

The Catholic Journal

Published Every Friday At
No. 113 North Water Street
By The Catholic Journal Publishing Company, Rochester, N. Y.

If the paper is not received promptly notify the office.

Report without delay change of address giving both old and new.

Communications solicited from all Catholics accompanied in every instance by the name of the author. Name of contributor withheld if desired.

Pay no money to agents unless they have credentials signed by us up to date.

Remittances may be made at our own risk either by draft, express money order, post office money order or registered letter addressed E. J. Ryan, Business Manager. Money sent in any other way is at the risk of the person sending it.

Discontinuances — The JOURNAL will be sent to every subscriber until ordered stopped and all arrearages are paid up. The only legal method of stopping a paper is by paying all arrearages.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1926.

TELEPHONE, MAIN 1567.

Entered as second class mail matter.

Thirty-Seventh Year

With this issue the Catholic Journal enters upon its thirty-seventh year of journalistic life. This is a long time to think about yet the days have flown when we look back to the day when three young men, one a fledgling reporter, the other two journeyman printers of the old hand-type setting school, conceived the idea of establishing a Catholic weekly in the Diocese of Rochester to be published and printed in Rochester.

Filled with the vim and enthusiasm of youth, these young men counted no costs; studied no hazards; had no qualms as to how the enterprise was to be financed; whether the advertisers would extend patronage or the Catholics would be subscribers. They had the optimism of a Chauncey M. Depew, the courage of a Peter the Hermit, the daring of the Crusader.

Bishop McQuaid's Advice.

Having decided to launch the new Catholic paper they proceeded to the episcopal residence on Frank street to give the Bishop the important news. To most men, Bishop McQuaid appeared an austere, unapproachable man but he possessed a keen sense of humor and that sense of humor was uppermost as his young callers unfolded their mission.

Ironically, he congratulated them upon their initiative. Then he approached the practical side. Adroitly questioning, he drew forth that none of the three had any theological training beyond that acquired as altar boys because this was before St. Bernard's Seminary, almost before St. Andrew's. Only two of the three could lay claim to so much. The third was a recent convert to the Faith and he had much to learn. The Bishop elicited the information that the entire capital the three possessed was boundless enthusiasm plus a fairly equipped job printing plant, the property of one of them. He pointed out the pitfalls—this did not discourage them. Finally the good Bishop—he was always a friend of young men—said: "If you can publish a Catholic newspaper well and good. There are Catholic magazines to teach and uphold orthodoxy. I cannot permit my episcopal approval at your masthead because that would mean submission to me of the entire contents of every issue which would be impracticable both for you and for me. But you will have my best wishes and my advice is ever at your disposal."

The Start Is Made.

And so Edward J. Ryan, William A. Marakle and Thomas H. Donovan started the Catholic Journal in 1889. Mr. Marakle was editor and reporter; Mr.

Donovan was associate editor and Mr. Ryan was general manager and publisher. The first issues were of four small pages.

It was rosy at first. Everybody wished us well. Not a few came forward with subscriptions—many of them full paid. The advertising patronage was encouraging. But then there were dark days. Paper bills had to be met, the type foundry called for their money. Subscriptions came in more slowly and advertisers did not increase their contracts.

But the three carried on. After a while it was seen that three could not continue on the pay roll and Mr. Marakle dropped out of active editorial control. He has made a name in editorial and fraternal work. For a number of years Mr. Ryan and Mr. Donovan continued the publication. Then Mr. Donovan retired to become the Albany representative of the Catholic Publishing Company of Syracuse. From that time to the present Mr. Ryan has been the proprietor and publisher.

Perserverance and pluck held old friends and brought in new ones. Advertisers came to see that the Catholic Journal is of value as an advertising medium and their patronage is constant and increasing every year. This, in great part, is due to our policy of expending, every year, a large part of the increased revenues, in betterment of the paper until today it can truthfully be termed a real diocesan weekly Catholic newspaper. Its participation in the splendid news service of the National Catholic Welfare Service keeps its subscribers constantly in touch with the important Catholic news of the world, especially in all the United States.

Files A History Of Diocese.

