Feast Of The Assumption Celebrated At Cliff Haven

Over 1500 persons, reciting the rosary and singing hymns, took part in the procession at the Catholic Summer School Saturday in honor of the Feast of the Assumption. Arriving at the Chapel it halted while the Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Conroy, Bishop of Ogdensburg, blessed the Statue of the Sacred Heart, which was dedicated to the memory of Miss Margaret F. O'Connell, late trustee of the Catholic Summer School and President of the Alumnae Auxiliary Association. Rev. John D. Roach, president of the Summer School, stated that it was unnecessary to talk at length about the noble qualities of Miss O'Connell. They are known to all. She was loved in her work and labored nobly for the Catholic Summer School. We know the eminence in it which she attained, an eminence spoken of publicly by His Eminence Cardinal Hayes, His Lordship Bishop Conroy and other representatives of the clergy, as well as by members of the laity. This memorial to her has come from the voluntary outpourings of the many hearts that loved her.

The Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Conroy was then presented. The venerable bishop declared that he could not help thinking as he heard the people recite the rosary, that Christianity began with the "Hall Mary", and that as the Blessed Mother caused her son to be invited to the marriage feast of Cana, so she invites Him to share in the joy of her feast today. A "Hall Mary" always embodies a "Hall Jesus". It is not only a salutation to the Virgin Mary but to purer womanhood as well, and we have come to do honor to Miss Margaret O'Connell who possessed the characteristics of noble womanhood to a remarkable degree. That consideration for others, that winsome courtesy and charity, that spirit of sacrifice, that love of modesty and of service so manifest in all her actions but mirrored the noble soul within.

In his concluding remarks Bishop Conroy said that he felt sure that Miss O'Connell, who had been so active during her life in our behalf, was actively praying for us, that we may follow the guidance of the Great Teacher Jesus who had been to her the source of all her joys.

After the blessing of the Statue of the Sacred Heart, the procession proceeded along the lake shore to the grove, where a beautiful tableau was presented. A gate is opened and St. John is discovered kneeling at the tomb of the Blessed Virgin. The children quickly assemble to see their beloved Mother. John tells them she has arisen. He opens the tomb; nothing is left but roses and a winding sheet, which the children fervently kiss. Then John points upward. All look up and behold in the living tableau, the Virgin Mary high in the pines surrounded by angels and cherubs. Suddenly, while the throng below looks on in reverent silence, the sweet tones of Gounod's Ave Maria fill the air. The mystery of the Assumption is recited and the tableau gradually disappears. Then followed the coronation of the Statue of the Blessed Virgin. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Rt. Rev. C. C. M., has announced the appointment of a special committee for the ceremonies. Those who took part in the tableau were:—Madonna, Miss Margaret Callaghan of New York; St. John the Evangelist, Mr. William Geoghan of Brooklyn; Angels, Mrs. Albert E. Latta of N. Y. C.; Miss Susan V. Reynolds of Brooklyn; Cherubs, Betty Green, and Marie Louise Mallon of Philadelphia. The children who took part in the crowning ceremonies were Miss Rose Mary Plunkett of N.Y.C.; Juliette O'Neill of Philadelphia, Marjorie Mallon and Catherine Metz of Brooklyn.

The beautiful ceremonies enacted were in a large measure due to the untiring efforts of Rev. Arthur A. Hughes, of Rochester, N. Y., trustee of the Catholic Summer School, who was master of ceremonies. Mr. Charles A. Webber of New York, treasurer of the Catholic Summer School, who had charge of the splendid tableau, and Miss Margaret Durick who trained the children.

At the 10:30 mass Sunday morning, Rev. Thomas McMillan, C.S.P., charter member of the Summer School spoke briefly on the day's Gospel, which he stated showed that God distributed favors for the soul as well as for the body. In his concluding remarks Father McMillan declared that while yesterday took part in celebrating the triumph of the Blessed Virgin, our prayer today should be that we may properly evaluate the things that come before us, uphold a Christian standard and carry it to our neighbors. That in the end we may be associated with her at the throne of God.

The Annual Concert, which was held last Sunday evening was a decided success. The ovation given to the Union John Carroll, Boys' Camp Director and New York baritone was long and spontaneous. His strong, rich and well-modulated tones had the audience with him from the start. Violin selections were given by Lucy A. Wars. "North Africa and the Near Hudson of Plattsburg, N. Y. Her neat singing was especially manifest in the "Rosary". Mrs. William F. Plunkett New York soprano showed marvelous control of a powerful voice. Technique and tone color were of the most interesting of this year's session.

St. Canisius' Relics In Special Exhibition At Aix-La-Chapelle

Cologne, August 10.—Aix-la-Chapelle is the first city to honor St. Peter Canisius with a special exhibition of the relics of his life and works. Many pilgrimages helped to make this exhibition a great success, and there is talk of repeating it in other cities in Germany, Holland and Switzerland.

An interesting feature of the exhibition at Aix-la-Chapelle was a large map on which was traced the course of the apostolic journeyings of the saint. Visitors were astonished to note that during the fifty years of his labors, St. Peter Canisius travelled 100,000 kilometers on horseback preaching the Gospel of Christ and combating Lutheranism and Calvinism. This record is considered all the more remarkable when it is recalled that St. Peter Canisius was a prolific writer as well as a preacher. At this exhibition were shown manuscripts of more than forty of his more important works and about 2,000 of his sermons. His Catechism, the work through which he is most widely known, was represented at the exhibition by manuscripts and first editions. The Catechism has gone through more than a hundred editions in Germany and has been translated into 25 languages.

