Rochester Theatre.

Wit, such as the screen has never before been able to present, is to be heard at the Rochester Theatre next week, announces Manager Thomas D. Soriero, where George Jessel is holding forth in "Lucky Boy." This Tiffany Stahl production is the feature picture in which Jessel, ac of comedians, is using his voice—and how he can use it.

The Vaudeville Olio for the performance of the week of February 17th has five all star feature acts. They are all headliners. Frank Farnum, who has first place, is the greatest dancer on the American stage. He is known as America's greatest eccentric dancer.

William Morris Family is perhaps the best known family on the American stage today. He headlines the vaudeville bills the world over. In this act there are five people and it is reported to be one of the cleverest comedy sketches ever shown in Rochester. Fisher & Hurst is an outstanding comedy act of its kind in vaudeville. In this act, a man and a woman give much comedy talking. They are billed as "The Headaches of 1928". Cole & Wade are two ebony-hued steppers.

Rounding out this all star vaudeville bill are the "Kitaro Japs", who rank very high among Japanese entertainers. They are said to have an act of unusual merit and entertainment. Manager Soriero announces the extra attraction of the week of February 17th—there is to be a 100% all-talking Vitaphone picture called "The Regular Business Man". Marjorie Meadows, Lucy Beaumont and John St. Polla are the leading actors.

PROPAGATION OF FAITH

Father Francis Xavier Ford, formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., was a member of the first mission band of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, which went to South China in 1918. Since that time he has been at work in the Maryknoll mission fields of Kwangtung Province. He is at present Superior of the Maryknoll Kaying Mission in the hinterland of Swatow, which has recently been ecclesiastically ejected as a Prefecture Apostolic. Father Ford has lately returned to the United States for a period of a few months. Speaking of the life of the Catholic missionary in China, he says:

"After ten years in China, spent in several missions and with plenty opportunity to see many missionaries of half a dozen nationalities, I must begin by assuring you that the average missionary in China, from Manchuria in the North to Kwangtung in the South, is an ordinary common sense individual, taking his work seriously, but not taking himself too seriously.

The strangeness of his surroundings and the color of the skin of his parishioners is quickly forgotten in China and he soon begins to think of China as home, and of the United States as 'over there.' This is as it should be, of course, and the more completely he considers China as home, the greater will be his success. Not that he forgets his parents or old friends, but because he early identifies himself with his Chinese and groups them with the Catholic Church the world over.

There is even a purely natural happiness in our life in China. The Chinese are lovable, intelligent, and have a sense of humor, so that our days pass all too quickly in attractive work. Instead of pitying the China missionary for his hardships, it would be more in order to envy him his vocation. The average missionary is apt rather to pity others for not realizing that China is 'God's country', just as fully as any other is."
