Aged 'Con' Man Finds Three Suckers in Iowa
 Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 17.—P. T. Burnum would choke could he read this.
 An aged man, benign in appearance, poorly dressed, steps into a dime store and purchases two rings. He lies them on a string and drops them on the sidewalk. A prosperous business man comes along just as the old fellow picks up the rings.
 "My, but they look valuable," he exclaims.
 The business man thinks they are. The old man suggests he needs money and will sell them cheap. He sets the price at $3. The business man balks and offers $3.50. The old fellow accepts and, as the business man hurries away, the con artist cries after him:
 "If there's a reward offered remember I get half," and calls out his name and address. The business man rushes to a jeweler.
 "Worth a quarter," says the jeweler.
 The old fellow worked his game three times here in one day and got away with it.

Chic Separate Skirts, Sweaters and Jackets.
 Among the styles presented in the satisfactory separate skirts, sweaters and jackets are some very fetching models. Plaids and checks are seen among the newest importations, and skirts of plain goods with sweater or jacket in the figured material. One snappy little suit is made of soft wool, an English material of gray, having a large plaid in white, and the sweater jacket of the same goods is bound, collar, sleeves and pockets, with white braid.
 Block checks in black and white and in colors with contrasting shades, of with white and diamond-shaped checks are seen in gowns, hats, sweaters and every sort of dress accessory. This is sometimes the pattern woven or printed in the goods, or the effect is attained by the applique of two materials, one of glossy, the other of dull surface. The checks appear among the best and latest models.
Saving Weight
 An old Irishwoman sent a parcel to her son in which she enclosed the following note:
 "Pat, I am sending your waistcoat, to save weight I have cut all the buttons off. Your loving mother."
 "P. S.—You will find them in the top pocket."
