

Dr. J. A. Ryan Gives Answer To Woman Critics of Catholics

New York, May 6.—In answer to a letter from Mary K. Rose, published in the New York World in April 27, in which the writer stated that "theologians like Dr. Ryan and Father Duffy are well aware of the chief political problem presented by religion still to be solved in the United States"...

"She asserts further that, as regards this problem, Gov. Smith's letter is evasive, unconvincing, in sincere and untrue. The problem is in the words of Hilaire Belloc, 'the necessary conflict between the civil state and the Catholic Church where the two are not identified.'"
