

UNINVITED WIND

"I have a funny engagement," said Mr. Wind. The Breeze Brothers looked at Mr.

Wind and said:

You seem to be getting dressed up in your best"

"Yes," said Mr. Wind, "I have put on my best windy cape, and my best windy hat and my best fly-away windy shoes. But I have really nothing which makes me keep this engagement of mine.

"I mean that I have had no invitation to go where I am going. But I am going just the same.

"You see some creatures are so silly. They don't blow in on others for supper, for example. They wait until they're asked.

"Sometimes they will hint for an invitation. But most of the time they will not even do that. "They walt until they are asked, and if they're not asked they just don't go at all. "But I am different

"I feel like going on a party and I feel like seeing some people and so I am going.

"I haven't hinted about it. No. I have not done that. Nor have I been invited, as I've said.

"But I feel as though I would like to have some fun blowing through window cracks, and if windows are open I shall blow right in and I shall not have my best manners with me. "No. I'm going to leave my best manners at home.

"You know I often do that. I say to

"It is a pleasure to go, but I don't have to say so. Nor do I have to say It was kind of them to have invited me for they haven't invited me at all. "And when I want to leave I don't have to shake hands with my host and hostess and tell them what a goodtime I had. No. I don't have to take a single manner along with me.". "We didn't know that manners ever came singly," said the Breeze Broth-

"You don't know everything," said Mr. Wind, with a little windy smile. "Ah, yes, I have lots of manners if I want to use a lot and if I only want one or two I may only use one or two. "People are the same way. They may go out and not say a polite thing
