

Nazareth College To Be Moved to Augustine Street

Nazareth College for young women, now in Lake Avenue, will not open in September in the new building in Pittsford, as had been planned, but will be moved to the former Nazareth Normal School building at 402 Augustine street, which is now used as a mother house for the Sisters of St. Joseph.

The Augustine street building is no longer adequate to properly house the sisterhood and next month their headquarters will be removed to the Pittsford building, construction of which has been completed. This was the use that it was proposed to put the property when the land was purchased several years ago, and it is expected that it will be used exclusively as a mother house.

Nazareth College, now in its fourth year, requires more space than is available in connection with Nazareth Academy in Lake Avenue, and so after extensive alterations and repairs now in progress are completed the college will open in the Augustine street building September 18th. Registrations are to be made at the present college building, 981 Lake Avenue. The grounds of the Augustine street property are rather extensive and are already being remodelled for student recreational uses.

Jesuit Establishes Social Settlement

Poona, India, Aug. 1.—A Jesuit Brother, Brother Zimmer, has established among the wild tribes in the diocese of Poona a social settlement which follows closely along the lines of similar undertakings in Europe and America. The Khandalas among whom Brother Zimmer is working were formerly a wandering people. The first activity of the Brother was to persuade them to settle down. He achieved this purpose by providing a school for the children and in teaching many of the adults how to make carpets. Just at present he is engaged in building for them model homes. Each of these little cottages is surrounded by a plot of ground for cultivation.

The incident is significant of the spirit of the native authorities toward Catholic missionaries in East Africa. Heroic Catechist Dies Caring For Smallpox Victims

Dacca, India, July 24.—The death of the Catholic catechist, Alban by name, calls attention to his heroism by caring for his people during an epidemic of small pox. Alban was one of a highly intelligent and carefully selected group of forty men who made up the advance guard of the Church in the Diocese of Dacca. The Holy Cross missionaries are carrying on a campaign for conversions and credit a great measure of the success to these catechists. Alban was converted only 8 years ago and at the time of his death was 24 years old. When the small pox epidemic broke out he refused to leave his people but stayed with them, giving medicine and baptizing the dying. Only when he caught the disease himself did he consent to be carried home, here he died 8 days later.

Madagascar Had 101 Cyclones In Last 40 Years

Tananarive, Madagascar, July 26.—During the last forty years, Madagascar has been visited by 101 cyclones. The last two years may be looked upon as having been a particularly heavy cyclone season.

Losses suffered by the Catholic Missions have often been extreme. More than 430,000 of the total 3,000,000 inhabitants of Madagascar are Catholic. Naturally, a great many of these have experienced the worst effects of these storms. The missionaries have often been hard pressed with care for the faithful.
