

Thoughts of Modern Girl Reading Novel

Heavens why do they make books so long good-night I've only read 37 pages counting skipping I wonder where on earth is that nice girl Julie...

Royal Splendor That Once Dazzled Europe

Europe was dazzled by a display of royal pomp unequalled in the history of pageantry, when Henry VIII met Francis I of France on the Field of the Cloth of Gold.

Dates of Founding of Famous Colleges

An interesting compilation of the dates of the founding of the great universities of the world has been made as follows: The University of Oxford was founded by King Alfred in 872; the first college of the University of Cambridge was founded by Hugo, Bishop of Ely, in 1257; the University of Paris was founded by King Philip III about 1200.

Chairman Didn't Quite Get Idea of Lecture

Being a Scot, and therefore a sentimentalist, I have always had an appreciative eye for good-looking women. As a consequence of many wanderings I thought I could give a lecture about the ladies of many lands.

Eskimo Igloo

Snow, despite its frigidity, makes a good blanket; that is to say, it is a conductor of heat. Travelers have learned themselves in the snow to gain warmth, and it is well known that a snowdrift protects plants from frost.

Look Within Yourself

When there is apparently no real cause for despondency you should look within yourself. Perhaps there are physical troubles that are to blame for your mournful outlook.

Naval Range Finder

An accurate method of computing the distance between ships when the height of the enemy ship is not known is by the use of the optical range finder. This instrument is installed in the gunnery of battleships.

Mispronunciations

As many words are mispronounced as are misspelled, according to a writer in Capper's Weekly. "Among the mispronounced ones," he says, "are aviator, aviation and radiator."

50 Years on One Farm

At Warfield, England, the Neale family of Warfield, a few miles from London, has for the "unlucky" period of 48 years farmed this 100-acre land, and the connection has never been broken, when there was

Disappointing

The big house in the wood had been untenanted for years and was supposed to be haunted. In despair the owner had the place redecorated, fitted with electric light and every possible labor-saving device.

Not Case of Attraction

When two small objects are floating near each other in a basin of water why are they suddenly drawn together as if by a magnet? The bureau of standards says that the weight of the floating particles stretches the surface of the water, forming a dimple when the two particles come close enough; the two dimples coalesce into one, throwing the particles together.

Problem

Last year I asked my best girl to marry me and she refused. I got even with her by marrying her mother. Then my father married the girl. Now what am I to myself?

Where the Shed Horns Go

Why aren't the woods full of the horns which deer and moose shed every winter? The answer, according to a writer in Field and Stream, is that they are eaten by rodents.

Versatile Publishers

The Centralist, central publishing house of the Soviet republics, faces a big task in supplying books to the various small nations of Russia in their respective tongues. Most of the books are textbooks, printed to supply the demand of the newly liberated backward peoples for education and knowledge.
