the audience that she was more at home with the candles. "They remind me of the days of the Black and Tans," she said. "We had to keep our houses dark for fear of being shot."

"Since I have been in America, different persons remarked that in Ireland we love fighting, but I want to say that we do not love fighting; we do not love war. We have seen what war brings. We have seen our homes burned and our dear ones shot. It is not for the love of this that we take our stand. The women in Ireland hate war, but there is one thing certain, we will go on with it. We don't want our little ones to see the same thing we have seen. We want them to have happiness. If we accept this Free State and become part of the British Empire, we could have what we want, but we desire to see our children free."

"There is no man adored in Ireland like De Valera. I think he is the most wonderful man in the world but I have never seen him. He is in Ireland." Among those on the platform was Mrs. Charles E. Wheelwright of Rochester, mother of Eamon De Valera.

A plea for funds to aid the sufferers in Ireland received a generous response. Leo A. Mac Sweney, chairman of the reception Committee, subscribed first and was not long before a substantial sum was pledged.

Before the speakers arrived, an orchestra played several old Irish songs in the dark.

CHURCH HAS CARNIVAL

A carnival is being held by the Holy Cross Church on the lawn of the parish for three evenings commencing Wednesday evening and includes entertainment and luncheon. Among the prizes that will be drawn will be an electric light dome donated by the Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation.

A just estimate of people's character cannot be formed by what others say about them, but one may judge somewhat by what they say of others.