Among the personal relics of the saint shown at Aix-la-Chapelle were: the Saint's hat and his walking stick, shoes, two rosaries, breviary, a crucifix which he always kept before him while writing, two green chasubles presented to him by Duke Wilhelm V of Bavaria, and the soutane in which the saint was laid to rest in his first tomb in the church of St. Nicholas of Freiburg. This soutane was removed when the body was transferred 28 years later to the Church of St. Michael in the same city.

N. C. C. M. Holy Year Pilgrimage Enrolls Men From 17 States

Washington, Aug. 16.—Seventeen States will be represented in the Holy Year Pilgrimage to Rome of members of the National Council of Catholic Men, it has been announced here by Andrew I. Hickey, Chairman of the committee in charge. Responses have been received by the committee from virtually every State in the Union regarding the pilgrimage, which is expected to be one of the most representative that has left the United States this year.

The largest group of pilgrims thus set out to make reservation is from California. John W. Collins, chairman of the California committee, expects fully fifty Catholics from that state to be included in the pilgrimage party. Connecticut, Kansas, Rhode Island and New Jersey also will have representative groups in the party. Other states now enrolled through below looks on in reverent silence, the sweet tones of Gounod's Ave Maria fill the air. The mystery of the Assumption is recited and the tableau gradually disappears. Then followed the coronation of the Statue of the Blessed Virgin. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Rt. Rev. C. C. ### Paris To Rome Afoot, Holy Year Pilgrimage Of Noted Frenchman

Paris, Aug. 10.—The French pilgrim writer who does not desire to have his name mentioned, desiring to make the Holy Year pilgrimage to Rome, went from Paris to the Eternal City on foot, with a pilgrim's staff in his hand and a knapsack on his back.

Upon his return, "Le Gaulois" obtained a statement of his impressions of the Roman ceremonies and on the attendance of Christians in the New York harpist held the audience enthralled with her delicate harmonies. Agnes Clune Quintan played exquisitely several difficult piano selections. To Miss Quintan, under whose direction the Annual Concert was held can be attributed the musical treat had at the Catholic Summer School Sunday evening. During the week lectures were given in the morning by Rev. John Carter Smyth, C.S.P. and Dr. Richard J. Purcell, professor of History at Catholic University. Father Smyth spoke on "Spiritism," "Theosophy," "Christian Science," "New Thought," and "No Paganism." Dr. Purcell lectured on "Immigration to America," "Industrial Development," "Evolution of Transportation," "Concentration of Wealth and Growth of Large Fortunes," and the "Significance of the Building of the Union John Carroll, Boys' Camp Director and New York baritone was long and spontaneous. ### Weekly Calendar Of Feast Days

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

Sunday, August 23.—St. Philip Benizi, a native of Florence, was born on the Feast of the Assumption in the year 1223. It happened that the Servite Order was founded on the day of his birth and later he became a member of that Order. His virtues won him the respect of all to such an extent that it was proposed to elevate him to the Papal throne. It was only by flight that he escaped this supreme honor which his humility bade him decline. He died in 1285.

Monday, August 24.—St. Bartholomew, Apostle, was one of the chosen companions of the Saviour. It was he who carried the Cross through the most barbarous nations, penetrating to the remotest Indies. In Great Armenia he met his death. Historians disagree as to the manner of his martyrdom; some saying that he was flayed alive and others insisting that he was crucified.

Tuesday, August 25.—St. Louis King of France. He led two crusades against the Saracens and was noted for his great zeal for the Faith. Early in his life his mother admonished him that she would rather see him die than commit a mortal sin. That admonition guided him throughout his career. He died in Tunis in 1270 while leading his army on his second Crusade.

Wednesday, August 26.—St. Zephyrinus, Pope, was a native of Rome who became Pope on the death of Pope Victor in the year 202. That same year Severus ordered the bloody persecution of the Christians. This persecution continued in full fury until the death of the Emperor in 211. It is doubtful if Scephyrinus really died at the hands of the executioners although some martyrologies list him as a martyr because of the sufferings he endured during the persecution.

Thursday, August 27.—St. Joseph Calanctus, a native of Arragon, was born in 1556. When he was a child of five he organized a troop of children and led them through the streets of the city looking for the Devil, whom they sought to kill. After he was ordained to the priesthood the Saint founded the Order of Clerks Regular of the Pious Schools to care for the children of the poor, aged 61 years, died in this city August 28.—St. Augustine of Hippo, was born at Tagaste in Africa in 354. He was reared in the Christian Faith but without receiving baptism. As he approached manhood he fell into evil habits which persisted until he was thirty-four. At that time he was converted and received baptism. Because of his great intellectual power, he was for thirty-five years the dominating figure in ecclesiastical life in Africa. He died in the year 430.

Saturday, August 29.—The Beheading of St. John the Baptist. Chosen as a forerunner of Christ, St. John led a life of great austerity spending a great deal of time in contemplation until he was thirty years old. Then he came forth from the wilderness and began to proclaim the coming of the Redeemer. He was beheaded when he boldly rebuked the Tetrarch, Herod Antipas because the latter married Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip while Philip was still alive. Herodias induced her daughter Salome to please the King by her dancing and then to ask for the head of the Saint as her reward. When the request was granted and the head of the saint was brought from the prison in which he had been confined Salome delivered the head to her inhuman mother.
