

Gifts Of Clothing To Immigrant Poor Asked By N. C. W. C.

New York, Nov. 26.—Welfare workers at Ellis Island, the great immigrant gateway to America, try to keep on hand a supply of old clothing of all kinds to give to needy newcomers who are inadequately clothed.

Accordingly, the N. C. W. C. Bureau of Immigration welfare workers have announced a nationwide appeal among Catholics for all sorts of clothing. They are receivable, says the announcement, at the address: N. C. W. C. Representative, Social Service Room, Ellis Island, N. Y. A particular plea is being made for men's clothing of every kind.

It is pointed out that the usefulness of the clothing comes in cases where immigrants have been held up for weeks for investigation or because of illness. In these circumstances, their small savings quickly disappear and they are unable to help themselves. In other instances immigrants come from warm climates and thoughtlessly provide themselves with no warm clothing. They cannot be sent into their new country shivering from the cold; hence overcoats are sorely needed.

Police Of London Attend High Mass At Westminster

London, Nov. 20.—London's police chiefs attended solemn Requiem Mass at Westminster Cathedral recently for the Catholic members of the metropolitan and city police forces who died in the world war. Distinguished officers present included the Commissioner of the Metropolitan police, the Commissioner of City of London police, the Deputy Commissioner of the Metropolitan police and the Assistant Deputy Commissioner, all non-Catholics, besides Sir E. R. Henry, a Catholic who was Commissioner of the Metropolitan police from 1908 to 1918.

The commissioners gave permission for the wearing of uniforms at this service, and the police assembled in the cathedral grounds and marched to Mass headed by a police band. At the elevation police trumpeters sounded a fanfare, and after the absolution they gave "The Last Post."

Notre Dame Squad Gets Big Welcome

Notre Dame's conquering football team, following their defeat of the Army eleven before 70,000 spectators in New York, received a great ovation on their arrival home.

Nearly 3,000 students arose at 4:30 in the morning and marched three miles in a downpour to great Coach Rockne and his players at the depot. The Oliver hotel was turned over to the students for their celebration and a holiday was declared by the school.

Notre Dame fans are looking at the world through rose-colored glasses. Although the team has three more games to play, its followers are hopeful of another national championship. Sport writers and football officials agree that if the "Fighting Irish" dispose of Drake, Carnegie Tech. and Southern California in their remaining contests they are entitled to the honor. South Bend today looms up as the football capital of America.

French Cathedral Fund Gets $5,150 From N. Y. Broker

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

Paris, Nov. 20.—As a gift from his wife on their wedding anniversary, Nov. 6, Arthur Sachs, of the New York Stock Exchange firm of Goldman, Sachs and Company, has presented a check of 150,000 francs ($5,150) to the French Historical Monuments Fund for restoration of parts of the Chartres Cathedral, according to an announcement made by the Director of Beaux Arts, here.

During a recent visit to Chartres Mr. Sachs heard from M. Houvet, custodian of the cathedral, of the bad condition of some parts of the famous structure and thus conceived the idea of surprising his wife and helping France by a donation to aid the cathedral.

Maynooth College Has New Foundation

Dublin, Nov. 22.—At a conferring of degrees in Maynooth College the Rt. Rev. Monsignor McCaffrey announced the foundation of a chair of education in the college. The object of the foundation is to prepare some of the younger priests to teach in the diocesan colleges.

Dr. McCaffrey said that Maynooth had a charter to confer degrees in Philosophy, Theology and Canon Law, altogether apart from the connection of the college with the National University of Ireland. It is on these subjects, naturally, that the principal studies of the college are concentrated. The Dunboyne establishment in Maynooth is expressly maintained by the Bishops of Ireland for these students.

Under the new secondary system, schools must employ teachers who have degrees in education in order to obtain the per capita grants from the Department of Education.

