

In vain will you found missions and build schools, if you are not able to wield the offensive and defensive weapons of a loyal Catholic press.—Pope Pius X.

CATHOLIC JOURNAL

The Catholic Family Newspaper

The work of the Catholic press is to be a voice of truth, to be a voice of justice, to be a voice of the people. —Pope Pius X.

36th YEAR, NO. 39.

ESTABLISHED 1889

ROCHESTER, N. Y., FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1926.

N. C. W. C. NEWS SERVICE

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Church's Ancient Splendor Marks Eucharistic Congress

Holy Father's Blessing Delivered, Legate's And Cardinal Mundelein's Greetings Given At Magnificent Pontifical Mass 11 Cardinals Attended

Fifty-Seven Archbishops, 261 Bishops, 3 Apostolic Delegates, 17 Mitred Abbots, 500 Monsignori, 800 Priests Fill Cathedral—Crowd of 100,000 Witness Procession

(By Staff Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service)

Chicago, June 20.—With a Solemn Pontifical High Mass celebrated at Holy Name Cathedral in the presence of His Eminence Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate, and ten other Cardinals, the Twenty-Eighth International Eucharistic Congress was formally opened here at noon today. Fifty-seven Archbishops, 261 bishops, three Apostolic Delegates, seven mitred abbots, 500 monsignori and more than 800 priests, representing every continent and almost every country in the world, filled the Cathedral for the majestic ceremony.

All the richness and completeness of the Church's ritual was expended in making the Pontifical Mass a splendid ceremony as well as a sacrifice of propitiation and thanksgiving. Hundreds of the clergy and most of the laity who attended it saw in this celebration of the Holy Sacrifice a reflection of the solemnities which only Rome has known fully heretofore.

Exaltation Of Eucharist.
The tumult of the civic demonstrations with which Cardinal Bonzano and the other princes of the Church were welcomed to Chicago were hushed now. The Church replaced them with the glory and gorgeousness of her own commemoration of the spiritual significance of the event and devoted the wealth of her ceremonial to the exaltation of Christ in the Blessed Sacrament.

The Mass was made the occasion for the promulgation of the Papal Brief authorizing and blessing the Eucharistic Congress, the bestowal of the Apostolic Benediction on those who promoted and those who attended this gathering, and the delivery of formal addresses by the Cardinal Legate and Cardinal Mundelein.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas Heylen, Bishop of Namur and President of the Permanent Committee of Eucharistic Congresses, was celebrant of the Mass. Cardinal Bonzano had for his deacons of honor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. J. FitzSimmons, Rector of Holy Name Cathedral, Chicago; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael J. Lavelle, Rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York; and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Ignatius Selpel, former Chancellor of Austria. The Assistant priest of the Mass was the Very Rev. Alphonsus Pelletier, S. S. S., of New York; the deacon was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick J. Supple, Rector of St. John's Church, Roxbury, Mass., and the sub-deacon was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John F. Griffin of Holyoke, Mass.

There were four masters of ceremonies and sixteen assistants. The masters of ceremonies were Very Rev. Msgr. Dennis J. Dunne, of Chicago; the Very Rev. Msgr. Carlo Grano, Master of Pontifical ceremonies in Rome; the Rev. Francis A. Ryan, Assistant Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Chicago, and the Rev. Joseph P. Morrison, Assistant Rector of Holy Name Cathedral, Chicago. In the Sanctuary with the Cardinals, the celebrant and officers of the Mass were Msgr. Camillo Caccia Dominioni, Papal Master of Chamber; Msgr. Carlo Respighi, Prefect of Pontifical Ceremonies; Msgr. Rocco Beltrami, and the following members of the Cardinal Legate's entourage: Commendatore Nobile Pio Franchi de' Cavalieri, Chamberlain of Cape and Sword of His Holiness; Commendatore Thomas Paccelli, Consistorial Advocate; Thomas Labella, and Benvenuto Cocillo. Except for the servitors, these latter were the only laymen within the sanctuary.

As the procession entered the Cathedral, the thirty symphony players accompanied the choir of 137 seminarians who sang "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus". The few hundred laymen and laywomen in the Church were reminded of the solemnities of a great ceremony at St. Peter's in Rome. Seldom or never on this hemisphere has a religious ceremony been endowed with the magnificent setting that was provided in the Cathedral for this one.

