Crom Of Mexico Fooled European Labor Delegates

British Guests of Mexican Organization Appear Ready To Whitewash Calles

Propaganda Spread
 Government's News Service Quotes English Worker As Supporting War On Church.

London, Jan. 17.—Mexican official propaganda which has just reached here from the Mexican News Service indicates that the European labor leaders who went to Mexico as the guests of the CROM have been hoodwinked by their hosts and that they will return to whitewash Calles and talk about the enlightenment of his policy.

The British labor leaders mentioned in the report—one of a series of mimeographed instalments of official "dope" sent to British newspapers since the trouble started—are J. W. Brown, of the International Federation of Trades Unions, Amsterdam; J. Bromley, of the British Transport Workers, and George Hicks, of the British Construction Workers' organizations.

As I reported in a former message, printed when the delegation was on its way to Mexico, the International Federation of Trades Unions specifically disclaimed responsibility for the delegation.

According to the Mexican News Service, J. W. Brown told a meeting of Mexican workers that "Europe gets news of Mexico only through the eyes of a press unfriendly to the Mexican proletariat."

News To England Inspired.
 If Mr. Brown said that in Mexico, he misrepresented the state of affairs here, for it is a commonplace that the only news that reaches the public in the Calles-inspired statements carried by the news agencies.

"European workers are well aware," said Brown at the same meeting and quoted by the same authority, "that the greatest enemies of the Mexican people have always been clericalism and landlordism."

If that is true, it is only because of the carefully manufactured propagandas disseminated by the officials of Calles. In any case it contradicts the statement by Brown, quoted above, that the European worker is spoon-fed by a press unfriendly to Mexico.

Edo Pimmen, another European labor leader, secretary of the International Unions of Transport Workers, Amsterdam, told the Mexican workers (according to the official report under review) that "should another reactionary attempt be made, inside or outside of Mexico, to overthrow the present Government, the International Transport Workers' Federation and its 2,500,000 affiliated dockers, railwaymen and seamen will stand by the Mexican people."

He also cheered the Mexican workers with the expression of his confidence that the American Federation of Labor would stand behind them if an attempt were made to overthrow the Government.

Workers Won't Back Crom.
 Of course it is sheer nonsense to suggest that European workers will "stand behind" the Mexican people. The recent general strike here showed that they will not even stand behind one another very long, and it is simply farce to say that European workers would make a sacrifice for "comrades" of whose situation they know next to nothing.

It is not likely that the stories of Mexico which these labor leaders threaten to bring back to Europe will carry very much weight. British labor has many internal troubles of its own at the moment, due to the setback which resulted from the nationwide strike last year. There is a good reason, and its sympathies would be alienated by any attempt to make the Mexican situation a live issue in the British labor program.

John Brown, J. Bromley and George Hicks have had a very nice trip to Mexico. They will probably forget all about it when they return.

Seventeen Accused Of Part In Death Of Priest's Servant

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)
 Chicago, Jan. 17.—Twelve men and five women of the congregation of St. Mary's Catholic church in Downer's Grove, a suburb of Chicago, were indicted by the DuPage County grand jury at Wheaton, Ill., yesterday, on charges of having caused the death of Mrs. Anna Rudenska, 40-year old housekeeper for the Rev. J. B. Nowakowski, pastor of the church, by mishandling her and driving her from the parochial residence.

State's Attorney Chauncey W. Reed obtained 51 true bills alleging manslaughter, rioting and conspiracy. He took ten witnesses, including Father Nowakowski, before a special session of the grand jury, called following the findings of a coroner's jury on Thursday, and evidence was presented to show that Mrs. Rudenska, who came to Downer's Grove from Cleveland three years ago, died of heart trouble, induced, it is said, by rough treatment of a mixed mob on January 9.

According to the testimony of Father Nowakowski, a mob of about 25 men and women, incensed and excited, visited the rectory on the evening of January 9. They were expostulating, he said, over an assessment of $13 made a week before to balance a deficit in the funds of St. Mary's parochial school.

"They passed me at the door," said the priest, "and came inside. They threatened violence. Mrs. Rudenska came in and tried to quiet them.

"Let's run her out of town," some one shouted. A dollar was forced into the woman's hand, and without hat or coat, she was forced out of the door, the rest of the crowd meantime barring my way, and holding me helpless to aid her."

According to another witness, Henry Kroll, printer, four women and a man drove the housekeeper to the Fairview railroad station, where she collapsed. Father Nowakowski was called, and hurried to the station, but Mrs. Rudenska died as the train was rolling in.

An autopsy by Coroner Paul A. Lohrwood of West Chicago established the fact that the death, while not due directly to the blows administered to the victim, had been caused by excitement and maltreatment.

Sentences Imposed On French Fanatics Who Flogged Priest

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)
 Meun, France, Jan. 18.—Ten members of the fanatical "Order of Our Lady of Tears," who flogged the Abbe Des Noyers a year ago, and maltreated his servants, were sentenced by default today.

The two men were given eight months' imprisonment each, while the eight women were sentenced to six months each. A fine of 100 francs was also imposed in each case. The Abbe was awarded 5,000 francs damages, and the servants 1,000 each.

The case aroused nation-wide interest. The members of the order, which was founded by a former janitor in Bordeaux in 1904, went to Bombon, a village near Meun, determined to "expel from the body of Abbe Des Noyers the spirit of evil which possessed it." They invaded his sacristy, stripped, gagged and scourged him, leaving him in a serious condition. Marie Meunin, the former janitor's head of the order, claimed that the priest had cast a spell over her.

California Catholic Woman of Spanish Descent Dies At 122

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)
 Los Angeles, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Petra Mora, who died a few days ago at the age of 122 years, was buried Friday from St. Joseph's Church, where a Requiem Mass was celebrated for the repose of her soul. Yellowed records in the archives of San Gabriel Mission attest Mrs. Mora's great age, showing she was born on October 14, 1804 and confirmed in 1811.

Petra Bermudes, as Mrs. Mora was christened, was married at the age of 24, at the old mission to Diego Silva. They lived in the shadow of the mission and saw the "gold rush" go past. They had observed their fourth wedding anniversary when Diego died. Eleven years later, Mrs. Petra Silva, then 75 years old, married Juan Mora. Juan Mora died in 1814 at the age of 108 years. Mrs. Mora had been blind since that time.

Mrs. Mora is survived by two brothers, Antonio Bermudes, of Los Angeles, and Joseph Bermudes, of Los Angeles, both of whom are more than 100 years old. Two daughters, 83 and 85 years old, and seven great-grandchildren also survive her.