The files of the Catholic Journal constitute a miniature but complete history of the Diocese of Rochester since 1889. We have chronicled the institution of new parishes, the opening of St. Bernard's Seminary and the new St. Andrew's Seminary; Nazareth Academy and College; Aquinas Institute and the other Catholic institutions. We have chronicled the institution and the growth of the Knights of Columbus in this Diocese. Our files chronicle the work and labors of the great first Bishop of Rochester and of his equally great successor. The files of the Catholic Journal recall such pillars of the Church as Fathers O'Hare, Lambert, Stewart, De Regge, McManus, Kiernan, O'Neil, Sinclair, Pascalar, Oberholzer, Leary, Murphy, the first Bishop of Cebu, Rt. Rev. Thomas A. Hendrick; the work here of Archbishop Hanna, then Rev. Dr. Edward J. Hanna, professor in St. Bernard's Seminary; Monsignors Hartley and Meehan, the guiding inspiration of St. Bernard's and many others now gone to their last reward.

Noted Churchmen.

Our files also recall such great prelates as Cardinal McCloskey, Archbishop John Williams of Boston—whose annual vacations were spent at Hemlock Lake with Bishop McQuaid, Archbishops Corrigan and Farley, of New York—the latter officiated at the diamond jubilee of St. Patrick's Cathedral; Cardinal Gasquet who as Abbe Gasquet visited St. Bernard's Seminary; Cardinal Logue, of Ireland; Archbishop John Ireland, who was here at Bishop McQuaid's funeral; Bishop McDevitt, of Pennsylvania who as Father McDevitt, preached the sermon at Bishop McQuaid's funeral; Bishops Ryan, Quigley, Burke, Wadhams, Conroy, Gilmore, Zardetti and Wigger, who were here when St. Michael's Church was dedicated; every apostolic delegate since Monsignor Satali paid visits to Rochester and these visits were duly chronicled in the Catholic Journal.

And memories of the early Catholic laymen such as Patrick Barry, William Purcell, Charles Burke, Daniel B. Murphy, T. J. Devine, William C. Barry, A. B. Hone, James Fee, Andrew Kirley, John Fahy, and scores of others who could be depended upon to hold up the hands of Bishop and priests.

March Of Progress.

The history of the Catholic Journal includes the advent of the telephone, the electric light, the automobile, the linotype, the kodak, automatic railway signals, the typewriter, the radio, and scores of other advanced mechanical ideas and devices.

The Catholic Journal has seen the United States participate in two wars—the Spanish-American and the great World War. Its files chronicle the part played by domestic and foreign Catholics in these great conflicts.

For the last few years it has been the custom of the Catholic Journal to commemorate its anniversaries by publication of a special number. That of 1926 is just off the press and will be mailed to our subscribers next Friday. It constitutes an annual Calendar Number, 68 pages in all, containing the Feast and Fast Days of the coming year; information and special pictures of the great Eucharistic Congress held in June; pictures of the new Catholic Churches in Rochester and other special articles of interest to our readers.

Promise For the Future.

With heartfelt gratitude to all our many friends who have made the paper what it is, we enter upon our thirty-seventh year with renewed enthusiasm and optimism. We hope to merit the approval of our old acquaintances and to acquire many new ones. This year, as in past years, we shall endeavor to make the Catholic Journal a still better and more representative Catholic Diocesan Weekly.

Onward, upward, along the road of real progress shall be our motto.

Among other letters recently received by the editor are the following:

26 Broadway
New York

The Editor,
The Catholic Journal,
Rochester, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—
I have noted in your issue of July 16th, the editorial "John D. Rockefeller", which you have quoted from the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle, adding thereto the statement that your paper coincides in the thought.

In that editorial I was delighted to read the following:
"At his eighty-seventh milestone on the road through this world John D. Rockefeller well can afford to regard with satisfaction the work that he has accomplished, for his has been a life of service, of earnest endeavor and practical good resulting in conferring immense benefits on humanity and in making the world a better place in which to dwell."

It gives my Father pleasure to put funds he has accumulated to such use that they are likely to be of benefit to the maximum number of people. Words of encouragement such as these you have used are appreciated not only by him, but also by the other men and women who are carrying on the work of the foundations he has established.

Many thanks,
Very truly,
John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

County Court Chambers
Rochester, New York
Frederick L. Dutcher
County Judge

The Catholic Journal Pub. Co.
Gentlemen:—
Enclosed please find check to pay for subscription for Catholic Journal from December 26, 1925 to December 26, 1930.