Legate Speaks Feelingly
Cardinal Bonzano delivered his address with evident feeling. He had a manuscript, but spoke as if extemporaneously. Cardinal Mundelein's response was an eloquent explanation of the significance of the Eucharistic Congress.

Fully 50,000 persons, unable to gain admission to the Cathedral, gathered in the immediate vicinity of the edifice to listen to the Mass and the address.

Chicago, June 21.—Solemn Pontifical High Mass celebrated by the Cardinal Legate, and attended by a multitude more than 200,000 strong, including three hundred and twenty Archbishops and Bishops, and more than 5,000 priests and as many nuns, was the initial religious function of the second day of the Twenty-Eighth Eucharistic Congress.

These are but the barest facts of the magnificence and impressiveness of a ceremony which probably is without precedent in the history of the western hemisphere. But they are not all. The Mass was sung by a choir of 60,000 children, boys and girls of the parochial schools of the city. A great organ, pealing triumphantly, accompanied the little singers. Twelve Cardinals—the full number to participate in the Congress—sat on thrones to the right and left of the altar.

The setting for this glorious festival in honor of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist was the new and immense Stadium erected to commemorate America's dead in the World War. And, appropriately enough, not only the Catholic Church and the Mystery of the Eucharist, but the country in which the Congress is held was symbolized by the banners and flags which shimmered in the breeze while the Mass was in progress.

Unprecedented Crowd.
Not fewer than 200,000 people, brought together, some of them from the uttermost regions of the earth, were massed there between the four walls of that memorial. But here again the statement is wanting in completeness. Beyond those walls stood reverently for three hours to catch but a glimpse of the splendor within. In all, inside and without, were assembled a multitude equal to the population of a metropolis.

And even with this, the story is not told. The prayers of the Mass, chanted by the Cardinal Legate, the voices of the children as they sang the Kyrie, the Gloria and the Credo; the silvery notes of the trumpets as they hailed the presence of Jesus Christ at the Elevation and again at the Communion, the eloquence of Most Rev. Archbishop Michael J. Curley as he spoke to thousands in that vast amphitheatre—all these harmonies of song and music were wafted away by the radio over land and lakes to be heard by millions more of human beings in every quarter of the country.

Chicago, June 22.—Crowding Soldiers' Field even more than yesterday, when 200,000 persons attended the Mass of the Angels, Catholic women had their day at the second general meeting of the Twenty-Eighth Eucharistic Congress today. In place of the 60,000 school children who sang yesterday's Mass, 15,000 nuns and lay women today sang the Mass of the Mystical Rose in honor of the Blessed Virgin.

His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, presided over the meeting. The Most Rev. Paul Globbe, D. D., Apostolic Nuncio to the United States of Colombia, celebrated the Mass and the Most Rev. Edward J. Hanna, D. D., Archbishop of San Francisco, presided over the sermon.

"No one can see this great outpouring of faith and love—mayhap the greatest the world has ever known and not feel sure Christ still lives—Christ still reigns—Christ still conquers," Archbishop Hanna declared in opening his sermon.

Chicago, June 23.—Joseph Scott of Los Angeles spoke at the fourth general meeting of the Eucharistic Congress here today on the subject, "Christian Life Spreading Its Benefits Throughout the Commonwealth by the Virtues of Self-Denial and Self-Sacrifice."

Chicago, June 22.—Their Eminences Cardinal Dubois of Paris and Cardinal Charost of Rennes, France, attended the sectional meeting of the English-language group of the Eucharistic Congress at the Coliseum last night.

Most Rev. Archbishop McNicholas of Cincinnati, Rt. Rev. Daniel M. Jorman, Bishop of Boise; Most Rev. Archbishop Augustin Leynaud of Algiers, North Africa; Rev. Joseph twelve members of the Sacred College, O. F. M., Santa Barbara, Cal., and Rev. Callistus Stehle, O. S. B. Eucharistic Congress opened.

These were Dr. Francis Franczak, Buffalo; Valentine Briffaut, Brussels, Belgium; and Judge Martin Manton, president of the Nocturnal Adoration Society of New York.

Most Rev. Archbishop McNicholas, whose fine address was loudly applauded, was hailed many times, as he left the building, by members of the audience eager to kiss his ring. Archbishop Leynaud spoke in French. Bishop Gorman declared that the Eucharistic Congress is the greatest spiritual event in the world.