Weekly Calendar Of Feast Days

Sunday, Dec. 5.—St. Sabas, Abbot, one of the most renowned patriarchs of the monks of Palestine, was born in the year 439, near Caesarea. When there was a dispute among his relatives as to the administration of his estate, he, still young, forsook the world and entered a monastery. He became superior-general of all the anchorites of Palestine and died in 532 at the age of 94 years.

Monday, Dec. 6.—St. Nicholas of Bari, the patron Saint of Russia, was born towards the end of the third century. His uncle, Archbishop of Myra, ordained him. Throughout his life he retained the bright and guileless manners of his early years and showed himself the special protector of the innocent and the wronged. He died in 342 and his relics were transferred in 1807 to Bari, Italy, and there, after 15 centuries, "the manna of St. Nicholas" still flows from his bones and heals all kinds of sick.

Tuesday, Dec. 7.—St. Ambrose, Bishop of noble family, was governor of Milan in 374, when a bishop was to be chosen for that great see. As the Arian heretics were many and fierce, he was present to preserve order during the election. Though only a catechumen he was chosen by acclamation and in spite of his unwillingness was baptized and consecrated. He was untiring in his labors, full of sympathy and charity, gentle and condescending in indifferent things, but inflexible in matters of principle. He fearlessly opposed impious plots of the Empress Justina. He was friend and consoler of St. Monica in all her sorrows and in 387 had the joy of admitting to the Church her son, St. Augustine.

Wednesday, Dec. 8.—The Feast of the Immaculate Conception. On this day, so dear to every Catholic heart, we celebrate, in the first place, the moment in which Almighty God, showed Mary, through the distance of ages, to our first parents as the Virgin Mother of the divine Redeemer, the woman destined to crush the head of the serpent. Secondly, we are called upon to celebrate that ever-memorable day, the Eighth of December, 1854, which raised the Immaculate Conception of Our Blessed Lady from a pious belief to the dignity of a dogma of the Infallible Church, causing universal joy among the faithful.

Thursday, Dec. 9.—St. Leocadia, Virgin, Martyr, was a native of Toledo and was apprehended by an order of Diocletian in 304. Hearing of the martyrdom of St. Eulalia, she prayed that God would not prolong her exile, but unite her speedily with her holy friend in His glory. She expired in prison.

Friday, Dec. 10.—St. Eulalia, Virgin, Martyr, was a native of Merida, Spain. When but 12 years old, she reproached the cruel judge Diocletian for attempting to destroy souls by compelling them to renounce the only true God. She threw down the idol when commanded to adore it. She suffered horrible torture and finally died.

Saturday, Dec. 11.—St. Damascus, Pope, was born in Rome at the beginning of the fourth century. He was an archdeacon of the Church in 355 and followed Pope Liberius into exile. He returned and upon Pope Liberius' death was chosen his successor. He freed the Church of a new schism and preserved the tombs of the martyrs. He reigned 18 years and died in 384 as he approached the age of 80 years.

England's Conversion May Come Rapidly, Belloc Declares

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

London, Nov. 22.—The conversion of England to Catholicism may come in a lifetime, in the view of Hilaire Belloc given to Catholic Evidence Guild speakers assembled here at the annual Inter-Guild conference. He urged the outdoor speakers, who are to be found at street corner pitches throughout the country at 38 different centers, to keep to their task and not to be discouraged because they do not observe results. The measure of their success would never be apparent to their own eyes.

"You are working in the dark," he said. "Continue each to work in his own department of the attack. You will not see the result. The change, if it is to come, will come with appalling rapidity to gladden the hearts of a generation that is not your own."

Mr. Belloc said the change from belief to unbelief, or from unbelief to belief, had always followed a certain course. It would be found all through history. At first there was apparently very slight change. Then the thing destined to come came with extreme rapidity—nearly always within the space of one lifetime.

The Catholic Evidence Guild developed its organization during the conference by forming a general movement throughout the country. The Master of the Guild in the place of annual meeting is to be the general secretary for the ensuing year.
