

Thousands Pay Tribute To Memory of Priest

On Monday morning final tribute was paid to Rev. Canon Alphonsus A. Notebaert, rector of Our Lady of Victory Church, at the French Church at 8 o'clock. The funeral Mass was held from St. Patrick's Cathedral at ten o'clock, attended by thousands of laymen and people from all walks of life.

Canon Notebaert's body was met at the entrance of the Cathedral by Rt. Rev. Mons. J. Francis O'Hern, vicar general of the Rochester diocese, and Rev. Charles F. Shay, rector of the Cathedral. Monsignor O'Hern sprinkled the casket with holy water, gave the final blessing, and then led the funeral procession up the center aisle of the church to within a few feet of the chancel rail.

Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, bishop of the Rochester diocese, was present at the services in the Cathedral, gave a eulogy on Canon Notebaert, and pronounced the blessing at the close of the mass. The Bishop wore mitre and cope and was attended at his throne by Rt. Rev. Mons. Michael J. Nolan, chancellor of the diocese. Rt. Rev. Mons. Joseph F. Stillmans, of New York, and Rev. Henry S. Syoen, of Detroit, the last two personal friends of the late Canon.

The funeral mass was celebrated by Monsignor O'Hern, with Rev. Edward Byrne, D. D., of St. Bern. ard's Seminary, and Rev. Camiel A. van der Meulen, assistant rector of Our Lady of Victory Church, as deacon and subdeacon.

Revs. Arthur A. Hughes, John J. Sellinger, and Michael Hynes were masters of ceremonies. Revs. Henry Manley and Thomas Duggan, acolytes, Rev. Joseph Dissett, thurifer, Rev. Leo Smith, bookbearer, and Rev. Edward Lyons, candlebearer, with a music of the mass was sung by a priest's choir under the direction of Rev. John M. Petter, S. T. D., professor of music at St. Bernard's Seminary.

Bishop Hickey's Eulogy
Before even the older priests of the Rochester diocese began their studies for the priesthood, Bishop Hickey said in his eulogy, Canon Notebaert had started to serve God in his chosen vocation. Although he had many more years of life than the average man, the going of one so devoted to his duties and so loved cannot but bring much sorrow to those who have known him and have held him dear.

"We have gathered this morning," the Bishop said, "chiefly to pray for the repose of his soul. The death about which he preached for nearly sixty years as a priest has finally claimed him, and he has gone to face the Just Judge."

"He was always sympathetic to others, and active and zealous in the work of the Church. His great gifts attracted others to him, and while he would have displayed these same qualities as a layman, his choice of the sanctuary served greatly to enhance them."

"Within a few moments his remains will be carried to consecrated grounds, with the hope that his memory may be preserved, that the generation that to-day called him Father may hand on to the next generation the memory of a loving and devoted father. We express our sympathy to his kin and our hope that the children of his flock may build an imperishable monument to his memory by following the will of God. This monument will be far better than one of granite."

City Officials Present
City officials were represented at the services at the Cathedral by City Manager Stephen B. Story and Vice-Mayor Isaac Adler. Representatives of the various sisterhoods of the city were also at the funeral. Delegates from the Knights of Columbus and all the societies of the Church of Our Lady of Victory Church were honorary bearers. More than two hundred children from the parochial school of the church accompanied the body to the grave.

Final blessing at the grave in the priests' plot in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery was given by Bishop Hickey, who was assisted by Monsignor O'Hern and Monsignor Stillmans, and Revs. Thomas F. Cohnors and James B. Keenan, and Fathers van der Meulen, Syoen, Feery, Gefell, and Byrne.

Details of police under Inspector Henry T. Copenhagen were assigned to the two churches, and a squad of mounted police escorted the body from the church of Our Lady of Victory to the Cathedral.

Diversity of Mission Problem

The mission problem is as diversified as the range of wants to which humanity is heir. How many of us pay heed to the appeals that, through the mission aid societies, present the needs of the mission fields? Mission Sunday has occasioned a casual perusal of such appeals, and again it may be said that the problem is as diversified as the range of wants to which we are all conscious.

From Zululand there was noted a plea for that cheapest of commodities: WATER. For five years the missionaries have carted water in barrels to supply the school children and attaches of the mission station. A well drilled on the site of the mission would furnish an adequate supply, but the missionaries hesitate to im-poverish other works to meet this need. They ask fifteen hundred dollars to insure a convenient water supply.

