Guiding Rules for Action Of Catholic Youth Given By the Belgian Bishops By Rev. J. Van der Heyden (Louvain Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service)

French Abbe In U. S. To Study History (By N. C. W. C. News Service) New York, Sept. 3.—Abbe Francis Madaec, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor and professor at the College of Notre Dame du Creusaker, St. Pol de Leon, France, has arrived in New York and will spend the remainder of the summer studying institutions of the New World. Father Madaec has traveled extensively in Europe, where he has studied art, architecture, history and social questions. He is now interested in America, where the youth of the New World offers great contrast to the age of the Old World, he says. During the World War Father Madaec served as soldier and officer, winning the Croix de Guerre with four citations and medal for his bravery. Before returning to France Father Madaec will visit the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Washington and scenes of the Revolutionary and Civil Wars. The Abbe has many friends in the United States.

The Bishop's letter is destined to become a historical monument. The Cardinal Archbishop has already made the Bishop's directions his own; first, in a personal letter addressed also to the Supreme Chaplain of the Association of Catholic Young Men and then again in a collective letter of all the Bishops of the land addressed to the President of the Association. Cardinal Van Roy's letter says in part: "I have taken cognizance of the Bishop of Namur's letter to you and I take pleasure in declaring that I am in perfect agreement with him about the directions he has been pleased to give for tomorrow's 'Priests' Day.'"

Chinese Graduated From Marquette U. (By N. C. W. C. News Service) Paris, Aug. 29.—A retreat for intellectuals, professors and artists has been founded near Paris, in a large comfortable house, recently thrown open by the Abbe Alphonse Lagan. It is about ten minutes from the Gare de Bretagne-sur-Orge by train. The institution, the Villa Ozanam-Gibbons, which is sponsored by several French persons and Americans, is named after the famous Catholic layman, Frederic Ozanam, professor at the Sorbonne and founder of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and the late distinguished Cardinal of Baltimore. It is, therefore, an international institution. The retreat is expected to attract to it brain-workers of all classes who wish to rest and study in quiet and pleasant surroundings. The privilege is offered by the week, by the month, or permanently. The fact that men of every nation are welcomed makes the experiment the more alluring. A few young men will be taken, novices, so to speak, who may wish to become proficient in some branch of art represented by an expert residing in the house. Distinguished men will also be received and every facility for study offered to them.
