Hardwood Floors For the New Home

If you are building a new house or remodeling an old one you are of course, considering the best floors, and those are hard wood ones. The best authority on these is always the only one to consider. For this reason you should get in touch with Mr. Leonard Smith at 147 Hazelwood terrace. You can call at his place of business or on the telephone and he will advise you as to estimates, cost, amounts, time to install, etc.

Hardwoods are never used for outside work because when they are subjected to dampness they warp and swell so badly that the floor may be ruined. Certain hard woods like Maple are especially subject to change under conditions of dampness. When this material is laid for flooring care must be taken to allow for subsequent expansion but it makes a fine floor when properly laid.

One of the first principles of laying a floor is to get it tight. With oak flooring nails should be set—that is driven far into wood by means of a steel tool. The purpose of this is to bring the wood sections close together.

Subsequently the dry air of your apartment may dry your flooring and make it shrink. This may open the joints to a slight extent. Modern methods of flooring manufacture have developed a very superior product. Mr. Leonard Smith is an expert at the flooring business, and can give you much more information at first hand. Call him at once if you wish expert advice.

Value In Old Paper And Rags

When cleaning up your house each morning, ladies, save the evening and morning papers, also all the old magazines and at the end of a certain period of time, call John Albrecht and Son at 31 Siebert Place and they will call for your load and take it away. You will be surprised how many papers you can save in this way in a short time, and too you will be pleased with the amount they will pay you for them.

People who have a quantity of old iron, and metal of any kind may find a ready market by calling Main 6538 at any time. Some times during the year the prices are higher than at other times. Watch for these times and make the most of your cast off articles.

The firm has for years been noted for its straight forwardness and integrity in its transactions. It makes no difference to them whether the load is large or small that they call for, each one receives the same consideration.

Mystery Attached to Lost Cities of World

There is always fascination attached to stories of lost and abandoned cities. The East has many such places, once teeming with life—now the abiding place of lions, monkeys, snakes and jackals. For instance, the holy city of the Buddhists, Barabodee, in Java, had been forgotten for 800 years when Sir Stamford Raffles rediscovered it and its wonderful temple, the eighth wonder of the world. The jungle of Siam has hidden its ancient capital, Ayuthia, for four centuries. Its inhabitants fled before the conquering Burmese, and never returned. It is now said to be the lurking place of thousands of enormous snakes. Mystery surrounds the dead city of Tibet, which Captain Rawling discovered. It is a vast collection of palaces, monasteries, and dwelling houses, but the Tibetans professed ignorance of its existence, and also of the reason for its abandonment. Five centuries ago Angkor had a population of three-quarters of a million. Today it is the Dead City of Cambodia. The carved stone elephants, the immense causeways, the majestic temples still remain, but the jungle has invaded the streets and squares.

Fable Worth Remembering

A crow, half-dead with thirst, came upon a pitcher which had once been full of water; but when the crow put its beak into the mouth of the pitcher he found that only very little water was left in it, and that he could not reach far enough down to get at it. He tried, and he tried, but at last had to give up in despair. Then a thought came to him, and he started dropping pebbles, one by one, into the pitcher. At last, he saw the water mount up near him; and after casting in a few more pebbles he was able to quench his thirst and save his life. Little by little gets results.—Aesop's Fables.

Times Had Changed

The salesman who had been turned away several times remarked to the office boy with fine sarcasm: "Well, I suppose the boss is in conference again this morning?" The office boy flipped a paper wad at the stenographer before he replied: "No, sir; not in conference. He's sworn off golf."