Chicago, June 22.—With the number of Catholics in Chicago today estimated at 2,250,000, this city took temporary rank as one of the largest Catholic centers in the world. A million of this total, according to Rev. L. P. Hurkmans, chairman of the housing committee, represents the delegates and visitors drawn to the city by the Eucharistic Congress.

More than 280,000 persons have been placed in private homes during the Congress by this committee alone, it is stated. Virtually every Catholic family is host to one or more relatives or visitors, the committee estimates. Many thousands of others became guests at hotels or private homes without having reported their presence here to the committee.

There are normally 1,250,000 Catholics in Chicago and its suburbs. It is known, these, with the millions who have arrived from other places, even those within short distances of Chicago, raise the Catholic population to two million and a quarter.

Chicago, June 22.—Most Rev. John J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis, was one of the principal speakers of the sectional meeting of the English language groups of the Eucharistic Congress held in the Coliseum this evening. His subject was "Christian Life Comforted by Eucharistic Communion With the Sorrows of the Passion: Sacrament of Resurrection."

Chicago, June 23.—To show their respect and regard for Catholics leading Jews of Chicago last night entertained distinguished delegates to the Eucharistic Congress at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Joseph. Mr. Joseph is the president of the B'nai Zion congregation.

Rabbi Abraham Hirschberg of Temple Shalom spoke for the hosts—the Jews.

Chicago, June 23.—Cardinal Piff's tribute to the charity of the United States at the opening of the session of the Eucharistic Congress in Soldiers' Field yesterday was delivered in German, but was later translated for the press.

Australia, which will have the International Eucharistic Congress in 1928, has manifested an unusual interest in the present gathering.

Chicago, June 22.—Governor Smith of New York was the principal guest and one of the speakers at a reception and dinner given by the Knights of St. Gregory and other prominent laymen at the Blackstone Hotel here last night. Former Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, Lo Pa Hung, a Knight of St. Gregory, who is China's lay delegate to the Eucharistic Congress, Edward L. Hearn, European Commissioner of the Knights of Columbus, Isidore Dockweiler of Los Angeles; James J. Guerin of Montreal, Judge Morgan O'Brien of New York, and Quinn O'Brien of Chicago were other guests and speakers.

Mayor Dever welcomed Governor Smith and described him as "one of the finest and biggest men in the United States." Referring to the Eucharistic Congress now assembled here, Mayor Dever said:

"Nothing like this Congress has ever before been held in America. It is a thing that represents all that is good in our American civilization. Nothing but good can come to men of all creeds from this Congress. It is an expression of the finest things in human nature."

"The reception of the Cardinal Legate and the other visiting Cardinals upon their arrival in America," said Governor Smith, was given in New York without regard to race or religion; and it was given in a way that denied any spirit of bigotry in America.

Chicago, June 22.—Twelve Cardinals, representing seven nations, sat together at a dinner given to them by Cardinal Mundelein at his residence last night. This dinner was of the occasion which brought these twelve members of the Sacred College to Chicago heard home echoes of this welcome. For when the powerful locomotive which drew the special train came slowly to a stop, another engine's whistle gave a mighty blast. In an instant, there was a great chorus of whistling in which every locomotive in the railroad yards joined most cordially. Whistles on factories took the cue and then could be heard the more distant blasts as the demonstration spread far and wide. Even on to the bottom of Lake Michigan it was carried when the boats and for steam caught the spirit and roared lustily.

Church Bells Peal Welcome.
Nearly every Catholic Church in the city had a part in the greeting. Sections had been stationed in each of them ready to sound bells and chimers. These pealed in unison with the blasts of the whistles and manifested the volume of the paeans. Even automobiles added their tribute of sound. They opened their cutouts and honked their horns rucously. From the throng at the station the cheering went on in a great wave over Grant Park and along Michigan Avenue, far north, and through the intersecting streets to the west, until it became a faint murmur in the distance.

The bells and whistles of locomotives and the strains of cars were then stifled for an instant. In the depths of quiet Cardinal Bonzano stepped to the platform. With the kind of peace he was greeted by Cardinal Mundelein, who had been waiting at the station. Then came the solemn moment of the welcome. As the word that Cardinal Bonzano had appeared, ran in a whisper through the vast multitude, men and women fell to their knees. This token of reverence marked the Catholics, but even those of other faiths showed their deference. Men uncovered, women bowed their heads.

In that immense assemblage were hundreds of nuns, some with little children from homes and asylums holding faithfully to their hands. In much variety of habit and color, these patient nuns had stood for upward of an hour. Now they were rewarded.

