Half-Million Left By Priest For New Detroit Cathedral

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

Detroit, Aug. 13.—Approximately $500,000 for the building of the proposed cathedral in Detroit is bequeathed to Bishop Michael J. Gallagher by the will of the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. James G. Doherty, for many years rector of St. Vincent de Paul's Church here. The will was admitted to probate recently.

Specific bequests to benevolent organizations of the diocese total nearly $100,000, and other bequests to relatives and friends in the clergy raise this amount to about $125,000. Two other large bequests of $25,000 each go to St. Mary's Academy, of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart, at Monroe, Mich., and the University of Detroit.

Of four bequests of $10,000 each, one goes to Bishop Gallagher for distribution among priests engaged in foreign missionary work, the home for the aged of the Little Sisters of the Poor, the Orphan Boys' Home, and St. Vincent de Paul Orphan Asylum.

To his sister, Mrs. Margaret Carlon, of County Donegal, Ireland, Msgr. Doherty left $10,000, and to his nephews, the Rev. James Carlon and Edward Carlon, $1,000 and $4,000 respectively. The will also leaves $2,000 to the Rev. Henry McCabe, and $5,000 to the Rev. Maurice Chawke, of Royal Oak, Mich. Thomas F. Chawke is executor of the estate.

The new cathedral, which will be in the Gothic style of architecture, will be 480 feet long by 120 feet wide with the transepts 180 feet wide. Three towers will rise 260 feet. The seating capacity is to be approximately 3,500. The edifice is expected to cost several million dollars.

The site of the cathedral is at Webb Avenue and La Salle Boulevard, about 5 miles from the downtown business district and directly opposite the Roosevelt group of public schools which is being erected at a cost of more than ten million dollars. The two large blocks on which the cathedral will stand were acquired in 1922 when Bishop Gallagher designated the new Visitation parish as the future cathedral parish.

St. Mary's parishioners do well to honor Father FitzSimons, their zealous pastor. No son of the Church is more loyal or devoted to his flock.

Eucharistic Congress Official Souvenir Book Published

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

The official Souvenir Book of the XXVIII International Eucharistic Congress is strikingly beautiful.

The cover is designed in the fashion of a tenth century Missal. Its colors are in cardinal red, black, blue and gold, the combination making a striking effect.

The Book is a Souvenir of the Congress and is frankly such in its motif. There are three excellent reproductions of original pen-sketches of Our Holy Father, Cardinal Bonzano and Cardinal Mundelein. Then follow excellent photographs of Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, Cardinal Hayes of New York, Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia and the Apostolic Delegate, Archbishop Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi; Bishop Heylen of Namur, in Belgium, Cardinal Vanuetelli, Bishop Hoban of Chicago, the President of the gathering of the Chicago, Monsignor Quille who was the General Secretary of the Congress.

Following these are photos of the members of the Executive committee of the Chicago Congress and the Cardinals from Ireland, France, Germany, Austria and Hungary.

The book is splendidly illustrated with scenes of importance to the Chicago assembly—the Cathedral, the Coliseum, the huge Stadium of Soldiers' Field in Grant Park where the greatest crowd ever to be assembled on this continent gathered during the days of the Congress; the altar erected in this Stadium, the Municipal Pier where the great art exhibit was held; the Memorial Chapel at Mundelein and a magnificent air-plane view of the seminary grounds where almost 1,000,000 people gathered on the closing days of the Congress to kneel in the rain and mud while the procession, with the Blessed Eucharist, wound its way about the beautiful St. Mary's lake.

There are a number of other pictures of interest in connection with the Congress and not a few excellent views of the city of Chicago which opened wide its gates to welcome the Congressists.

The text of the book is handsomely illustrated with illuminated letters, in the style of early missals and the pages are done with a border in three colors.

The Book contains the story, brief but complete of the arrangements for the great Congress at Chicago with certain references to the Congresses that preceded it. A short but comprehensive History of the Catholic Church in Chicago and its marvelous growth is included in the book and then the full and complete official program of the Congress is set forth in detail.

