French Artists Desert Profession

Paris, Jan. 24.-Lucien Jourdain, decorative artist and president of the organization known as the "Artisans of the Altar" has left his brushes and palette to enter the seminary. Since the war, in which he had a fine record, Jourdian, a Franciscan Tertiary, had become affillated with the Society of the Friends of the Poor, which gives religious instruction to the derelict members of society. However, he still continued his art and produced some important works. Two years ago he was elected president of the Artisans of the Altar.

Jourdain is not the first artist to feel the call of a religious vocation. Only last month the painter Couturier entered the Dominican Order, one of his comrades, Breton, entered the Franciscans, and another, de Forceville, entered the Society of Jesus.