I have the pleasure to remain,
Very truly yours,
Frederick L. Dutcher.

Catholic Journal,
Rochester, N. Y.
Dear Sir:—
I am enclosing M.O. for $2.00 for your valuable paper. Please send me receipt.

Respectfully,
Mrs. W. F. Harvey,
Lima, New York.

166 No. Fulton St.
Auburn, New York

Mr. E. J. Ryan, Business Manager,
Dear Sir:—
Enclosed please find check for subscription to the Catholic newspaper, (weekly). My neighbor let me take her copy to read and I certainly enjoyed reading the paper and have decided to become a subscriber.
Thanking you in advance,
I am, yours truly,
Mrs. Emma J. Baier.

ROME CHURCH GIVEN ORGAN BY MUSSOLINI

Rome, Sept. 23.—Premier Mussolini has presented a new organ to the Pantheon, one of Rome's most famous Churches, wherein are the tombs of several Italian sovereigns as well as that of the artist Raphael. The new instrument which takes the place of a moveable organ hitherto in use, has been so constructed that not even the pipes are visible from the interior, and its tone is said to be the richest in the world. The invisible arrangement was made in order not to mar the beauty of the architecture of this temple, which is noted as the most perfect specimen in the city. The Pantheon, or "temple of all the gods" was first erected in 27 B. C. and since the year 608 A. D. has been used as Christian Church.

BARGAINS

Beautiful
New Fall-Winter
COATS
MODERATELY PRICED
Ladies,
Misses, Children's

BOY'S CLOTHING
Very Reasonably
Priced, Including Suits and O'Coats

DONOHUE'S
528-32 STATE STREET
Best Place in City to Buy
Dry Goods

HOUSE-HUNTING
is made easier by the Garfield
Daily Rental Bulletin — it saves time and expense. If you are looking for a house, flat or apartment secure our Rental Guide first.

C. F. GARFIELD
REAL ESTATE COMPANY
REALTORS

Jos. P. Metzinger
Painting, Decorating and Paperhanging
904 Clinton Ave. South
Stone 2075-J

Today is the best time to start your bank account

Regular deposits of one dollar or more will keep it growing.

Monroe County Savings Bank
35 STATE STREET
Open Saturday Evenings

RAY W. SHERMAN and HARRIET K. SHERMAN
CHIROPRACTORS
OFFICE HOURS
2 to 4 and 6 to 8 P. M. 10 to 12 A. M. By Appointment
Saturday and Sunday by Appointment
655 Main St. West, cor. Willowbank Pl. Phone Genesee 702

Invest in Rest
A superior bedstead building, science of chemistry.

Will not stretch or lump.
Made of prime Japara Kapoc.
Ask Your Dealer
Price  $34.00

TREADEASY

Various Patterns as straps or Oxford in Black, Tan, Patent or Satin.
$6.50
G. BAREIS & SON
828 Joseph Ave.

What's the Difference between a truss that holds your rupture perfectly and one that does not?
—Just This—
With a truss that holds perfectly you are enjoying life—the Inguinal Ring is gradually getting smaller and while we never promise a cure your condition will improve under our treatment. With a truss that does not hold you are in danger of strangulation, the rupture is constantly getting larger because the Ring is breaking down.

The Uncle Sam Truss will hold perfectly. Come in and let us tell you about it.
George R. Fuller Co.
230 ANDREWS STREET
Exclusive Representatives for Rochester and vicinity

"YOUR BAKER"
JOHN FOUQUET, Prop.
All Kinds of Baked Goods
French Pastry and Wedding Cakes To Order
Saturday all Kinds Kuchen Salads
888 Joseph Ave. Cor. Ludwig Pl.
ROCHESTER, N. Y.
Formerly with Seels', Edwards', and Duffy-Powers.

IF YOU DON'T!
Bring Your Shoes To Us
WE BOTH LOSE

PHONE Main 2770
ROBERTSON & SONS
Shoe Repairers
40 North Water St.

Bartholomay
SERVICE QUALITY
MAIN 6523
CREAM TOP MILK

CALL A DOLLAR TAXI
Cadillac or Packard
MAIN 1721