New York, Aug. 11.—With the exception of the testator's household effects, all of the estate of more than $200,000 left by Ellen McKenna Gunning, prominent Catholic laywoman of this city, will go to Catholic institutions or persons connected with the Catholic Church, under directions in her will filed lately in Surrogate's Court. To a niece, Jenny Lloyd, is left the household effects and a life interest in $100,000.

Church Plunderer Confesses Robbing Bishop Jas. Hartley

(By N. C. W. C. News Service) Columbus, O., Aug. 11.—Determined to make a clean breast of his many criminal operations against Catholic churches in Ohio and Kentucky, Ray Marsden, recently sent to the Ohio Penitentiary for the theft of sacred objects from a Catholic shrine at Catty, Ohio, has confessed that he also stole a number of jewels and church valuables from the Rt. Rev. James J. Hartley, Bishop of Columbus, and volunteered information to Warden Thomas which will lead to one of the strangest gold hunts in history.

At the death of the niece, the $100,000 is to be equally divided between Fordham University and the Missionary Society of St. Paul the Apostle.

Marsden calmly told Warden Thomas and Detective Joseph Cleary of a cache in New York State where he claims to have hidden more than 100 golden chalices, stolen from Catholic and Episcopal churches. He offered to lead a party to the hiding place, and his offer was accepted.

Outright bequests made in the will are as follows: Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, $5,000; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph H. McMahon, of that church, $5,000; Martin E. Fahy, same address, $5,000; St. Lawrence hospital, $5,000; Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, $5,000; Catholic Missionary Union, Washington, D.C., $20,000, and one-third of the residue; the Rev. Joseph A. Carroll, Brooklyn, $5,000; Missionary Society of St. Paul the Apostle, $20,000 and remainder interests; the Rev. David Patrie, Christopher McMann, Francis Murphy and the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, $500 each; and one-third of the residue each to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum and the Marquette League.

Following his own conviction, for which he was sentenced to serve from three to fifteen years in the Ohio Penitentiary, Marsden appeared as the star witness for the State at the trial of Perry Vogt, one of his alleged accomplices, when he recited in detail the workings of a "gang", which he said was composed of himself, John and Perry Vogt and Albert and Clifford McArthur.

Canon Fremont, who was vicar of several parishes of Paris, soon became celebrated for the eloquent sermons which he gave to men and to young people in the aristocratic parts of town as well as in the workmen's districts. He returned to his diocese of origin to work quietly on the composition of numerous philosophical works; Principles; Sermons on Christianity; The Divinity of Jesus Christ and Free Thought; The Scientific Demonstration of the Existence of God; The Origins of the Universe and of Man, etc., but he was frequently called elsewhere to preach in the great cathedrals or in the most illustrious churches of Paris. He was an orator of extraordinary eloquence and a very prolific writer.
