South China's New Seminary's Staff To Be Irish Jesuits

Kongmoon, China, May 3.—On the occasion of a visit to the center of the Maryknoll vicariate apostolic of Kongmoon, the Apostolic Delegate to China, Archbishop Constantini, explained to the Bishop-elect James E. Walsh the plans for the new Regional Seminary for South China. These plans are of interest to all the Vicars and Superiors of the various South China Missions, since they have agreed to send all their native philosophical and theological students to the Regional Seminary. A site for the Seminary, on the south side of Hongkong Island has been bought from the Colonial Government. The architect of the projected building is a Catholic from Holland. He is in Peking making a special study of Chinese architecture. This is in accordance with the wish that mission buildings in China be erected in the native style of architecture. Funds for the South China Regional Seminary have been loaned by the Society of Saint Peter the Apostle in Rome. It is hoped that the institution will be functioning within two years' time. It will be conducted by Jesuit Fathers of the Irish Province. Two of their number, Fathers Byrne and Neary, already are in Hongkong looking over the ground. Other Regional Seminaries are to be erected in Honan and Kiangsi and at Mukden. The idea of these Regional Seminaries of China originated with the Holy Father himself and is a further example of the intense zeal for the development of a native Chinese clergy.

Dr. J. A. Lapp Honor Guest at Banquet of Social Workers

Chicago, May 3.—Dr. John A. Lapp, president of the National Conference of Social Work and Director of the Department of Social Action, National Catholic Welfare Conference, was the honor guest at a "National Social Service" dinner at the Auditorium Hotel recently by a committee of prominent Chicagoans Illinois friends and co-workers of Dr. Lapp purpose to have the 1927 conference, which is to be held at Des Moines May 11 to 18, with him presiding, the largest and best in the history of the organization. General Abel Davis was chairman of the dinner committee. Wilfred S. Reynolds, Director of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies, Secretary and Edward L. Burchard, treasurer, Professor Arthur J. Todd was the toastmaster. The speakers included Miss Jane Addams, the Rev. John A. Ryan, Graham Taylor, W. H. Loughy, Walling and William E. Dever, former mayor of Chicago.

Coadjutor Bishop Of Ossory Is Dead

Dublin, May 3.—The Most Reverend Dr. Thomas Downey, Titular Bishop of Adada, and Coadjutor Bishop of Ossory, is dead at the age of 53. He was a native of Armagh, where he spent ten years as professor and dean of St. Patrick's College. He later occupied a professorship in the Irish College, Rome. He was consecrated Coadjutor Bishop of Ossory in September, 1922. Bishop Downey was the founder and editor of a popular Irish religious magazine—The Golden Hour. The Most Rev. Dr. Brownrigg, Bishop of Ossory, to whom the late Dr. Downey was Coadjutor, is in his ninetieth year. He was consecrated Bishop of Ossory in 1884, his immediate predecessor in the See being Cardinal Moran, whose translation to Sydney, Australia, was the occasion of Dr. Brownrigg's appointment.

It is expected that the 1127 class will be the largest ever graduated here. Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco

Spiritists Compelled To Move From Former Catholic Building

London, May 2.—The Temple of Light, opened last October by the Rev. G. Vale Owen as an important center of spiritual propaganda, is to change its location. The Catholic authorities who originally owned the building having evicted the spiritists by enforcing a clause in the deed of sale. The building, in the Westminster Bridge road here, near St. George's Cathedral, Southwark, was built by Catholics, the foundation stone having been laid by the late Duke of Norfolk. When the Catholic authorities had no further use for the building they sold it to the Seamen's Union and inserted a clause in the deed of sale providing that the building must not be used for the practice of any religion other than the Catholic religion, and spiritism was specifically banned. Writs were recently issued against the spiritist occupiers, and after taking legal advice they decided to quit rather than face an action at law.

