Catholic Near East Association To Have European Offices

The expansion of the program of the Catholic Near East Welfare Association, has now necessitated a European office, it is announced from its American headquarters, 480 Lexington Avenue, New York. This has been provided for by the establishment of its European offices in the Pontifical Oriental Institute. The international work of the Association will continue to be directed from the Vatican, here it is under the personal direction of Pope Pius XI. The keen personal interest of the Holy Father in this work and his appreciation of the great charity shown by American Catholics in the support of the Association's successful appeal for one million members, has prompted His Holiness to permit the use of room in the Oriental Institute for the European office. Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., Vice-pres-

DEATHS.

Wegman—Robert Joseph Wegman, aged 13 years and 10 months, son of Frederick J. and Adelaide F. Wegman, of No. 49 Boardman street, died August 30, at the Park Avenue Hospital. Funeral from the Blessed Sacrament Church, September 2d.

Kelly—Mary A., widow of the late Patrick Kelly, aged 71 years, died in the village of Ontario, N. Y., August 29. Funeral from St. Mary's of the Lake Church, Ontario, September 1st. Interment in Calvary cemetery at Ontario.

Hillengas—Helen Hillengas, aged 19 years, died at the family home, 78 Woodward street, August 28. Funeral from St. Joseph's Church, August 31st.

ANN KANE

Funeral services for Ann Kane, who died Friday, took place Monday morning at 8 o'clock at No. 427 Clinton avenue north, and at 8:30 o'clock at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament. Requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Thomas F. Connors. Interment was made in Holy Sepulchre cemetery, where the final blessing was given by Rev. John Hogan, chaplain of St. Ann's Home.

dent of Georgetown University and President of the Association in America, announced.

The new Oriental Institute, founded as a center of Slavic learning and affording facilities to both Catholic and Orthodox students to pursue advanced studies in the problems connected with the relation between the East and West, forms an ideal headquarters for the administrative operations of the Association in behalf of Russia, Turkey, Greece, Armenia, Palestine and other near Eastern lands," Father Walsh said.

"From this center the program of immediate relief can be carried on and from my recent survey of conditions I can say that the need is in no way less than it was a year ago. Thousands in Russia and the Near East are still on the verge of starvation.

"In addition to this relief work the Association is assuming the support of a number of Russian students and will also aid in the maintenance of the Oriental Institute itself. The buildings of the Institute are only partially finished but will be rushed to completion as fast as funds are made available for this purpose. "The Catholic Near East Welfare Association," Father Walsh continued, "which is now the only agency authorized by the Holy See and the American Hierarchy to solicit funds for Russia and the Near East, is faced with a huge responsibility in the establishment of a European headquarters which will expedite its efforts, especially in such emergencies as the recent earthquake in Palestine. In this instance, the Holy Father at once cabled funds for the relief of the many who are in need there.

"The executive offices of the Association in America will continue to be at 480 Lexington Avenue New York City and from this headquarters the work in this country will be carried on, under its Board of Directors, of which Cardinals O'Connell, Dougherty and Hayes are members. The funds for all our work have been provided by the generosity of American Catholics who joined the Association, and in order to meet all its needs the Association will need a greatly enlarged membership.

"The Holy Father has sent a personally autographed letter of thanks to all who have aided him through this Association and a million copies of this document are now being prepared. One copy will be mailed shortly to each individual member."

CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL

Cliff Haven, N. Y., Aug. 30. The ninth and final week of the 1927 season of the Catholic Summer School was featured with lectures by Prof. Arthur F. D. Remy, Ph. D., of Columbia, and by Dr. James J. Walsh, of New York, a member of the Board of Studies. The final Family Gathering of the season was held on Sunday evening and on Monday evening the annual minstrel show was presented. Prof. Remy lectured on Eastern drama, of India, of the Hindus and of the Persians. He spoke of Sakuntala, the most famous Hindu play; of the Little Clay Cart, and of its performance of the New York stage; of Rustom and Sohrab, and the English version by Arnold; and finally on "Eastern Wisdom in Proverb and Maxim."

Dr. Walsh spoke on the general theme "Is Life Worth Living?" He stated that great scientists, like Millikan, our American Noble Prize winner, say that science has not taken away the hope of another life. He cited the fact that many high school and college students have taken their own lives because this life was not worth living for them. He concluded his lectures by saying that this life is not worth living if there is not another life.

A sale for the blind, under the direction of the New York State Commission for the Blind, was held at Cliff Haven on Saturday with considerable success.

Mass was offered on Monday for the living and deceased members of the Alumnae Auxiliary Association; Tuesday for the late Miss Catherine Gallagher of New York; and on Thursday for the living and deceased members of the Cliff Haven Sanctuary Guild. The weekly subscription card party of the Alumnae Auxiliary Association was held on Monday at the New York Cottage No. Two.

