 Specialists in Builders' Hardware.

MATERIALS ARE WASHED.

Sand and Gravel Handled by a Large Corporation is Cleaned.

To produce a washed sand or gravel in quantities sufficient to meet the demand and at the same time minimize the cost, the Consolidated Materials Corporation have erected large plants involving considerable capital. They have also provided transportation from the plant to the unloading station and because of their efficient system and the low prices resulting therefrom many contractors are using their materials.

New York State Engineers have specified that washed sand and gravel is very satisfactory for road and construction work and is more economical than either materials because of the long period of usefulness and the permanency which it gives to all construction work. It is no longer questioned by those who have carefully studied the use of concrete.

Place your order at once, with this company, they are at all times ready to meet your slightest demand.

Some Fine Work in Packing.

J. C. Clancy Carting Co.

Mr. Charles P. Clancy, mgr.
 Webster Cor. Grand Avenues.
 Rochester, N. Y.

My dear Mr. Clancy:

I have just reopened and unpacked the entire shipping of goods which you have created so well. I have found every article that a medical office carries in first class condition.

The microscope and all the laboratory glassware have been uncracked and found in perfect condition. All my mahogany furniture and white enamel fixtures have been found in fine condition. The Leonard Storage Co., who are the leading Storage people of Cleveland have highly complimented your crating of my goods.

I take great pleasure in recommending your Company of the good work you are doing, when one does business with you.

You have my full authority in showing this letter to anyone that you wish. I certainly appreciate your cordial and honest method in taking care of a customer.

Thanking you for your many courtesies in the past,

I remain,

Respectively Yours,
 Dr. Jacob S. Lipsky

Hubbard Has Large Trade.

Reputation for honesty in handling eggs by delivering only the best quality has established H. H. Hubbard Butter and Egg Company of No. 162 Arnett Boulevard on a strong business firmament. The "Mother Hubbard" is the trade mark of the company's products, bestowed in honor of the proprietors' ancestral name which is synonymous with purity and wholesomeness.

Butter and eggs are the principle components of every day table service, and the supply seldom exceeds the demand. Howard H. Hubbard, young in years, energetic in ambition, and resourceful in recognizing the public taste realized several years ago the broad field here for a butter and egg supply.

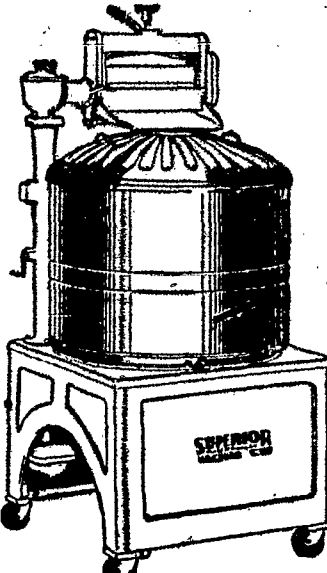

In addition the company's transaction in cheese form an enormous part of their service. The Hubbard daily output is 3,000 dozen eggs and it gets part of its enormous supply from its Wyoming County Henery, the largest in that country. The Company sells about 15,000 pounds of butter each week and 10,000 to 12,000 pounds of cheese in the same number of days. It enjoys the reputation of being the largest dealer of butter and eggs in Rochester, nine motor trucks being used to haul this mammoth stock to stores, hotels, and restaurants.

The entire output of three creameries are used by the company, and thousands of chickens are kept active in meeting the demand for eggs. Stores are covered by the company's trucks within a radius of thirty miles and it also serves stores in Geneva, Hornell and intermediate points.

Today "Mother Hubbard" butter and eggs is the household word and its fleets of trucks are used in obtaining supplies direct from farms and in promptly distributing the same to stores. Housewives know that "Mother Hubbard" butter and eggs are delivered from sources of production. The farm is brought to your grocery store thence to your table.

The soviet government lets it be known that it has executed 247 crooked officials within the past year— which at least would seem to dispose of the notion that corruption would never exist if the proletariat ever came into its own.

Nevertheless, in the late hours of the night, there is also some doubt as to whether the fellow who runs with an open cutout is having fun in proportion to the noise he makes.