Col. Wm. Mickler, Historic Figure, Dies

(By N. C. W. C. News Service) St. Augustine, Fla., May 2.—Col. William Mickler, early American settler in Florida and the last of the members of the Florida legislature that voted for the State's secession from the Union, died in Jacksonville, Fla., April 24, in his ninetieth year. The funeral was held from the Cathedral of St. Augustine, with interment in San Lorenzo cemetery. Colonel Mickler was born November 21, 1837, and at the time of his death he was the oldest citizen of St. John's County. He left the Legislature after the secession to join the Confederate army, attaining the rank of major. He was appointed a Colonel on General Harp's staff and afterwards transferred to General Jackson's staff, with the same rank. Surviving Colonel Mickler are two daughters, Mrs. P. W. DeHoff of Jacksonville and Mrs. E. M. Little, New Smyrna; two sons, Edwin Mickler of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Arnold Mickler of Orlando; two brothers, Robert Mickler of Jacksonville and Yulke Mickler of Palm Valley, Fla.; twenty grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. His wife died eleven years ago.

Boy Scout Founder's Aide Honored by Pope

London, May 2.—Frederick F. Corballis, Commissioner of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, the founder of the Boy Scout movement, has been named by the Holy Father a Privy Chamberlain of the Cape and Sword. Mr. Corballis organized the English contingent of the international Scout pilgrimage to Rome during the Holy Year, and is now organizing a big Scout pilgrimage to Lourdes. He is a member of the Catholic Educational Council.

Native Murder Missioner

In passing he alluded to the great cold, sometimes reaching 60 below zero, and to the Eskimos' disconcerting habit of carrying a long knife. Nor is the custom meaningless. Recently the natives murdered two Oblates. They seemed, however, to like Msgr. Grouard, because of his beard. "You could scarcely find anyone more savage," he continued. "They take a fish they have just caught and eat it alive from head to tail. The women prepare the skins of animals with their teeth, moistening them with saliva and chewing them into suppleness. For counting up to ten they used their fingers, from ten to twenty they use their toes as well, and if the number is greater, they go to find a neighbor who will lead his fingers and toes to the calculation."

For food, the missionaries, like the people among whom they live, have dried meat, which Msgr. Grouard calls "veritable sole leather," putrefied fats, and occasionally some sorry vegetables, but no bread. In spite of this fare and the many other hardships, Msgr. Grouard is hale and hearty at 87 years and the only lines in his face are those of kindness and happiness.

St. Mary's Considers Move to Moraga, Cal.

San Francisco, May 2.—The new St. Mary's College, which it was planned to build on a site near San Leandro, may be erected near Moraga. Brother Joseph, president of St. Mary's board of trustees, has said that the school authorities are studying a proposal that may lead to this change. A donation of 100 acres near Moraga has been offered contingent upon the pledge of the board of trustees of St. Mary's to begin the erection of the new college there within the present year. Brother Joseph said the college was driven to the consideration of the Moraga offer after a summing up of the results of the recent campaign for funds for the new St. Mary's. It would not be possible, he said, to build on the scale originally planned unless the Brothers could count on the San Leandro holding as a negotiable asset. In addition, the Moraga site would be favorable in many respects as the San Leandro location and would have certain advantages.

American Catholic Students To Help Exchange Program

New York, May 2.—Students in Catholic educational institutions throughout the United States will begin the month of May with a program of cooperation in connection with the student exchange plan of the Catholic Near East Welfare Association. It has been announced by Joseph F. Moore, general secretary. The heads of more than forty Catholic universities, colleges and academies, Mr. Moore says, have already placed at the disposal of Pope Pius XI full scholarships for the Russian youths whom he wishes to provide with the means of an education in this country. "These young men and women," Mr. Moore says, "who have been deprived of every normal opportunity of advancement because of war, famine and revolution will be pledged to return to their own land and there serve in the betterment of their own race. "The students in American Catholic schools are being asked in this May program to become members of the Catholic Near East Welfare Association by contributing one dollar a year—all funds thus raised to be used for the benefit of the students. "No better path to international peace and concord can be found than in this plan, which will bring about a better understanding among the different races and by breaking down prejudices will contribute to the advancement of all."

PRIEST GIVEN STATE OFFICE. Santa Clara, Cal., April 30.—Rev. Cornelius J. McCoy, S. J., president of the University of Santa Clara, was today appointed a member of the Redwood Park Commission by Governor C. C. Young. He succeeds Father Zachary J. Maher, S. J., former president of the university. Father McCoy will serve until the Redwood Park Commission is absorbed by the State Park Commission.

TAKES CHARGE OF HOSPITAL. San Francisco, May 4.—Miss Carmelita A. Lagland, a graduate nurse of Mary's Help Hospital here, sailed for Guatemala City to take charge of the American Hospital there for three years, having been selected for the position among fifty applicants.
