Novitate To Train Girls For Missions In Porto Rico Opens
Aguadilla, Porto Rico, July 5.—A novitate to train native young women for the Missionary Servants of the Most Blessed Trinity has been opened here and it is expected that it will supply the need of nuns for the schools and missions in Porto Rico. Because of the restricted immigration laws, Spanish Communities here are unable to obtain Sisters to fill their fast thinning ranks, and consequently have been forced to give up many of the small institutions which they had maintained in order to keep the larger ones open.
The Sisters, Missionary Servants of the Most Blessed Trinity, came to Porto Rico four years ago at the special plea of Archbishop George J. Caruana, who was at that time Bishop of Porto Rico. They established Holy Trinity Academy at Rio Piedras to shelter and protect the young women students of the University of Porto Rico. This work has been so successful that many of the former students of Holy Trinity Academy have become catechists. The work of Holy Trinity Academy has grown and the Sisters have been prevailed upon to take over new works for the preservation of the Faith in the abandoned places.
Although few in number, the postulants of the novitate are all of good families and are former students of the University of Porto Rico. The novitate is under the patronage of the Rt. Rev. Edwin V. Brennan, Bishop of Ponce.

The Times-Union Poland's President Invests Cardinal

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)
Warsaw, Poland, July 4.—President Ignace Moscicki, representing the Pope, in a grand ceremony at the presidential palace, conferred the red hat on Archbishop Hlonda of the diocese of Posen. The youngest cardinal in the world, he is second to be created in new Poland. At this ceremony, which serves to emphasize the close relationship of the Polish Government with the Vatican, the Rev. Zubowski, of South Bend, Ind., represented the United States.

C. D. of A. Conclave In Asheville, N. C. Largely Attended

One Thousand Delegates From All Parts of the Country Given Cordial Welcome.

(Special N. C. W. C. News Service)
Asheville, N. C., July 7.—One thousand Catholic Daughters of America from all parts of the United States, and from Canada, Porto Rico, Cuba and the Panama Canal Zone, attended the twelfth biennial supreme convention of the order, held in Asheville this week. The delegates were lavishly entertained by Asheville's convention committee at numerous social functions in their honor. The conclave program ended Saturday, with an "adieu" reception and grand ball.

At the brilliant banquet function opening the convention program the night of July 4, national, state and civic celebrities took part in the speakers' program, which was supplemented by musical, vocal and literary selections. The entire evening's program was broadcast by radio from station WWNC, marking the first time in Carolina history that a Catholic radio program has been broadcast. Each evening during the week of the conclave, national officers of the Catholic Daughters' order appeared before the microphone, broadcasting messages to the vast air audience.
Miss Mary C. Duffy, of Newark, N. J., supreme regent of the order, replied in vigorous and compelling manner to the splendid address of welcome extended to the C. D. of A. delegates by Mayor Gallatin C. Roberts, of Asheville, who pointed out that while the Catholics of Asheville and vicinity numbered but a few hundreds, he was proud of the cooperation given them by the citizens of Asheville of other faiths. Mayor Roberts is a non-Catholic, as were many of the banquet speakers.
Other addresses were given by Judge J. D. Murphy, Hon. Mark Squires, president of the Carolina Parks Association; Mr. William F. Fox, of Indianapolis, Ind., representing Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, of the Knights of Columbus; P. J. Heazel, "Carolina state" deputy of the K. of C., and Mrs. Queenie E. Dale, grand regent of Asheville court, C. W. of A., and toastmaster of the evening.

Supreme Regent's Report
The biennial report of Miss Mary C. Duffy, the supreme regent, was given to the convention yesterday. Miss Duffy's recounting of the order's national activities during the past two years included mention of the vigorous opposition of state and territorial departments of the Catholic Daughters' order on legislation proposed legislative measures favoring birth control and sterilization, the present uneven quotas and restrictive provisions of the immigration law, and the proposed Curtis-Reed bill, "federalizing" education. The appalling conditions in Mexico, the aggressive activities of the order to suppress obscene literature being circulated and sold to the youth of America, and the proper regulation of films from a moral standpoint, were also mentioned. The report urged the passage of uniform child labor laws and measures protecting women in industry.

More than a half-million dollars has been expended by the order during the past two years for charitable and benevolent purposes.
Twenty new clubhouses have been erected or purchased by the order, making a total of more than fifty clubhouses and hotels for working girls and women, in cities of the United States.
Several social service scholarships have been established in the N. C. W. C. Social Service School at Washington, D. C. and other scholarships have been endowed in colleges and schools of the country.
Study clubs have been formed, and welfare and relief work has been on a great scale. The Mississippi Valley flood, Middle States tornado disaster, and Santa Barbara earthquake catastrophes were among the many causes receiving generous financial assistance from the order. Community welfare work open to all denominations and classes was conducted in comprehensive form.

