A Becoming Hat For Each Face
This Season

Styles have never been so becoming' says the proprietor of the Mc-Garvey millinery Store who has just returned from New York. 'No woman or girl need wear an unbecoming hat this season' declared E. A.
McGarvey of the McGarvey store at 298 East Main Street.

'Styles are so varied and so attractive this spring that there is a hat for every face and color and material to make the best of every complexion,' Mr. McGarvey said.

'The cloche retains its popularity but it has taken to turning up its brim in front or dropping it off completely in back, giving a new and interesting appearance. The tricorne is running the cloche a swift race for popularity. Sometimes it is the familiar Napoleonic tricorne with a point in front, but at other times may turn sheerly up with the points at the side. A new sailor has also made its appearance for wear with tailored suits, its high crown and narrow brim giving a distinctive touch to the wearer.

The fashionable hat may be of any color you wish, black, blue, lacquer, red, chinese green, or Milmosa yellow, they are all 'good' as the milliners say. The brilliant colors will be very noticeable in the hats for sport wear, while the more delicate shades will creep into the drooping brimmed hats with lace scarfs that are destined to be worn with the early summer dresses.

The McGarvey Store is showing hats in all the new straw and hair braids as well as many beautiful models in crepe, satin, ribbons, and mohair cloth. The flowers, velvet and silk ribbons, bright pins, and ornaments are used in trimming the more dressy hats, while the sport hats largely for their style on embroidery or a single striking ornament.

Bridge Opens Yearly

Grand Haven, Mich.—The swing bridge over Grand river at Eastman village is probably the most expensive in the world, according to government engineers. It costs $1,500 to swing the bridge over, this representing the salary of the tender for one year. The bridge is opened only to see if it will work. The Ottawa county road commission and the state highway department desire a fixed bridge to replace the present structure.

Presence of Mind

A burglar in Waco, in a place which we cannot pronounce, was on finger prints secured under peculiar circumstances. A maid servant was awakened in true movie style by the burglar's flashlight. She said she felt faint and asked for a glass of water which he gave her and finding no valuables took his departure.
He was traced by the finger prints on the glass and proved to be a pitman and an old offender—Scientific American.
