SACRED DRAMA ON MARCH 17

Arrangements have been completed for the appearance of the Lenten Players of St. Bonaventure's College in the Lyceum Theater in this city on Saturday evening, March 17, in their own "Passion Play." Rev. Joseph E. Grady, principal of Aquinas Institute, is in charge of the local arrangements, and the play will be presented under the auspices of the Aquinas Association. Tickets are now on sale at Aquinas Institute, and may be obtained, in person, or by telephone, Glenwood 75.

The "Passion Play" to be given by the St. Bonaventure boys was written and staged by the Franciscan Friars whose community has a house in the Holy Land, where material for the play was obtained. It is a production that will inspire love and reverence for the Saviour, and its dramatic arrangement will appeal to all who see it.

The St. Bonaventure Lenten Players have been presenting this play for the past nine years, and with constantly increasing success. They have appeared in Albany, New York City, Binghamton, Buffalo, Titus, N. J., Erie and other places. They are capable players, well-trained to their Special sections of seats in the Lyceum Theater have been arranged for Aquinas graduates and students; and also for St. Bonaventure alumni and students. Reservations will gladly be made for any society that wishes to obtain seats in a group.

This will be the first appearance of the St. Bonaventure Lenten Players in Rochester, and it is hoped that there will be a fine audience on hand to greet them. Tickets should be re-

Study Circle K.C. Men

for important work—Philip H. Donnelly and
Rev. Thomas M. O'Connor are Officers.

The A. of C. Study-Circle Club, organized recently at a meeting of interested Knights of Columbus in the Columbus Building, is busy planning important work. Judge Philip H. Donnelly has been elected Chairman of the Circle, and Thomas M. O'Connor, Recorder of the Representative Knights of Columbus, is the Secretary.

The next meeting of the Circle is planned for Thursday evening, March 21, and it will be preceded by a supper at 6:30 in the Columbus dining room for members and their friends. Membership in the Circle is open to all Knights of Columbus and their men friends. There is no admission fee, and no dues. Subsidiary of vital interest to Catholic men are to be discussed, and papers read on them.

Two meetings have been held. At the organization meeting on February 21, the settlement of the Italian-Roman question was discussed. Gustave Huszar was the chief speaker. There was an attendance of about twenty-five men, and the meeting was most helpful and interesting. The second meeting, held on March 7, was featured by a discussion of the Curtis-Reed bill, a bill that provides for the centralization of all educational matters with a bureau at Washington, D. C., taking education authority away from the individual states. All members are privileged to take part in discussion, and thus the meetings offer opportunity to men to become proficient in debate and discussion. Any persons interested in joining are asked to send their names to the Secretary, Thomas M. O'Connor, Central Building, Rochester, N. Y.

Maritime Power Of Nation Names, Dr. Walsh Warns

Age Twenty-one

one of us who are not nally interested in the ship business, but who view facts from the broad basis of polity, often wonder what oil spill has been cast upon people. Who and what is being them into surrendering their heritages as a great maritime nation? Have we forgotten the age of old McKay with his Flying Cloud and the Sovereign of the Seas? Are we preparing to do worse respect to the American merchant marine what we have already done with a great many of our notable invasions? We created the airplane and then turned it over to Europe for development. We invented the sailing ship, the machine gun, and yet when the emergency arose we had hardly enough of them to serve for practice in our training camps. We created the telegraph; from the telegraph grew the cable and yet we found, when war broke out, that our cable lines led through the territory of another power, so that they were enabled at their leisure to decipher all our confidential messages?

"What is holding back our people?
Is it Ignorance, indecisiveness, or apathy? Is it lack of imagination?" among the smallest to enter the tournament if the teams this year are to keep up with those of the other five ports. The South Carolina team, however, is not going to be handicapped by their lack of stature as their style of play demands the small and fast man rather than the opposite. This will mark the first time that a team from South Carolina will be entered into the National Catholic Tournament.

The activities of the National Catholic Tournament are at work going through a pile of over two hundred and fifty applications from almost every state in the union—Rhode Island, Delaware, Louisiana, New Mexico, California and Montana, which is encouraging. Many of these applications have been received from states that have not been included in the tournament before. The tournament will be held at the Auditorium in New York City on April 23 and 24.