At the Family Gathering on Sunday evening, Rev. Francis P. Duffy, D. D., President, acted as chairman. Dr. J. J. Walsh entertained with a few humorous stories and C. A. Weber spoke on the Madonna collection. Entertainment was furnished by the Misses Margaret McLaughlin and Miss Ryan, with piano and violin aid, by the Misses McLaughlin, Miss Holt and Catherine Clossen, with their piano number; by Misses Mary and Margaret McLaughlin, with vocal solos, and by Fr. C. J. Callaghan, O. F. M., C. S. C., who sang the hymn "The Rose Tree" at the time of George Callaghan's death. The hymn "The Rose Tree" was sung by Miss Power of Brooklyn.

On Monday evening Dr. Walsh gave a memorial address on the late Miss Katherine E. Conway of Boston, for years a friend of the Summer School, and the founder and first President of the John Boyle O'Reilly Reading Circle.

Miss Ida L. Gallaher, secretary of the Alumnae Auxiliary Association, recently received a reply from Will H. Hays, with reference to the letter from the group protesting against the film "The Callahans and the Murphys." The film has been changed and objectionable features omitted, according to the letter received.

The Alumnae Auxiliary Assn.

Cliff Haven, N. Y. Officers for the ensuing term were chosen at the recent summer meeting of the Alumnae Auxiliary Association, the women's auxiliary to the Catholic Summer School. Gallaher of New York; treasurer, Mrs. J. H. McMahon of New York.

The Directors follow: Mrs. Francis P. Cannon of New York, Mrs. F. Burns of Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Rudolph Correa of Brooklyn, Mrs. Joseph Fargas of New York, Mrs. George Keefe of Philadelphia, Miss Maud Leonard and Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin of Brooklyn, Mrs. John H. Moffitt of Plattsburgh, Mrs. M. Moore of New York, Miss Margaret Murphy of Ypsilanti, Miss E. McNamara of Bridgeport, Conn., Mrs. John J. Page and Miss Della Ryan of New York, Miss E. F. Raskopf of Brooklyn, Mrs. J. Reilly of Baltimore, Mrs. Francis P. Walsh of Philadelphia and Mrs. Margaret Dolaney of Yonkers.

The Champlain Assembly Assn.

Cliff Haven, N. Y. This association is a group of men who devote their service to the extension of the intellectual and social work of the Catholic Summer School. They meet monthly at the de la Salle Institute. The annual dinner of the group is an event largely attended and is anticipated with pleasure by the members each year. It will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 16, at the K. of C. Club Hotel at 7 p.m. Tickets may be procured from D. W. McCahill, 150 East 89th St., N. Y. City; Dr. W. H. Guilfoyle, Dept. of Health, City of New York; Rev. Louis Blaber, 222 Tompkins Ave., Brooklyn, and Frank E. O'Reilly, the President, 144 Genesee St. or 44 Court St., Brooklyn.

Rev. Louis Blaber, pastor of St. Joseph's, gave a memorial address on the late Rev. Frank E. O'Reilly, President, A. F. J. Remy of Columbus, first vice-president; W. H. Guilfoyle, M. D., second vice-president; Patrick Kelly, third vice-president; John W. Kehoe, corresponding secretary; Francis R. Kelley, financial secretary; and D. W. McCahill, treasurer.

Dedication of St. Joseph's Health Resort at Wedron

St. Joseph's Health Resort, formerly well-known under the name "Sulphur Lick Springs Hotel", will be dedicated on Labor Day, September the fifth, at 2 p. m. Dean Thomas E. Madden will conduct the ceremonies and give the Benediction with the Blessed Sacrament. Short speeches of prominent men will precede the ceremonies. The general public is cordially invited.

St. Joseph's Health Resort is situated near Wedron, Illinois, about 80 miles from Chicago and 9 miles north of Ottawa on the Somonauk-Ottawa trail. This picturesque spot has recently been purchased by an Order of Catholic Sisters, the Mission Workers of the Sacred Heart. It is their intention to conduct here an all year health resort. Patients will be admitted from the first of September.

The complete absence of the health destroying influences of a big city, the sylvan surroundings, the pure air and above all the healing qualities of the sulphur springs make it an ideal place for rest and relaxation.

The water is recommended by eminent physicians as an excellent remedy for diabetes, kidney trouble, liver complaint, rheumatism, nervousness, indigestion and all diseases caused by impurities of the blood.

The building itself is provided with all the modern conveniences of a city hotel. Rooms may be had in any desired arrangements. Special care will be taken to provide the patients with wholesome, nourishing food and the culinary department will leave nothing to be desired. The fact that an Order of Catholic Sisters will manage the establishment, will give the place an air of detachment and orderliness, that cannot help but promote health and an atmosphere of wholesome recreation.

An automobile trip to this resort over the good roads through the many pretty villages makes it enjoyable for motorists. Accommodations for automobiles have been well provided for. A map showing the main traveled auto routes may be had on application. For further information write to: St. Joseph's Health Resort, Sulphur Lick Springs, Wedron, Ill.