This Book is the only official Souvenir Book of the XXVIII International Eucharistic Congress and, because of its excellent artistic work, its beauty and the attractiveness of its execution makes a very substantial contribution to the literature of the Eucharistic Congress movement. It is a Book that ought to be treasured and marks an event which has been characterized by Cardinal Hayes of New York—as "The most important event in the History of the Catholic Church in the United States."

From the press despatches, the Holy Father is greatly pleased with the successful gathering of the Eucharistic Congress of 1926 in Chicago.

BISHOP LEONARD WOULD "DELIVER" METHODIST VOTE

Round Lake, N. Y., August 10.—Reading Governor Smith of New York out of the presidential race because of his religion and opposing Senator Wadsworth of New York because he is a "wet," Bishop Adna W. Leonard of Buffalo, General Superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church for Northern and Western New York, Sunday called upon Methodism to mobilize and get voters to the polls.

Bishop Leonard was speaking to those who had gathered for religious worship in connection with the citizenship conference, which had been meeting here for three days.

The highest official of his Church in this territory, which comprises four conferences and is said to embrace about half of the Republican vote of the State, Bishop Leonard said in part:

"I am 100 per cent Anglo-Saxon. We are engulfed in a materialism that threatens our national life. But we never will surrender our priceless American heritage to the hands of the foreigners who trample on our flag, flout the Constitution and disregard our well-organized plan of government.

"Our immigration laws must be enforced against those Latin races who would flock to this country. The Anglo-Saxons of this country will see that the Latin ideals do not obtain, but instead that the ideals of Christianity shall continue to prevail. There is an America outside of New York. No Governor, be he a nullificationist or not, can kiss a Papal ring and ever get within gunshot of the White House. No nullification Governor can ever become the leader of the people."

Denounces Senator Wadsworth. After this pointed attack and utter elimination of Governor Smith, who is a Democrat, Bishop Leonard turned his attention to Senator Wadsworth, who is a Republican. He charged Senator Wadsworth with having failed to live up to the promises of his party platform and declared that women in the employ of the government had been intimidated into voting for Senator Wadsworth, he pronounced it "one of the crying shames of the Republican party."

"I want you," he said, "to take the printed statement of the W.C.T.U., showing the record of Mr. Wadsworth and read it and ask before God, can I support a man who is as wet as the Pacific Ocean and who stands against the Constitution and the flag? No loyal Methodist in view of the action taken by the last general conference, can be loyal to the Church and to Senator Wadsworth at the same time.

"I believe the united Church, together with the forces related to the Church, can and will defeat Mr. Wadsworth. If the wets feel this is but an easy effort and simply a protest they are wrong. We will achieve our goal. We are in this fight to win."

Bishop Leonard closed by sounding a call for mobilization within the Church, to include the young peoples' societies, groups who would get voters to the polls. He referred to the battle for the defeat of Senator Wadsworth as a "holy fight" and proclaimed the churches allied in the movement to support the Eighteenth Amendment the "keepers of the Constitution, the flag of American citizenship."

Butler Reprimands Intolerant Bishop's Speech

New York, August 10.—Bishop Leonard of the Methodist Church, when he declared Sunday that "no Governor can kiss a Papal ring and ever get within gunshot of the White House" and attacked Senator Wadsworth for opposing the Eighteenth Amendment uttered words which are "intemperate, un-Christian and un-American," Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, asserted in a reply to the minister recently.

Dr. Butler declared the bishop's statement to be an evidence of the kind of "fight that is before those of us who propose to promote real rather than nominal temperance, to maintain a high standard of Christian morals and Christian conduct, and to protect at all costs the fundamental principles of American government and American life."

