Two Churches Opened In English Parish In Year Is Record

(By N. C. W. C. News Service) London, Nov. 23.—By opening two churches in one parish in a year Msgr. Charles Payne, vicar-general of Nottingham, has probably established an English record. Early this year he opened a church at Mansfield, and on that occasion Cardinal Bourne described him as "our champion beggar" in recognition of the fact that he had opened many churches up and down the diocese. This week Msgr. Payne opened a new church at East Kirkby, in the Mansfield parish. When he first celebrated Mass at Kirkby four years ago, only three persons were present. He started a catechism class, and through the children, got to know the parents, amongst whom he traced several lapsed Catholics. This Bishop of Nottingham, at the opening ceremony, said he would like to see the Kirkby example followed all over the diocese. "We have got to a condition of affairs," he said, "in which we have to multiply centers in which Mass can be offered."

Attendance Figures For Army Religious Services Take Jump

Washington, Dec. 1.—Attendance of officers and enlisted men at religious services on military posts during the fiscal year 1925, was more than half a million in excess of attendance during the previous year, according to the annual report of the Chief of Chaplains to the Secretary of War. The statistics show that there were 15,361 services of all kinds conducted with a total attendance of 1,560,927 which is 560,554 in excess of the attendance figure for the preceding year. The average strength of the military forces and the number of Regular Army Chaplains in service were approximately the same during the two years. On the average each member of the military personnel attended church on an army post thirteen times during the year, according to the report. No account is taken of the men who regularly attend services in other churches near their stations. The report also shows that there was a net increase of 158 in the number of chaplains in the Reserve Corps during the year just ended. The total number of Reserve Corps chaplains is 1,116, of whom 213 are Catholic priests—the largest number of chaplains for any single denomination. The Methodists have 211, the Protestant Episcopal Church 163, the Presbyterians 159, and the Baptists 133.

Ludendorff Rebuked By Catholic World War Veterans

By Rev. Dr. Wilhelm Baron von Capitaine, (Cologne Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service). Cologne, Nov. 23.—The gibes of General Ludendorff, who recently made a speech in which he attacked the Bavarian clergy, has just been rebuked in Silesia in a novel and effective way by German officers in the World War. Ludendorff's attack aroused much resentment among Catholics, and the Silesians were no exception. His attempt to step out of the character in which he was revered, that of a soldier, into the role of political agitator, wherein he spent his time making loose, tactless speeches, brought particular ridicule. Accordingly, when Ludendorff visited Silesia, the veteran officers marched in solemn procession to the monument to General von Moltke, famous leader in the War of 1871, who was known for his disinclination to indulge in talking, and there deposited a wreath with the following inscription: "On the occasion of the presence in Silesia of General Ludendorff, the German officer veterans present this wreath of flowers to General Moltke the Silent."

Five-Minute Sermon At All Low Masses In Dublin Diocese

(By N. C. W. C. News Service) Dublin, Nov. 23.—At every Mass said on Sunday now in Dublin diocese there must be at least a five-minute sermon. Such is the order of Archbishop Byrne, of which the public has just had one month's experience. Previously there were sermons at the later Masses only, and then the pulpit was occupied for almost half-an-hour. Now at all the early or, as they are popularly termed, in the city "short" Masses a preacher speaks a few concentrated words of instruction between the first Gospel and the Elevation, while the celebrant continues the Holy Sacrifice at the altar. In this way everyone hearing Mass on Sunday hears a sermon too.