Chicago, June 22.—This was "Higher Education Day" at the Twenty-Eighth Eucharistic Congress and the Mass at the fourth general meeting—the last to be held at Soldiers' Field, was sung this morning by a choir of 30,000 students from Catholic high schools, colleges and seminaries. It was estimated that 200,000 persons again filled the stadium for this ceremony.

Each general meeting of the Congress has presented some new magnificence, some new marvel. This morning's meeting was no exception. His Eminence Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, presided over the meeting and addressed it. The Rt. Rev. Edward F. Hoban, D. D., Bishop Auxiliary of Chicago, celebrated the Solemn Pontifical Mass and the Most Rev. Austin Dowling, D. D., Archbishop of St. Paul, preached the sermon.

Immediately following the sermon His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, the Papal Legate to the Congress, gave the Papal Benediction.

Chicago Vies With New York In Great Demonstration Of Welcome and Respect

Note Of Reverence Noticeable In Greetings Of Two Leading Cities Of America.

Many Kneel In Street

(By Staff Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service)

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Neither Chicago nor the host of pilgrims who were here for Cardinal Bonzano's advent will soon forget the joyous welcome given to him and the other princes of the Church by whom he was accompanied. No man, woman or child anywhere in the city could have remained unaware of the Papal Legate's entry. The remotest ends of Chicago heard home echoes of this welcome. For when the powerful locomotive which drew the special train came slowly to a stop, another engine's whistle gave a mighty blast. In an instant, there was a great chorus of whistling in which every locomotive in the railroad yards joined most cordially. Whistles on factories took the cue and then could be heard the more distant blasts as the demonstration spread far and wide. Even on to the bottom of Lake Michigan it was carried when the boats and for steam caught the spirit and roared lustily.

Church Bells Peal Welcome.
Nearly every Catholic Church in the city had a part in the greeting. Sections had been stationed in each of them ready to sound bells and chimers. These pealed in unison with the blasts of the whistles and manifested the volume of the paeans. Even automobiles added their tribute of sound. They opened their cutouts and honked their horns rucously. From the throng at the station the cheering went on in a great wave over Grant Park and along Michigan Avenue, far north, and through the intersecting streets to the west, until it became a faint murmur in the distance.

The bells and whistles of locomotives and the strains of cars were then stifled for an instant. In the depths of quiet Cardinal Bonzano stepped to the platform. With the kind of peace he was greeted by Cardinal Mundelein, who had been waiting at the station. Then came the solemn moment of the welcome. As the word that Cardinal Bonzano had appeared, ran in a whisper through the vast multitude, men and women fell to their knees. This token of reverence marked the Catholics, but even those of other faiths showed their deference. Men uncovered, women bowed their heads.

In that immense assemblage were hundreds of nuns, some with little children from homes and asylums holding faithfully to their hands. In much variety of habit and color, these patient nuns had stood for upward of an hour. Now they were rewarded.

Chicago, June 22.—This was "Higher Education Day" at the Twenty-Eighth Eucharistic Congress and the Mass at the fourth general meeting—the last to be held at Soldiers' Field, was sung this morning by a choir of 30,000 students from Catholic high schools, colleges and seminaries. It was estimated that 200,000 persons again filled the stadium for this ceremony.

Each general meeting of the Congress has presented some new magnificence, some new marvel. This morning's meeting was no exception. His Eminence Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, presided over the meeting and addressed it. The Rt. Rev. Edward F. Hoban, D. D., Bishop Auxiliary of Chicago, celebrated the Solemn Pontifical Mass and the Most Rev. Austin Dowling, D. D., Archbishop of St. Paul, preached the sermon.

Immediately following the sermon His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, the Papal Legate to the Congress, gave the Papal Benediction.

Chicago Vies With New York In Great Demonstration Of Welcome and Respect

Note Of Reverence Noticeable In Greetings Of Two Leading Cities Of America.

Many Kneel In Street

(By Staff Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service)

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.

Chicago, June 17.—His Eminence John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to the twenty-eighth Eucharistic Congress, was received on his arrival here today with a demonstration in which scores of thousands of Chicagoans and visitors participated, as he stepped from the Red Train at the Illinois Central Station and later drove in an automobile through more than a mile of the city's principal thoroughfares. Sharing the acclaim with him were nine other members of the Sacred College—the largest number ever gathered together in America.