He continued: "Here is a man holding high office in a Christian church and proclaiming himself to be 100 per cent Anglo-Saxon who in this carefully studied public utterance contradicts nearly all of Christ's precepts of conduct and proceeds to declare open war on that fundamental principle of American life which establishes absolute freedom of religious belief and religious worship and the complete separation of church and state.

"Men and women of New York and of the Nation should read and ponder this speech by Bishop Leonard. It is a violent attack upon almost everything a straight-thinking American and a Christian holds most dear."

Time is nearing when educational institutions reopen for the fall term. There is no excuse in Rochester for Catholic parents not to send their children to a Catholic school.

Free speech is one of God's greatest blessings. We enjoy it in the United States but our Mexican brothers are denied it.

EIGHTH WEEK AT CLIFF HAVEN

In his sermon at the Catholic Summer School Sunday morning, Rev. Laurence W. Smith, S.J., of New York spoke most eloquently on the Blessed Virgin Mary. "If there is anything of respect, of dignity, of sacredness in womanhood," said Father Smith "the finger of history points to Mary." That respect, dignity and sacredness was not there before. Woman was a chattel little better than a dog. She was used for her charms. Her master had the power of life and death over her. That was the respect given womanhood without Mary.

The preacher declared that woman has always been, in Christian ideals, the greatest natural inspiration in man's life. She has given us the chivalry that makes civilization what it is. At the present time we find many who have turned away from Mary, with the result that the sacredness of womanhood has been lost. Woman has lost respect for herself, and man has lost respect for womanhood. She doesn't want to be respected any longer. She prefers to step down and to dance the dance of death. In these days of the absence of chivalry, the breaking down of the greatest gift that civilization has had, Father Smith urged all to call upon Mary on this her feast day—the glorification of her body, the glorification of her motherhood.

Presidents of Cliff Haven assembled in the afternoon to the number of over 2000 to take part in the procession held in honor of the Feast of the Assumption. The procession each year is growing in numbers as well as in impressiveness, and it has been eagerly awaited for event at the Catholic Summer School. The procession takes the form of a visit to the tomb of the Virgin Mary. On the way the people recite the various incidents of the life of the Blessed Mother. These are found in the rosary which is recited and the hymns that are sung.

The credit for the beauty and impressiveness of the ceremonies are in large measure due to the Rev. Arthur A. Hughes of Rochester, master of ceremonies. Mr. Charles A. Webber of Brooklyn who was in charge of the Tableau, and Miss Margaret Durin of Brooklyn who trained the children.

During the week five morning lectures were delivered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Hugh T. Henry of Catholic University, on James Russell Lowell.

The Third Week of the Four Weeks' Sociological course was given by Dr. John A. Lapp director of the Department of Social Action, National Catholic Welfare Conference. His lectures were on the subject "Poverty at the Gateway."

Four evening lectures on "Some Aspects of Modern Prose and Verse (The Champlain Assembly Association Course) were delivered by Brother A. Ambrose of Manhattan College.

On Wednesday evening, Charles A. McMahon, Editor of the Bulletin of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, director of the N.C.W.C. Motion Picture Bureau and Screen Critic of the N.C.W.C. News Service, gave a very instructive and interesting talk on "Thirty Years of the Films." The talk was supplemented by a one hour program of carefully selected films.

The 8 o'clock mass Sunday morning was said for the late Warren E. Mosher, founder and first Secretary of the Catholic Summer School. Mrs. Warren E. Mosher, the Misses Ruth and Isabel Mosher, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McCabe were present at the mass.

The Annual concert of the Catholic Summer School took place at the Auditorium, before a capacity audience. Miss Mildred Delma showed a fine understanding of her songs. Her sweet soprano voice was captivating. Miss Josephine Emerson of New York gave violin selections. Her fingerings was neat and her tones broad and sweet. Miss Agnes Clune Quinlan, Musical director at the Summer School held the audience enthralled from the moment her trained fingers struck the keys. She is a piano player of extraordinary ability. The program was brought to a close by John Carroll, Mr. Carroll's deep, rich and sympathetic baritone voice held the audience from the start. His incomparable rendition of a group of Irish songs showed an understanding and a depth of feeling that is found only in the accomplished artist.

