As "Will" Would Say It
Jones and Jenks were arguing about Shakespeare. Jones contended the bard was a genius, and Jenks scoffed at it. "Genius, nothing," he said. "All he had was a big vocabulary. Anyone that supplied himself to it could duplicate Shakespeare's stuff. I could do it myself!" At that moment two very bow-legged men turned the corner and walked toward the disputants. "Here's a chance to show how good you are," said Jones. "How would you describe those two fellows?" "That's easy," said Jenks. "There's only one way to describe them: Shakespeare himself, couldn't say anything but 'Here come two bow-legged men.'" It was what Jones was waiting for. "He couldn't, eh? He couldn't have said: 'Here come two men who are those with a vocabulary as rare as mine!'"

Famous French Palace
The Louvre is a famous palace in Paris originally the residence of French kings, but since the French revolution used as a museum of art and antiquities. The Louvre derives its name from an ancient hunting chateau that stood on the site of the present palace, in the midst of a forest infested with wolves and known as the Louverle. It is said to have been a royal residence in the time of Dagobert (628). The foundation of the present building was laid by Francis I in 1541, and the structure was enlarged and adorned by successive kings, particularly Henry IV and Louis XIV, the latter being the last king to live in it. The work of uniting the Louvre and the Tuilleries in one structure was completed in 1857; and the combined Louvre and Tuilleries covers an area of 48 acres.—Kansas City Times.

Are You Troubled With Nervous Troubles? Building Material In Any Quantity

One of the great mistakes in dealing with the nervousness consists in a drug treatment to hasten the restoration of the natural nerve function. Where this error is followed it will cause shock to the nerves and defeat the efforts the natural forces of the body are all the time making to relieve the sufferer, and give rest to the already over-strained nerves. Nervousness manifests itself in a good many different ways. People are fussy, fidgety, weak, emaciated and diseased as a result of it. Different symptoms have been classified to indicate what form of drug to use to combat them. The drug treatment has proven wholly ineffectual to perceptibly improve much less cure the nervousness. There are over six thousand drug preparations in use and there is more sickness than ever.

The science of Chiropractic does not classify the great family of nervous disorders under different heads. It looks to the anatomy of the human system to find and adjust the spinal disarrangements that interfere with the natural action of nerve energy, which proceeds from the brain to every organ tissue, and cell, when there is no impediment on any of the nerve lines at the spine. By locating and adjusting these conditions the natural forces of the body will restore normal functions and effect full recovery from nervous disease. Many have suffered for years with nervous ailments that would not respond to other methods, have regained their health through Chiropractic adjustment. This drugless method of health work has had many years of successful result to commend it. Conduct your own investigation and learn the merits. The Leve Bros. Chiropractors in the Ward Building will make an appointment with you at any time. Call them Stone-6712.

Man of Genius Made Companions of Dogs
In "Memories and Notes of Persons and Places," Sir Sidney Colvin gives an intimate glimpse of George Meredith's conversation with his dogs. "The most characteristic strain in his ordinary manner was this blend of the most scrupulous courtesy with the frankest raillery, both somewhat elaborate of their kind. He would take and keep the same tone with servants. He would even take it with his pet dogs. I have noticed that the dogs of men of genius love them more passionately and devotedly than they love ordinary masters. I suppose feeling in them some extra glow and intensity of the emotional faculties calling for a response in kind. To the succession of black and tan or pure tan dachshunds given to Meredith by various friends, Koby and Bruno and Pete (for "Kobold," "Bruno," "Peto"), and Islet, on whom he wrote his well known elegy—to these it was a delight to hear him talking eagerly by the half hour together in terms now of caressing endearment, now of irony, or sometimes, when the poaching instinct had proved too strong in any of them, of pained parental reproof."

Hasty Buying Not a Fault of East Indians
American salesmen, trained to high pressure and quick-result methods, meet with puzzling experiences when selling in India, where men and women appear to be hunting always for an excuse for delaying a decision to a future date, says a writer in the Ohio State Journal. A New York trained motor salesman learned that fact when he tried to sell a handsome motor to a man of wealth in Delhi. There had been some reductions made public in the price and the salesman assured the man of wealth there could be no more reductions for at least a year, using that statement for the purpose of closing the sale. It did not bring that result, the contemplative resident there merely smiling and saying he planned a vacation for a year and would look over the cars on his return.

Telegraph Terrified Many
When Prof. Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the practical telegraph instrument and code, first put them into practice in 1845 many intelligent citizens were actually terrified. Some of the more skeptical spoke of him as being in league with the devil. The first message sent over the line that had been constructed for the practical tryout was: "What hath God wrought!" Morse was a painter, and not an electrician, but he combined the principles and devices that electrical scientists had produced up to that time and in that way won credit for the idea. He met with great opposition in getting the idea accepted.

The Cow-Tree
In Colombia there is a tree known as the cow-tree. It is treated much as we treat a cow, or, this vegetable cow is bled; rather, its veins are cut, that is to say, the bark of the tree is incised. Immediately the laciferous vessels thus bisected yield an abundant flow of white liquid which as regards its appearance, taste and nourishing properties hardly differs from ordinary milk. Evaporated by gentle heat, this vegetable milk yields a delightful sort of marmalade with a slightly aromatic odor.—From the Wonder Book of Plant Life, by Jean Henri Fabre.

As people begin to realize that Summer is here in earnest, they think that a new car must be acquired at any cost and of course this calls for a garage to keep it in. Building a garage is no small task and it takes money as well as most of the worth while things of the day. However the lumber for it may be obtained at reasonable prices at the Hanna Lumber Company. Every sort of building material is obtainable at the Hanna Lumber Company's office and yard at 133 Murray Street. The new house builder often wonders just where to buy the best lumber for the new home. It is sure to be right if purchased of the Hanna Company. Lumber is as low now as it has been for the last months, the reports to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association from 372 representative commercial softwood mills covering their operations for the week ending the last of Feb. show an approximately normal condition in the lumber industry. New business increased noticeably over that of the preceding week but there was only a small gain in shipments and production. This shows that now is a good time to start that new home. Lumber will surely go up in price the next year.

Building lath and shingles as well as inside trim and floor material can be obtained in any quantity and at any time at the yards of the Hanna Company. They make special Pine Garage doors at special prices. Call them for your lumber needs.