The message of greetings from the Holy Father, Pope Pius XI, brought from the Vatican by Bishop Haley, was included in the Supreme Regent's report. The felicitations from His Holiness bestowed on the order great blessings, and urged its members to continue to work and grow and extend their laudable activities.
One notice was given the formation of several hundred courts of the junior Order of Catholic Daughters for girls 12 to 18 years of age under the capable leadership of Miss Marie V. Scanlon, of Atlantic City national director of junior activities.
It was announced that plans are to be carried out to extend the junior courts into every city in the United States, and to aim for a great national membership of a half-million young Catholic girls.
The Supreme Regent's report showed the order to be in a healthy financial condition, and as having extended its branches into Canada during the last few months. Invitations have been received from the hierarchy and prominent Catholic women to open courts of the order in many foreign countries. All such requests have been tabled by the national board, it being felt that much work is to be done by the order in America, before consideration can be given to further extension, if ever.

Several cities are already bidding for the 1929 supreme convention of the order. Decision will be left with the Supreme Board.

Pope Honors Officer Of Catholic Near East Welfare Assn.

Rome, July 8.—Received in private audience by His Holiness Pope Pius XI on Sunday evening, July 3, Joseph P. Moore, executive director of the Catholic Near East Welfare Association, received signal honors.
Mr. Moore was presented by the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., president of the Catholic Near East Welfare Association and vice-president of Georgetown University. In the course of the audience the Holy Father congratulated Mr. Moore on the success of the appeal of the Association for one million members to enable him to carry on his vast program of relief and welfare among the victims of war, famine and persecution in Russia, Turkey, Greece, Syria, Palestine and the Balkan States. Pope Pius presented Mr. Moore with a valuable medal of himself embossed with the Papal coat-of-arms and afterwards conferred upon him the Apostolic Benediction.
Both Father Walsh and Mr. Moore have been in Europe to extend the educational, social and religious welfare program of the Association, which was authorized by Pope Pius XI and approved by the American hierarchy to avoid duplication of effort and to secure more efficient presentation of this cause to the American Catholic public. Father Walsh who was formerly director general of the Papi Mission to Russia, was designated by Pope Pius XI as president of this new Pontifical Association.
Through Father Walsh His Holiness expressed thanks to the American people who subscribed $1,000,000 in one day, (January 23, last) and thus inaugurated the Pontifical Association with a membership of one million members.
Father Walsh and Mr. Moore have been studying conditions in the Near East and have announced that it is hoped to launch immediately the student exchange plan whereby Russian young men and women will be placed in Catholic educational institutions in this country in order that they may obtain the educational advantages which it is impossible for them to secure in their own country. More than 100 scholarships have been placed at the disposal of the Association by the heads of these institutions and it is expected that the first group of students will connect to the United States for the opening of the next academic year.

Mission Bell Is Chosen As Perfect California Emblem

Los Angeles, July 7.—It has remained for a Catholic woman to design what Chamber of Commerce officials, California boosters and professional badge-makers who have been trying their hand at it for years, declare to be the "perfect California emblem."
It is a reproduction in bronze miniature, of one of the original mission bells of San Juan Capistrano, suspended from a simple bar plan by white and yellow ribbon, yellow being the color of the California poppy.
It will be worn for the first time by the delegates to the National Conference of Catholic Charities, coming to Los Angeles, September 4 to 8.
Mrs. Thomas E. Scott, prominent in Catholic women's circles, is its designer. She got the inspiration one night after having looked over a score of conventional designs submitted by badge-making firms, and the next day submitted the idea to Chamber of Commerce experts. They hailed her design with enthusiasm, and steps were at once taken to have a mold of the San Juan bell in replica cast in the desired dimensions.
To Catholics the design has a particular interest, for it is not only typically Californian, but typical of the Church as well. The mission bell harks back to the heroic Franciscans who brought civilization to California and calls to mind at once the name of Fr. Junipero Serra, California's greatest man. Besides, the colors, yellow and white, are the Papal colors.
The executive committee of arrangements appointed by the Right Reverend John J. Cantwell, D. D., Bishop of Los Angeles and San Diego, is making excellent progress with its plans to give the visitors a typically Catholic and Californian welcome.