Catholic Physician, Crippled By X-Ray, Honored By France

Paris, Aug. 6.—The Minister of Labor has conferred the rosette of Officer of the Legion of Honor upon Dr. Lobligeois, head of the radiographic service of one of the big Paris hospitals, and for thirty years engaged in this line of work. He has suffered cruelly as a result of the constant use of X-rays. He has never been willing to interrupt his work, and a few days ago he was forced to submit to the amputation of this right arm.

Dr. Lobligeois, a former member of the General Committee of the Catholic Youth Association, is one of the directors of the Lannoe Conference, a group of Catholic physicians.

The last victim whose name was inscribed on the list of martyrs to the cause of this branch of science was Abbe Taulaigne, who died a few weeks ago as the result of mutilations caused by his scientific research.

Sen. David Reed Scores Bigotry Of M. E. Bishop

Protestant Legislation Also Condemns Attack on Gov. Smith's Religious Faith.

New York, August 13.—Prominent public figures continue vehemently to condemn Bishop Adna W. Leonard, general superintendent of Northern and Western Methodist Episcopal Conferences, who pronounced Governor Smith's political doom, because of his religion, and called upon Methodism in New York to organize politically for the defeat of Senator Wadsworth because he is a "wet."

State Senator William L. Love of Brooklyn, a Democrat, denounced the Bishop from radio station WJCA and Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, a Republican, just prior to sailing for Europe, indorsed the condemnation given by President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, also a Republican, and added a few words of his own.

"As a Protestant and a Mason," Senator Love declared, "I want to say that I regard Bishop Leonard's un-American attack on the Governor of the State as one of the most disgraceful and bigoted statements that I ever have heard, and in this I am voicing the opinion not only of myself but of countless thousands of Masons and Protestants and persons of all denominations who are real 100 per cent Americans and not the pseudo kind like the Bishop, who takes his place with the Pharisees of old and shouts from the housetops and boasts of Americanism that he does not possess."

The Senator said that "this brazen attack by Bishop Leonard upon the principles of the Constitution of the United States" was the outstanding political event of the week.

"By his own words he has shown himself incapable of appreciating and assimilating the fundamental principles of our Constitution," Senator Love declared.

Senator Reed explained that he had not examined Dr. Butler's statement in detail "but from what I know of it, it exactly expresses my own sentiments. . . . As I see it, our ancestors crossed a rather wide ocean to get away from just that sort of idea. This country was founded on the principles of tolerance, and particularly of religious tolerance. It seems to me very unfortunate that there should be an outburst of intolerance just now, especially when it comes from a man who calls himself a Christian."

Philadelphia Club Seeks To Legalize Sunday Ball Games

Philadelphia, Aug. 11.—Steps toward the sanctioning of Sunday baseball in Philadelphia and Camden have been taken in the last few days.

Charles G. Gartling, attorney for the Athletics, said that his club is planning a test game here to bring out the attitude of the authorities on the subject. It is proposed that it be played August 22. Mayor Kendrick wants the Sunday baseball advocates to show that the games would be legal, he has let it be known.

In Camden the Commissioners made a check-up of 15,000 petitions for Sunday games and found that they had been signed by more than half the electors who cast ballots at the last election. When Mayor King asked if there was anyone present at the meeting who represented the Camden Ministerial Union or any other body opposing Sunday baseball, there was no response. It is expected that an ordinance will be voted on soon.

Remains Of Monks Buried 800 Years Found Near Verdun

Paris, Aug. 6.—During the grading done to level the emplacement for the monument to be erected at Verdun in memory of the famous Battle of Verdun, the workmen uncovered seven sarcophagi containing bones. Certain indications, such as a gold stole, made it possible to identify the remains as those of monks of the Collegial of the Madeleine, which existed there in the eleventh century.
