765 Summer Students Enroll at Marquette

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

Waukegan, July 3. — A total of 765 students, including 270 nuns from 35 teaching Sisterhoods, have enrolled for the 1928 summer school of Marquette University here. This is said to be the greatest enrollment in the history of the local summer school, and possibly the greatest registration at the summer sessions of any Catholic school in the country.

San Francisco, July 9. — The three Jesuit scholastics who will sail from here next month with the Rev. P. L. Moore, S. J., formerly President of St. Ignatius College, and the Rev. J. A. Lennon, S. J., of the University of Santa Clara, have now been chosen. They are Cornelius Lynch and Thomas Phillips of St. Michael's, Wash., and Carl Simmons of Seattle. They will go to St. Ignatius College, near Zikawei, where they will spend at least a year studying the Chinese language and teaching English.

Hugh Statue of Paris' Patron Saint Carved

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

Paris, July 6. — A statue of the patron saint of Paris, St. Genevieve, will be put into position on the bridge of La Tourneville, facing the Cathedral of Notre Dame de Paris, in the near future. The statue is 18 feet high and is carved from a solid block of soapstone granite, the same as that used in the construction of the Arch of Triumph.

Eleven In Ireland Are Ordained For Priesthood In U. S.

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

Dublin, July 2. — Among those elevated to the priesthood at ordinations held in different parts of Ireland during the last few days were 11 who will go to the United States to exercise their sacred calling. All of these young priests will go to dioceses on the Pacific Coast.

Town Fetes Its First Son To Enter Clergy In Last Eighty Years

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

Rome, June 18. — Celebration of his first Mass was made the occasion of a general festivity in Father Chanoux's natal village, Ponte Bozet, in the Champerche Valley.

Previous ordinations this year in Ireland have included other young priests destined to labor in America. Among those who received the diaconate and sub-diaconate at the recent ordination there also were seven who intend going to the United States when they become priests.

An interesting feature of the ordinations at All Hallows College, Dublin, was the attendance of the Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell, Bishop of Los Angeles and San Diego. Bishop Cantwell also presided at the distribution of academic awards which marked the close of the year's work.

Upon his arrival at the village, Father Chanoux was greeted by all the local authorities and the entire population and was conducted to a temporary chapel constructed in the middle of the village square and made of pine branches and ivy vines. Here he remained in prayer for a while before entering the church to say Mass.

Very Rev. T. O'Donnell, C. M., the president, Bishop Cantwell congratulated the institution on the number of students it has sent to spread the Faith in all parts of the English-speaking world.

This sort of celebration is customary in Italian towns, but that of Ponte Bozet was especially impressive because it is the first time in eighty years that one of its citizens has entered the priesthood.

Fifty-nine students were raised to the priesthood at the close of the academic year at Maynooth. Twenty-eight received the diaconate and sixty-seven the sub-diaconate. Seven of these latter intend to go to the United States when they are ordained.

The Most Rev. Edward J. Byrne, Archbishop of Dublin, was the ordaining prelate.

At the opening exercises of the college, His Excellency Sir Graham Thomson, Governor General of Nigeria, unveiled a portrait of His Holiness painted on silk. Mgr. Ferdinand Terrian, Vicar Apostolic of Benin, under whose guidance the college building was constructed, presided at the ceremonies, which were attended by many non-Catholics and a number of Protestant ministers. The latter were loud in their expressions of appreciation of its importance to the people of Nigeria.

In his address the Governor General praised the aspiration of the founders of the college, which is to inculcate in the Africans a love and respect for the tradition of their own race while adopting only the best that Europe has to offer.

The new school is at Ikoji, near Lagos, an important British port on the west coast, and will accommodate 100 boarding and 250 day students.

Jerusalem, July 2. — The opening of the Tel Aviv University, the first Jewish university in the world, was celebrated here today. The inauguration was attended by a large number of Jewish leaders and dignitaries.

In his address the Governor General praised the aspiration of the founders of the college, which is to inculcate in the Africans a love and respect for the tradition of their own race while adopting only the best that Europe has to offer.

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

The inauguration of the Tel Aviv University was a significant event in the history of the Jewish people, marking the first time since the destruction of the Second Temple that a Jewish university has been established.

The new school is at Ikoji, near Lagos, an important British port on the west coast, and will accommodate 100 boarding and 250 day students.