From the Philippines came the request for dormitory funds, that the children coming to the school in the central town of a province might be properly housed as well as attracted to the school. Without dormitory facilities the school serves only pupils nearby. And so, for the lack of living quarters, the institution remains handicapped.

From China a priest applies for masters of ceremonies. Revs. Henry Manley and Thomas Duggan, acolytes, Rev. Joseph Dissett, thurifer, Rev. Leo Smith, bookbearer, and Rev. Edward Lyons, candlebearer, with a music of the mass was sung by a priest's choir under the direction of Rev. John M. Petter, S. T. D., professor of music at St. Bernard's Seminary.

The priest knows the carpentry craft, his congregation is willing to give time to constructing a new building, but materials are beyond their reach unless furnished from outside.

From Egypt Sisters appeal for maintenance while they carry on rescue work occasioned by the white slave traffic of the country. An island missionary makes known his want of Paul Ciasio, Michael Scheld, Joseph Curtin, Joseph Fischer, John Neary, Alexander McCabe, Francis Luddy, J. Emil Gefell, John McMahon, George Predmore, Charles Berger, C. S. R. Joseph Saffa, C. S. R. George Isler, William Hart, Edward Lyons, Edmund O'Brien, William Cannan, J. F. W. Kelly, Walter Byrne, D. D.; George Weinman, Thomas Lochran, John Baler, Patrick O'Brien, Gerald Brennan, John Brophy, Emmett Dougherty, Peter Erras, Harry Doerbeck, F. William Stander, James Kennedy, Michael B. Grogan, Walter Lee, Daniel Sullivan, Patrick McArdie, William Ryan, Philip Golding, Michael Krieg, Andrew Dissett, Edward Lynch, Norman Margrett, George McCall, and James B. Keenan.

SS. Peter and Paul's Church

Palm Sunday was observed on last Sunday. The palms were blessed before the high mass, by the Pastor, Rev. J. G. Gefell, who also celebrated the mass. The procession followed after the blessing of palms, escorted by the Knights of St. John, the school children, 24 altar boys and the officers of the various men's societies and Rev. J. Gefell.

Easter Sunday will be celebrated with special music and services at the masses. The Easter collection will be taken up, envelopes were distributed for same on last Sunday. The monthly meeting of St. Francis society will be held on Monday evening April 9th at 8 P. M.

The monthly meeting of the Holy Name society will be held on Wednesday evening April 11th in the basement of the school. The Young Ladies' Sodality will give a play, "The Whole Truth," on April 16th in the nurses home of St. Mary's Hospital. Rehearsals are now being conducted under the direction of Jack Free. Members of the cast include: Pauline Schied, Angeline Potier, Irene Fien, Alice Davis, John O'Connor, James Hilbert, George Barker, George Potier and Louis Hener.

funds to print in the native language of his people a prayer book. In almost endless variety the appeals come in from mission fields. If our own human wants remain unsupplied despite comparative prosperity, how much they must lack for those who appeal to us!

Generous Japanese

Members of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America (Maryknoll, N. Y.) who have been working among the Japanese on the Pacific Coast have met with a generous cooperation. The Maryknoll Saint Francis Xavier School for Japanese at Los Angeles has been particularly appreciated. A Maryknoll priest directing the work in Los Angeles writes as follows:

"These Orientals are showing their appreciation for what we are doing for them not only by word of mouth, but also by a generosity that is very little known amongst our Catholic people. Seeing the interest manifested in the education and care of their children, they have responded most encouragingly. They are willing to make big sacrifices in order to give their children the kind of training we wish to impart. In the public schools, their children learn English, but not Japanese. In the Japanese institutions, they are not well trained in English. When, therefore, they understand that here is a school that has Americans to teach English and Japanese Sisters to impart the native tongue perfectly, they are most anxious to do all they can to support it."

About ninety-five per cent of the parents of the school children are Buddhists. They are broadminded enough to allow the children to become Catholics, if they so desire. The strange result is that we find a great number of the youngsters attending the nine o'clock Mass on Sunday at the school Auditorium to fulfill their religious duties as Catholics, while their elders go to the Buddhist temple to worship. These parents are interested in religion, and from time to time are won to the Faith through the example of their children."
