What's the Difference between a truss that holds your rupture perfectly and one that does not?

Just This

With a truss that holds perfectly you are enjoying life—the inguinal ring is gradually getting smaller and while we never promise a cure your condition will improve under our treatment. With a truss that does not hold you are in danger of strangulation, the rupture is constantly getting larger because the ring is breaking down.

The Uncle Sam Truss will hold perfectly. Come in and let us tell you about it.

Field Mass At Holy Sepulchre Draws Thousands

Rochester regiment, Knights of St. John, Sunday celebrated its tenth annual field mass at Holy Sepulchre cemetery. Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, bishop of Rochester diocese was the celebrant.

The regiment formed at the entrance to the western cemetery in dress uniform at 10:30 o'clock and, marched to a knoll near the river bank in the eastern part of the cemetery where Bishop Hickey spoke from a temporary altar. Colonel Joseph H. Wells and staff led the regiment, which includes in its ranks 1,000 men.

Included in the procession, besides Bishop Hickey, were Mgr. J. Francis O'Hern and Mgr. Andrew B. Meahon, and Fathers George F. Eckel, Mathias Hargather, William Stauder, John F. Boppel, George V. Burns and F. X. Bader.

Eight members of the staff of the regiment, who acted as a special escort to Bishop Hickey, were General F. H. Biel, Major John Diringer, Major J. J. Nunnoid, Aides-de-camp R. J. Crombach, J. Hill and William Shafer, Regimental Physician F. E. Goddard and Inspector E. Braun.

Mass was sung by the Knights of St. John choir under the direction of Frederick C. Pohl. After mass Bishop Hickey spoke of the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago. At the close of the ceremony, Regimental Bugler Ray F. Becker sounded taps.

In charge of the celebration of the mass was a committee of which Mr. Crombach was chairman. Other members were Frank Isenhardt, F. Otto Markel, E. J. Bach, Al J. Groh, William Warth, F. Braun, Harry Heddergott, Al Goibach and Wendell Mader.

First Class To Be Graduated from New Aquinas Institute

At the commencement exercises in the school chapel Sunday night, the first class of boys to be graduated from the new Aquinas Institute received diplomas and scholastic awards from Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, bishop of the Diocese of Rochester.

Fifty seniors were awarded diplomas and six scholarships and scholastic prizes were given. An oratorical contest conducted in connection with the ceremonies included addresses on "Faith as Related to the Eucharistic Congress" by three members of the graduating class.

"On no future date will there be more inspiration in commencement exercises in this chapel than we have had to-night," said Bishop Hickey in his address. "These are our first commencement exercises in the new building and on the new grounds. These addresses by members of the class, which the president of the institution has seen fit to blend into the exercises and which are occasioned by the Eucharistic Congress are timely and exceedingly inspirational."

Gregory V. Drumm, who spoke on "The Unity of Faith," was awarded the Rev. M. L. Nolan prize of $25 in gold in the oratorical contest. Rev. Walter Foery, Jeremiah G. Hickey and Dr. Leo Simpson were judges. Howard Slavik, who spoke on "The Permanence of Faith," was given second place, and William A. Lang, who spoke on "The Motive Power of Faith," took third.

Howard B. Slavik won the Alumni prize of $10 in gold for the best contribution to the Aerie, the school publication, and Howard Miller won the Christian Doctrine prize, $5 in gold.

Scholarships to Niagara University, St. Bonaventure's College and Villanova College were awarded on the basis of a competitive examination given on May 14th. Charles Callahan will be given first choice of one of the three scholarships, Gregory Drumm will be given second choice and Charles Becker will be given the third.

Rev. William Byrne, president of the institute, gave the welcoming address and introduced Bishop Hickey who presented the diplomas.

Nazareth Academy Graduation Exercises 100 Girls Receive Diplomas

Monday evening one hundred young women received diplomas at Nazareth Academy. A large number won special honors and these also were distributed to underclass girls who had won particular awards.

In the absence from the city of Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, D. D., bishop of Rochester, Rev. William Ryan, professor of English in St. Bernard's Seminary, made the address. Miss Adelaide M. Biesenbach gave the valedictory, and Miss Kathryn E. Tyrrell the salutatory. Miss Biesenbach won the scholarship medal of the senior class awarded for the highest average in the four-year course. Both the young graduates are entitled to college-entrance diplomas.

Before Father Ryan was presented, Rev. John M. Sellinger read a telegram from Bishop Hickey to Sister Marcella, principal, congratulating the faculty and class of 1926 and expressing his regret at not being present, with cordial greetings.

In connection with her valedictory Miss Biesenbach referred to the city-wide sorrow over the death of Mayor Van Zandt.

"But, I am sure that the Mayor would want us to rejoice to-night on the occasion of one hundred young women going out eager for service in the city that he loved," she said. The young valedictorian chose as her theme, "The Blessedness of Service."

"We are suffering from an unprecedented rebellion against authority, a heretofore unknown aversion to labor, a selfishness that results in man's inhumanity to man," said Father Ryan, adding "What are these young women carrying out with them into a world of these conditions and of troubles?"

After saying that they had all the knowledge consistent with their age and situation in life at present, he paid a high tribute to the sisters who form the faculty at Nazareth. He said he hoped that he wouldn't be thought narrow if he said that Catholic education was the broadest in the world, as it ministered "to the needs of the whole man or woman; physical, mental and spiritual; fitting him or her not only for the present world but for one of whose dimensions and possibilities man had no conception."

Nazareth Orchestra played an overture and the organ was heard while the diplomas were being awarded, during the professional and recreational of the graduates. The three-part chorus of the school sang "Spring's Awakening" by Schuett, and the prayer from "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Father Sellinger announced the following awards, in addition to that for highest average in scholarship won by Miss Biesenbach: A medal for proficiency in the French language, denoted by the French Alliance, merited by Dorothy Mattea.

The Father Kierman Scholarship, established and maintained by the Nazareth Alumnae Association, and competed for by the eighth grade girls of the parochial schools of the city, won by Dolores Toole of the Sacred Heart School.

"The Reverend Mother Agnes Medal for church history, drawn for by twenty-nine members of the class of 1926, obtained by Marion Scheuer.

A gold medal for pupils obtaining 100 per cent. in New Testament studies, merited and drawn for by fifty-nine members of the junior class and obtained by Helen DeVany.

A gold medal for Christian doctrine, merited and drawn for by sixty members of the sophomore class, and obtained by Mildred Anna.

A gold medal for Christian doctrine, merited and drawn for by fifty-eight members of the freshman class and obtained by Helen Boback.

The Excellence Medal, merited and drawn for by twenty-nine members of the classes and the following members of the class of 1926: Adelaide Biesenbach, Edna Hetsler, Monica Kimpson, Esther Merklinger, Helen McEneaney, Alberta Small, Alberta Magin.
